PRESIDING JUDGE

RULES STATEMENT BE READ IN COURT

At Tuesday afternoon's session of the murder trial of Mrs. Laverna Dorothy Boyd, Chief Stanley of the Dryden Municipal Police Force was on the witness stand for nearly two hours.

He told the court of visiting the accused on December 27th in a ward of the Dryden District General Hospital.

He said he spoke to her about the death of her husband, that she would be charged with murder, and would have to stand trial.

Chief Stanley told of again visiting Mrs. Boyd on the morning of December 28th.

"I gave her the usual warning, and told her, she didn't have to tell me anything."

"I must tell somebody" replied the accused.

Chief Stanley said he then proceeded to take the first part of the accused's statement, leaving about noon.

Witness said he returned to the hospital on December 29th, but the accused was sleepy and appeared to be under sedation.

On the morning of December 30th witness said he finished taking the accused's statement, which she signed.

Following a legal discussion, lasting nearly an hour, the Honourable Mr. Justice Thompson ruled that the statement was admissable as evidence.

TROUBLE BEGINS IN JULY

In her statement the accused said it all seemed to begin when she was in hospital last July, when her husband always seemed too busy to see her.

Shortly after she stepped on a spike and had to return to the hospital when again her husband failed to visit her.

She told, in her statement of then going to Port Arthur where her husband failed to meet her. She proceeded to the trailer where he was living and her first sight of him was with lipstick on his shirt collar.

"I asked him then if he was running around, and he denied it.

The statement continued that Mrs. Boyd found out that it was Carolyn, and that he was going out off and on with different ones for a beer.

After returning to Dryden, within a week, he was running around with Ruth, Carolyn Swerhun's sister. "Then Carolyn came and he was staying out all night."

STRUCK BY HUSBAND

The accused in her statement told of being struck on various occasions by her husband, and that by late fall, he was spending most of his time at Kelly's Cabins.

The statement told of one trip the accused made to the cabins to get her husband, when Carolyn Swerhun told her, he (Grant) didn't have to go anywhere.

This time the accused engaged in a fight with Mrs. Swerhun. The statement continued that one

Lutheran Council Plan Good Friday Broadcast On CJRL

The Seven Last Words of a Dying Man will be the subject of a special Good Friday broadcast, over station CJRL at 1 p.m. on March 27th, the Rev. F. E. Johnson announced today.

The Broadcast has been produced by the Canadian Lutheran Council, an agency for 700 of Canada's 1100 Lutheran Churches, and will be heard from Coast to Coast on Friday.

The seven 2½ minute meditations were recorded last Fall, when the speakers, who are Lutheran leaders from all parts of Canada, met in Winnipeg for the annual meeting of the Council. Eight hymns and anthems for the holy day are sung by a select group of 20 who call themselves the Winnipeg Lutheran Chorale.

Sent to more than 90 radio stations, nearly double last year's total, the Good Friday broadcast will be available to most of Canada's 17 million people.

"The Lutheran Church is grateful indeed," said Rev. F. E. Johnson, Pastor of Bethesda Evangelical Lutheran Church, Kenora, "for the privilege of leading Canada in meditations and prayer on this most solemn day of the year."

Mrs. L. Wooley Wins Trillium TM Club Speech Contest

Seven guests were introduced and welcomed to the meeting. They being Muriel Fowles, Pat Bourgeault, Avis Saunders, Audrey Bain, Lou Pruess, Edna Kidd and Mrs. H. Appel.

Mrs. Jean Lemay, Toastmistress introduced Helen Dubenski and Lillian Wooley, the two speakers who were to take part in the annual speech competition. Judges were, Muriel Fowles, Lou Pruess, Edna Kidd and Pat Bourgeault.

Mrs. Dubenski spoke on the topic "Design for Living," which in brief stated that a belief in something is essential for everybody. "We must have goals and strive to achieve them," she said. The speaker quoted Edwin Markham who said, "There is destiny that makes us brothers, none goes his way alone. All that we send into the lives of others, comes back into our own."

Mrs. Wooley speaking on "Hidden Assets," said that liabilities may be made into a person's chief assets. Creative ability may be found by some insignificant circumstance, then developed.

Mrs. Wooley was judged winner of the contest and will represent the Trillium Club at the Area speech finals to be held in Kenora in April. Mrs. Dubenski will be the alternate.

MRS. BOYD TAKES STAND AT MORNING SESSION

ACCUSED TESTIFIES

At the opening of court this morning in the murder trial against Mrs. Laverna Dorothy Boyd of Dryden, the accused took the stand, and told the court of events leading up to the tragedy on Boxing Day at their Dryden home.

Her testimony this morning was almost identical to her statement given December 28th to Chief of Police Stanley of Dryden which the Crown read to the court Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Boyd said she knew her husband was running around with Mrs. Carolyn Swerhun, and that he was spending very little time at home.

"He was beating me up, and was an entirely different person, as soon as Carolyn came to town," said the accused.

Mrs. Boyd said on many occasions Grant didn't come home until 5 a.m.

She told the court that on one occasion she had asked for police protection but was told that the force was short staffed at the time, and this couldn't be arranged.

This happened, she said after Grant told her he was going to beat her up, and that he wouldn't do it alone.

She said that one day shortly before Christmas, Grant brought a gun home, and it was on this day that Mrs. Metice, a good friend, tried to arrange an appointment between Chief Stanley and the accused. This appointment was never kept.

TELLS OF FIGHT

She later told the court that on December 26th Grant announced that he was fed up, and was leaving the business.

"Then he got up from the chesterfield, called me a little b . . . and started beating me over the head with his fists. He pushed my head onto a cushion and kicked my leg."

"He got up and headed for the bedroom, but tripped on my foot and fell. That's when I got up and found the gun. I came back to the living room and Grant was in front of the chesterfield. Then he threw himself towards me. I thought he was going to grab the gun - then the gun went off, and he was hit. Then I threw a blanket over him, and realized what I had done. I knew the children would soon be in - they were out showing off their new dolls to the kids up the street," she continued.

"I took the children over to their grandmother and asked her to mind them for me. Then I took the oldest girl home with me, and phoned Dr. Cameron.

DOESN'T REMEMBER

Mrs. Boyd told the court she didn't remember pulling the trigger, and that she had never handled a gun before.

Mrs. Boyd said she remembered being in the Dryden hospital, but couldn't remember signing the statement. She said she remembered talking to Chief Stanley "a little bit."

She also told the court she couldn't remember phoning Boyd Brothers service in Port Arthur on the morning of Boxing Day.

DEFENCE RESTS CASE

At 11.05, defence counsel W. Dubinsky rested his case and gave the jury his submission. This was followed by the submission for the Crown delivered by T. O'Flaherty. Court then adjourned for lunch and the Honourable Mr. Justice Thompson was to give his charge to the jury at 2.30 this afternoon. It is expected the jury would receive the case around 4 o'clock this afternoon.

HEALTH UNIT

REPORTS INCREASE IN LOCAL JAUNDICE CASES

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held on Thursday, March 12th, at the Unit office, Kenora. Dr. R. J. Whitaker presided and the following members were present:- Dr. R. D. P. Eaton, Medical Officer of Health; Mrs. J. E. Turner, government representative; Mr. J. Forbes, Keewatin representative; Mr. E. W. Byers, Jaffray Melick representative; Mr. S. Houghton, Kenora representative; and Mrs. A. G. Wood, Dryden representative and Mr. Robert Brown, Machin representative.

Miss Hazel K. Wilson, Supervisor of Public Health Nursing was also in attendance.

The following report was presented:-

The month has seen the school immunization programmes completed in the Kenora and Dryden schools. There remains now only the rural area schools in the Kenora and Dryden areas to complete.

Preschool clinics have been easier since the advent of the quadruple vaccine, and for the first time for a long time it has usually been possible to finish clinics on time and also to eliminate much of the waiting that had previously plagued us.

There has been a slight increase in the incidence of Infectious Hepatitis with a greater proportion of the cases occurring in the town of Kenora.

Dryden and Eagle River have also produced a number of cases, but late notification has made it impracticable to carry out a prophylactic programme.

Two trips were made into Mitaki to give booster immunization in schools, polio vaccine and also Tuberculin testing in school and general population. An excellent response was obtained from the Indian population. It is hoped to be able to make arrangements for a mobile X-ray team to visit the area in the near future to x-ray all positives found in the survey.

A meeting of the Kenora General Hospital Board was attended. This was in relation to the proposed building programme.

Way Cleared For NW Angle Road Tie-Up

St. Paul — Final legislative action was taken by the Senate on a bill to clear the way for building a highway through the province of Manitoba to connect the Northwest Angle with the rest of Minnesota.

The measure, which had passed the House earlier, authorizes the state commissioner of highways to enter into an agreement with Manitoba authorities. The agreement would be subject to approval by Congress.

The bill provides that Minnesota's share of the cost of the highway be paid from federal funds.

day Grant came home, and started packing his belongings, including his pictures from Mrs. Boyd's photo album, and a rifle. After striking his wife he was sorry and moved everything back except the rifle, which he brought back the following Monday.

RIFLE LOADED

The accused in her statement said the gun was put in another room and she heard it click. Being curious she went in, and picked it up, when a bullet fell out. "I knew then," said the accused in her statement, that Grant was going to do something.

The statement continued that on Christmas Eve he brought gifts for the children and asked Mrs. Boyd to mark them "From Daddy."

"He gave me $40 for gifts" said the statement.

CHRISTMAS EVE PARTY

The accused's statement told of a Christmas Eve Party at Grandmother's home, where a fight between Grant and Dennis Boyd broke out about 5 a.m.

"Grant said he would kill Dennis if he crossed his path again."

Mrs. Boyd's statement told of Grant being summoned home at 6 a.m. on Boxing Day, and refusing to drive Mrs. Boyd and Eddie to the hospital.

After returning from the hospital accused's statement, said that Grant was mad she had made him leave the cabins.

"He said he was leaving the business."

WIFE THREATENED

"Then he struck me and said he was going to kill me, and this time I knew it wasn't just talk," the statement continued.

"Then it happened, I grabbed the gun, he jumped on the couch and said 'Laverna I' that was all. "I got a blanket, I don't know how I got him downstairs. I went downstairs three times to make sure it was true. Then I went to my mother-in-law's, I was trying to think what to do."

"After returning home I phoned Dr. Cameron, the statement concluded.

At the end of the reading of the statement, the accused broke down, and had to be helped from the court room.

CROWN RESTS CASE

Chief Stanley told of returning to the Boyd residence on December 29th and of taking measurements, and of making two sketches of the ground floor plan of the home.

The crown rested its case shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

DEFENCE WITNESS

The only witness called for the defence was a Mrs. Metice of Dryden who said she has been a good friend of the accused's for eight years.

She told the court of going to Mrs. Boyd's on the 22nd of December and found the accused in a nervous state, and very upset.

After talking with her, the witness said she made an appointment for the accused to see Chief Stanley of the Dryden Police Force.

In reply to a question from the defence the witness said the accused was a very good mother. Court adjourned at 5.15 p.m. to resume at nine o'clock this morning.

Each Road Death Costs Ontario Motorist, $100,000

The cost to Ontario motorists of each fatal accident occuring on the Province's King's Highways is $100,000, Deputy Minister of Transport D. J. Collins said at a recent meeting of the Ontario Agricultural Council. This sum, he explained, is the extent of the increase in insurance premiums which results from fatalities.

Mr. Collins is confident that the demerit point system, which is now undergoing a trial run prior to its official start on April 1, will help achieve a substantial reduction in the number of highway accidents.

The Deputy Minister of Transport also mentioned the present program of highway reconstruction and said that, by 1961 or 1962, all provincial highways will have been rebuilt to postwar specifications. Under these specifications, a speed of 70 miles per hour would be theoretically safe provided no other traffic is on the road. Studies are therefore being made to determine whether legal speed limits should be raised.

Mrs. L. Wooley Wins . . .

The four judges then held a final discussion relative to public speaking. Views were expressed on what was expected from a speaker, presentation, material, etc.

The inspiration was given by Jerry Mychalyshyn. The next meeting was announced for March 26th and all wishing to attend were asked to phone Mrs. Dubenski at 6647 for reservations.

ONTARIO CHEESE WINS 1st PRIZE AT GLASGOW SHOW

Ontario cheesemakers have again been winners at the Glasgow Dairy show in Scotland, Ontario Dairy Commissioner Everett M. Biggs announces.

Mr. Claud Flood of Plum Hollow took first prize in the Dominion Cheese Class; Mr. Max Frehner of Thamesford came third; and Mr. David Dean of Delta received fifth prize.

Mr. Biggs stated that these results, which were obtained in international competition, were indicative of the quality of Ontario Cheese, and that participation in the United Kingdom Cheese Shows was important for the Ontario industry. Such wins should certainly help the sales of Ontario cheddar cheese in the United Kingdom market which is practically the only outlet for cheddar cheese exports from Canada.

River Of Gold, Guides', 'Thank-You'

A 'river of gold' from coast to coast will greet 1960, the Golden Jubilee year of Girl Guiding in Canada, next spring, with thousands of tulips planted by 6,500 Guide companies and Brownie packs in their own communities, it has been announced at Dominion headquarters.

Marking the 50th anniversary, the tulips will be planted in front of buildings where Guides and Brownies meet, and larger gardens are planned for public parks in larger cities. Some will be shaped in the form of the trefoil, three-leaved Girl Guide emblem, and will be planted in co-operation with parks officials in each city.

A quarter of a million bulbs have been ordered from Holland for shipment to Canada in time for planting this fall. Special planting instructions for various climatic and soil conditions, prepared by John Bradshaw, noted Canadians garden authority, will accompany each order of bulbs.

"Beautifying their own communities by planting these gardens is one way our Guides and Brownies can say "thank you" for the community support they have enjoyed during the past half-century," said Mrs. W. Rankine Nesbitt, chief commissioner for the Canadian Girl Guides association. "It [illegible] hope that everywhere in Canada next spring, golden tulips will be synonymous with Guiding in Canada."

Utah was once known as the "Beehive state."

FOOD CONTROL

Eating establishments were inspected on a routine basis with 19 restaurants inspected in the Kenora area and 13 in the Dryden district. Conditions were generally satisfactory with verbal recommendations made as necessary. There were 98 swab tests taken of eating and drinking utensils and all were reported as negative for coliform. Four samples had a high plate count. The only operating restaurant in Minaki was inspected and a swab test taken on the cups that had been "washed" in cold, grease-scummed, debris-laden water and unsanitized, was reported as satisfactory. All restaurants in Dryden were recommended for their 1959 licence. One restaurant required basic improvements before the licence could be recommended.

MILK CONTROL

The local dairies were inspected weekly with 76 samples of milk obtained for analysis with the following results:-

	Sat.	Unsat.
Co-Op	17	0
Groveside, (Dryden)	23	1
Lakeland	15	2
Lucerne	14	4
TOTALS	69	7

The above results give an average of 91% of the samples being satisfactory. Three samples were reported as containing E coli and 4 had high platecounts.

WATER SUPPLIES

There were 43 water samples taken during February with 20 from public supplies, 15 from private supplies and 11 from rural schools.

Red Lake has engaged an engineering firm to conduct a survey of the Town with a view to installing a municipal sewer and water system. It is believed that this report will be completed by June.

The public supplies of Dryden, Kenora, Keewatin and Norman all had normal reports. The public and semi-public supplies in Red Lake were also satisfactory but chlorine dosage had to be adjusted in one semi-public supply.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Two proposed sites for septic tank installations on islands in the Lake of the Woods were seen and tentative approval given to proceed. A re-inspection is planned when work is started.

Continued difficulties are still being experienced with the disposal field at St. Mary's Indian School.

REFUSE DISPOSAL

Routine inspections were made of refuse disposal grounds in Dryden, Kenora and Keewatin. Already the melting snow is revealing the affects of sloppy winter garbage storage. Business lanes are littered with refuse and garbage can be seen imbedded in snow and ice. No doubt this condition will only worsen before an effective clean-up can take place.

HOUSING

A complaint was received concerning the physical conditions of a rental unit. A work order was issued to complete repairs to this house within a specified time.

SCHOOLS

The proposed sites for the new consolidated school for Britton, Wainwright and Zealand were inspected and recommendations were made accordingly.

COMPLAINTS

There were 3 complaints received concerning housing and sewage disposal systems.

INTERVIEWS

There were 45 persons interviewed concerning Sanitation matters and problems.

GENERAL

Mr. Powell Sanitation Consultant with the Division of Environmental Sanitation was here for a day and a half to discuss and advise on sanitation problems.

BILLBOARD DREW CHUCKLES

Ottawa — Billboard advertising for the "do it now" winter work campaign gave some West Toronto residents unplanned chuckles, the Commons was told by Douglas Fisher (CCF—Port Arthur).

"At the approaches to Royal York Road there was one of these billboards in fluorescent red and blue saying: 'Do it now.' And on the accompanying billboard there was portrayed a very lithesome creature dressed in a glamorous satin gown and leaning back in a reclining posture.

"The impact of these two posters together delighted a great many people in that district and gave one the impression that whoever was responsible for this particular piece of advertising was showing initiative."

"HORNING IN" NO TIME SAVER

Late for an appointment, young Kimbrough thought he would save time by joining a funeral procession. So he switched on his lights and fell in line.

On through traffic and red lights he swept, behind the procession's police escort.

But, alas, when he tried to turn off onto a side street near his destination, Kimbrough heard the voice of the law behind him.

"Hey, buddy. Back in line," a policeman said. "You joined the procession. Now stay in it."

So Kimbrough meekly obeyed. He went all the way to the cemetery, and there the cop made him stay for the services.

When the funeral finally ended, he was 1½ hours late for his appointment.

Board Gives Many Benefits Report Shows

The Annual report of the Workmen's Compensation Board was tabled in the Ontario Legislature today and again indicated the many benefits afforded the ever-increasing working force under the Ontario Act.

In 1958, $48,877,133.34 was awarded as benifits to injured workmen with 256,323 incidents being reported as work injuries for the year. In 1957, 268,796 incidents were reported with total benefits being $44,409,319.72. Increasing costs of treatment services and the total effect of more liberal benefits provided by an amendment to the Act in 1957 accounted for the increase in costs with less accidents reported. Administration costs of the Board were reduced from 8.6c to 8.3c of each assessable dollar collected from the 89,638 employers in the Province.

The total payroll upon which assessments are based during the year increased from $4,617,585,000 in 1957 to $4,780,237,000 in 1958. There were 3,500 more employers under the Act last year than in 1957.

In its 44 years of service, 4,771,956 incidents have been reported to the Board and $582,419,071.96 awarded as benefits.

Through continued excellent co-operation from labour, industry and the treatment professions and the full utilization of the Board's facilities at their new Hospital and Rehabilitation Centre in Downsview, the ratio of permanent disability cases to all compensation cases was kept down to the small percentage of 3.63.

In handling over 1,000 reported incidents every working day of the years, the Board employs 920 persons in their Toronto head office, 268 at the Hospital and Rehabilitation Centre and 111 in 5 District Offices, 1 Audit Office and 5 Chest Examining Stations.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics

Merchandising:

Chain stores continued to chalk up gains in January when total sales of the eleven trades covered in the Bureau's monthly survey were nearly 13% higher than a year earlier at an estimated $238,415,000. Grocery and combination store chains had the biggest increase, percentage-wise as well as in dollar volume; but, except for one decrease, all other had gains above 3% . . . . With nearly half the gain coming from a sharp increase in December, sales of wholesalers proper were just over 2% higher in value last year at an estimated $7,624,300,000 than in 1957.

Manufacturing:

Manufacturers' shipments in January were valued at $1,715,187,000, some 5% higher than in January last year. Value of inventory owned by manufacturers at the end of the month was slightly above a month earlier, as is usually the case, but 4.5% below the value of a year earlier. New orders received during the month were down 8% in value from last year . . . Steel ingot output in the second March week was practically the same as the previous week . . . . Output of refined petroleum products rose a sharp 12.5% in the last month of 1958.

Prices:

Consumer price indexes eased downward for seven of ten regional cities between the beginning of January and February and increased in three, all the increases being in the Atlantic Provinces. Food indexes were lower for all but two of the cities with total increases.

General Business:

Value of cheques cashed in January was almost 18% greater than a year ago. All main economic areas and each of the eight major clearing centres showed increases.

Food & Agriculture:

Creamery butter stocks in nine cities were one-half larger at March 12 than a year earlier; total stocks at March 1 showed about the same proportion of increase. Make of creamery butter in the first two months this year was moderately larger than last year. Margarine production in the two months was smaller.

Mining:

Iron ore shipments from mines in January were more than double those last year. Asbestos exports in the month were sharply higher.

Transportation:

Carloadings in the first week of March were a slight 1% greater than last year, leaving the cumulative total for the year down a similar degree . . . Urban transit systems had fewer passengers but more revenue in January this year than last.

SENSITIVE CONDUCTOR

SEATTLE — Not a cough was heard . a concert hall when Milton Katins conducted the Seattle Symphony orchestra Monday night.

Pretty girls passed out free cough drops to patrons. Lobby cards read:

"Concert cough drops courtesy Conductor Katins."

But the idea was Katins'. He was tired of audience hacking.

"I sense an audience's complete absorption in the small of my back. But my ears never get 'last.'

"As for coughers, I feel I can even identify the color of their hair. A brunette cough is worse than a blonde's and the female bark is more deadly than the male."

FAMILY COMPACT

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)— Mrs. Mary McCullough, her five-day-old son, Michael Ray, her daughter, Mrs. J. Eugene Comley, and Mrs. Comley's day-old daughter, Mickey Ann, have the same room at a Wichita hospital.

(There are two mothers, two daughters, a son, a brother, a sister, a niece, an uncle, a grandmother and a granddaughter.)

OLD CONVENIENCE

Natural gas was used by the Chinese for cooking as long as 3,000 years ago.

Fallout No Threat

TORONTO —Health Minister Dymond says Ontario has had no signs of greatly increased radioactive fallout reported in the United States.

He rose in the legislature Monday night to "allay undue fears" that could stem from a Washington dispatch about the concern of U.S. scientists over strontium 90.

His department has been conducting spot checks for some time and "our findings have not borne out those of our neighbors in Manitoba or the U.S."

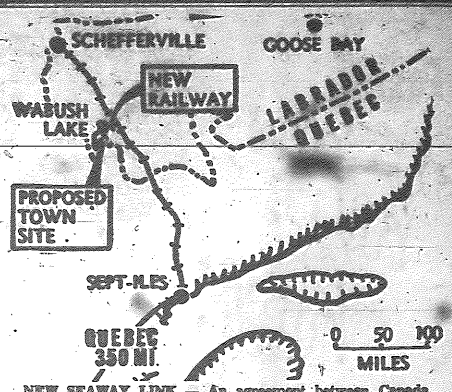
Dr. Dymond said local reports arising out of interpretation of the Washington dispatch were "greatly exaggerated, although as one reads through them the content is not the same as the tone of the headlines would lead you to believe."

A radioactive control laboratory was being established as announced last month.

Dr. Dymond also said fallout in Ontario doesn't seem to be posing any special danger through milk.

VALUABLE FISH

Hake, an important Atlantic food fish related to the cod, may reach a weight of 17 or 18 pounds.



NEW SEAWAY LINK — An agreement between Canada and the United States provides for construction by the U.S. of a shipping channel on Canadian soil. The new channel will provide for two-way shipping traffic moving up and down the St. Clair River between Lake St. Clair and Lake Huron.

The Canadian government says that as a result of this agreement, a waterway from the Atlantic to the upper Great Lakes for ships drawing 27 feet now is in sight.

The channel, shown in inset, will be 700 feet wide and will take the place of the present sharply curved channel which ships now must use. The federal public works department says it will considerably reduce hazards of navigation in the St. Clair River.

Site of the projected channel is on land held by the Walpole Indian band which has released the site to the Canadian government.

The U.S. will pay for construction while Canada provides the land. After the job is finished, Canada will maintain the channel. Cost of the project has not been determined.

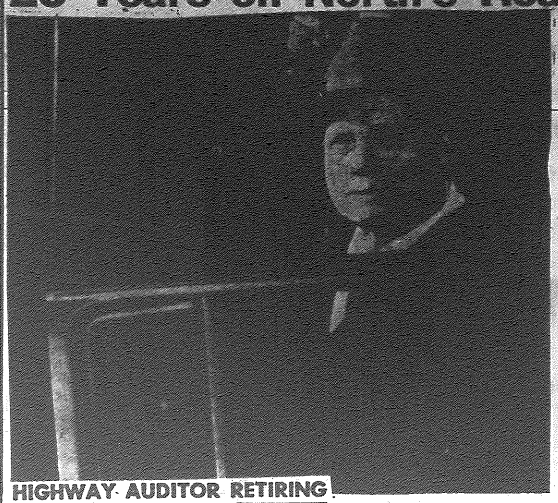
20 Years on North's Roads



HIGHWAY AUDITOR RETIRING

A man who has held his foot on the accelerator for 240,000 miles is about to retire from active service with the Department of Highways.

Sixty-six-year-old Clarence Prouty, has audited the annual road expenditures of the lakehead, municipalities and statute labor boards in Algoma, Sudbury, Fort Frances and Kenora districts. His annual visits to outlying area city offices have made him one of the best-known travellers in Northwestern Ontari.

Quietly, but effectively, he has travelled back and forth across his rugged 500-mile territory until he is almost an authority on the condition of roads and the condition of road-building. His present auditing area is the lakehead, Rainy River, Kenora and Thunder Bay.

Travelling 20 years of his 34 with the Ontario government auditing, Mr. Prouty has yet to have a serious accident.

"Scraping a fender was the closest I ever came," he said.

To him "a lot of people are always complaining about the condition of roads, but if they knew about them they would take into condition frost and the elements."

Mr. Prouty, born at Apsley, Ont., joined the Department of Northern Development (later the D. of H.), here in 1925. He was a warehouseman and storekeeper in the Fort William offices, looking after accounting of equipment, cattle purchase and seed.

"We used cars at that time and maintenance of the roads was limited to horse teams and small graders," he remarked.

In 1930 Mr. Prouty became division clerk in charge of the Fort William department. He was appointed district municipal roads auditor in 1939.

A one-year training service in the Norwegian Navy was started in 1959 by 13 cadets from Ethiopia.

RCMP Commissioner Has Colorful Past

OTTAWA — Spies and elephants, India and the Arctic all form part of the background of Canada's new commissioner of the RCMP.

Charles Edward Rivett-Carnac was called from retirement leave Monday to take over the $17,500-a-year job as head of the force. His appointment as commissioner of the 5,300-member RCMP is effective April 1.

Known as "Rivets" in the service, the 57-year-old deputy commissioner moves into the post vacated by Commissioner L. H. Nicholson, 54, who quit in protest over a government decision not to reinforce the RCMP detachment in Newfoundland.

SEES LITTLE CHANGE

"It is a little too early to express any views but I anticipate matters will progress along the same channels as in the past," said the commissioner-designate in an interview.

His first task likely will be to build morale in the force, reported to be slightly shaken by the sudden departure of Commissioner Nicholson within a year of reaching normal retirement based on 35 years' service.

The new commissioner has been acting as technical adviser on a series of television films about the RCMP since going on retirement leave from his post as deputy commissioner after 35 years' service with the force.

The justice department said that as head of the RCMP's criminal investigation branch he was the first person to come to the support of Igor Gouzenko after the Russian Embassy cipher clerk turned over a load of documents that brought about the 1946 Russian spy trials.

"Up to the time when Superintendent Rivett-Carnac saw the evidence, official Ottawa had pooh-hoohed Gouzenko's story," the department said.

Son of a deputy police inspector-general in India, Rivett-Carnac was born in England but spent most of his childhood in India. He joined a French ambulance unit at 16 and served two years in the First World War, returning to India on discharge where he took charge of an elephant camp hauling timber.

He came to Canada at age 22 and joined the RCMP. He put in long periods of service in the Arctic where he was stationed when the first of two daughters was born to him and his wife, the former Mary Dillon Ware of London, Ont.

He was appointed deputy commissioner in 1957.

FRESHWATER COD

Hawaii, Land Of Hula, Also Land Of The Cowboy

The land of the pineapple and the hula is also the land of the cowboy.

In fact, cowpunchers were riding the Hawaiian ranges several years before Texans began driving their steers to market along the old Chisholm trail.

Capt. George Vancouver, the English explorer, brought the first cattle to Hawaii in 1793. Protected by the king, the longhorns ran wild and multiplied.

When John Palmer Parker settled in the islands in 1815, the king hired him to slaughter the cattle, prepare their hides, and salt the beef for sale to visiting ships.

At first the king owned all the herds. But after the Great Mahele, or division of land, selected herds were settled on private ranches. And Parker's business mushroomed into a 300,000-acre ranch in the uplands of Hawaii Island that was to become the second largest cattle ranch in the U.S.

The Hawaiians learned to ride and rope from Spanish cowboys imported from Mexico, according to The World Book Encyclopedia. Their word for cowboy still is "paniola", from "espanol", or Spaniard.

Hawaiian paniolas like Eben P. K. Low, grandson of the founder of the Parker ranch, have won many rodeo events on the U.S. mainland. Even after he lost one hand in a roping accident, Low, nicknamed "Rawhide Ben," challenged any man to top his roping skill. In 1908 he was crowned at Cheyenne, Wyoming, as the one-handed champion roper of the world.

Labatt's Spring Party Parade

NEIGHBOURHOOD PARTY

This is a progressive party in which hosts and guests change places as the party moves on from house to house. First you get in touch with everyone who is going to be at the party. The guests gather at one home. Then, when they are all assembled, you move on to the next house for appetisers or soup, to the next for the main course, to another for dessert, to yet another for coffee, maybe finishing up at the home with the most convenient recreation room for dancing and games. It's lots of fun.

"WHAT'S COOKIN'?" PARTY

Ask each guest to bring along some food item to go into Chili con Carne. You start a basic Chili con Carne cooking, and as the guests arrive, they put their contributions into the pot, at the same time writing the name of the ingredient on a slip of paper and putting it into a jug provided. When the "Super" Chili con Carne is cooked and served, you give a prize to the guest who comes nearest to correctly listing the ingredients.

"ICE-BREAKING" PARTY

If there is a new family in the neighbourhood, you let them know that you will be calling on them. Then all the neighbours go to work. One provides sandwiches, one bakes cakes, one provides the beverage, one arranges to get paper plates and cups, until you have everything necessary. You then meet and descend on the "guests"—and the ice is well and truly broken.

MASQUERADE PARTY

Before the party, you ask your guests to come masked and dressed in disguise. Warn them to disguise their voices. Guests are introduced to each other by false names. The fun of the party lies in the impressions your guests form of each other while they are masked.

COMIC PARTY

With your invitations you send a comic strip to each guest, and ask them to choose one of the characters in the strip, and to come to the party dressed as that character. With a little ingenuity, it is quite easy to prepare an effective and inexpensive costume. When guests arrive at the party, part of the fun is for each one to attempt to behave "in character". You can give a prize for the best costume.

BABY PARTY

Ask your guests to bring photographs of themselves as babies. Collect the photographs, number them, and make your own, private list of the numbers with the names of the guests. The numbered photographs, paper and pencils are then passed round, and the guests have to match the baby photographs with the adult guests. Prizes can be given for the list with the highest number of correct "matchings".

Summer's ahead, with all its opportunities for friendly fun. So now's the time to brush up on your friendships—and what better way to do it than with a party.
