FIND RELICS OF WAR OF 1812

Musket balls, relics of the War of 1812, were found imbedded in the trunk of this tree, which park employees William Main, left, and Ron Bryan cut down in a Toronto park. The two men were puzzled when their crosscut saw was repeatedly dulled as they sawed down the tree. Their puzzlement turned to amazement when experts verified that they were relics of a war 147 years ago.

OVERTURE TO BRING SPANISH DANCERS BAR-ILLAN AND McFERRIN TO KENORA

The Kenora Keewatin Overture Concert Association will bring to Kenora for the 1959-60 season at least three first quality concerts featuring the Susanna Y Jose Spanish Dancers, Robert McFerrin, famous Metropolitan Opera baritone and the brilliant pianist David Bar-Illan. These artists will be brought to Kenora if the present membership campaign is a success. 700 season tickets must be sold to ensure a concert series of this calibre.

The concert association executive is aiming at doubling last year's membership and the campaign slogan is, "every member to get a new member."

The concert season just concluded was a decided success, with a capacity audience last Thursday night loud in their acclaim of the musicianship of the Spivakovsky Duo. Those who were privileged to attend the concert are losing no time in purchasing tickets for this coming season.

It must be emphasized that only those who purchase season tickets now, will be able to attend the forthcoming concerts. No single admissions will be sold at the door.

Tickets priced at $8 for adults, $4 for students and $20 for families, may be purchased at a special booth set up in the Kenricia Hotel, from any member of the association or by phoning Mr. E. L. Carter at 7578 or contacting Mr. W. Cockerill at the Toronto Dominion Bank.

Buy your ticket now and put the campaign over the top. You have just this week to join.

BENIDICKSON SCORES "BAD FAITH BUDGET"

WINNIPEG — A budget of bad faith is what the Diefenbaker government has handed to the people of Canada, William Benidickson, MP for Kenora and Liberal financial critic in the House of Commons, said Monday in Winnipeg.

Speaking at a luncheon meeting of the Federation of Liberal Women of Canada at the Fort Garry Hotel, where the three-day national convention is in progress, Mr. Benidickson declared this government has become the most expensive in history.

"Had anyone said a couple of years ago that the Conservative government would increase the national debt by $1,700 million in two years, he would have been called insane. Yet that is the incredible fact."

PRICE INCREASES

The primary intention of new taxes was to strengthen the bond market since the government had been borrowing "like crazy" but as the Financial Post remarked, the country is actually borrowing money to pay interest on earlier borrowing.

Mr. Benidickson said the budget also triggered off consumer price rises, observing that cigarettes had jumped not two cents but three or four cents the morning after the budget. He noted predictions — "not far wrong" — that there would be higher prices on 99 per cent of all people buy.

The opposition would not be deterred or intimidated by the bogeys of "giving away information to a foreign power."

"The budget more than anything to date has widened for thousands the discovery of the debased currency of rhetoric," the speaker said. "Ministers defending the most unpredictable cynicism say now that raising the taxes is like submitting to medical treatment. What the public is thinking however is that this government has abandoned the many clear cut assumptions it was induced by the spell-binding oratorical powers to believe were the firm convictions of the orators."

THE CHARITABLE THING

"The most charitable thing would be to say that the orators were so naive, so stupid and so contemptuous of economics that they believed what they were saying. The alternative is they had such a low opinion of the public they proceeded with a Madison Avenue hard-sell pitch on this basis."

Mr. Benidickson charged that anything likely to assist the slack in the present economy had been staled. When fast action was required, such as on energy plans, export policy or agricultural credit, delay has been such that some projects may have been killed for years to come.

He described government procedure on unemployment as a tragic, wait and see, slow motion policy. In coping with the recession and with unemployment the government displayed gargantuan confusion. And confusion still persists, even to the statements emanating from different ministers on the same subjects, said Mr. Benidickson.

The parliamentary critic ended with a resounding criticism of what he called "Diefendrama" and predicted that Canada is tiring of a solo performer and that the Tories won't be in office long.

LOOT STOLEN, THUG IRATE

San Francisco — The holdup man was indignant.

Someone stole his loot. So he called police. That got him in jail but he had the satisfaction today of knowing they're looking for the robber.

"You can't trust anybody these days," John Clytus told police who booked him on charges of armed robbery."

Clytus signed a statement recounting these events:

He had been collecting a $28 unemployment benefit cheque each Wednesday at the state unemployment agency office. But April 16 he presented the clerk with what looked like a bomb in a hollowed-out book and made off with $1,500.

He wrapped the loot in paper and put it in a public locker in a bus station.

At 11.30 a.m. Friday, he found the locker open, the money gone. Inside was a note from the depot officials reading: "This locker has been burglarized. Please report your loss to the management and file a claim."

It was then he telephoned police. He wanted them to "go get the dirty crook that robbed me."

Threaten Strike Against N. Ont. Pulp Companies

Port Arthur—More than 1,500 members of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers Union (CLC) have voted to strike against Northern Ontario pulp companies that do not sign agreements by May 11.

Abitibi Power and Paper Co. Ltd. will be hit by strike action at 8 a.m. Wednesday if it has not signed an agreement by that time.

A strike of Northern Ontario bush workers would affect more than 8,000 members of the union, whose representatives attended a meeting at the Lakehead Sunday. Three thousand men work for Abitibi.

Spokesmen for the woods workers objected at the meeting to what they described as delay by seven principal companies and several smaller operators in signing wage contracts for this year.

A meeting between union and Abitibi officials has been scheduled at Iroquois Falls Tuesday.

Several larger operators are among the companies who have not signed agreements in 1959. They are St. Lawrence Corp., Marathon Corp. of Canada Ltd., Great Lakes Paper Co. Ltd., Ontario - Minnesota Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd., Great Lakes Lumber and Shipping Ltd., Oscar Styffe Ltd., and Ontario Paper Co. Ltd.

Our EDITORIAL VIEWPOINT

OUR PART IN THE FESTIVAL

This is Music Festival Week in Kenora. Rightly the spotlight focuses on the various stages and the many, many performers.

With attention thus properly directed it seems opportune to address those who form potential audiences. It might be enlighting, for example, for readers to know that the 16th Annual Festival will hardly be over next Friday, when those in charge will be actively and even intensely at [illegible] on the 1960 edition.

To gain some appreciation of the vast amount of work which the marshalling of forces entales each year, it is necessary to share in some small phase of the activity. It takes little imagination, however, to realize that tremendous work is involved in writing out the names of some 5,000 or 6,000 participants; in selecting suitable test pieces; in preparing a program, of securing halls, pianos, personnel for the many sessions, not to mention the problem of financing the Festival.

The role of the spectator is easy, and enjoyable. It is a very real privilege to be able to enjoy the calibre of entertainment which is offered in return for a very nominal admittance fee to a hall. Said another way, Kenora is immeasurably richer thanks to the presence of the annual Music Festival.

No finer way of acknowledging this contribution to our cultural life can be made than by our presence at the sessions. Special efforts should be made to fill the hall for tonight's Award Performance and Friday's closing concert. Our active participation encourages artists and committees alike, and is the best guarantee that future festivals will be staged in Kenora.

W-A-N-T-E-D

A young Kenora mother returned to her home, after attending a show, to find that everything in the world which she owned, had been destroyed in a fire. She had nothing to offer her young children; no place to go. Special circumstances made her position unusually difficult.

Her one hope lay in the assistance she could certainly expect from her friends. Joan Lindsay found willing neighbours, who took care of her own needs and those of her two small children. But, at best, the situation [illegible]

Somehow, a small house was found. But that is all.

Last Thursday the Miner and News acquainted readers with the situation. Strangely enough, the response to the appeal for money, furniture, dishes, linens and all the other items needed to start this small family on the road to hope, failed to materialize in the manner Kenora usually responds.

To date, only $17.00 in cash has been received. To help furnish the small house, only a few dishes, some curtains and a wood stove have been offered. This morning a gentleman on First Street South offered a fine couch, which may double as a bed.

The Miner and News believes that the story of the need has not been told sufficiently well to impress readers that this is truly a worthwhile cause; that a very definite need exists, where Christian people can assist one of their own. Needed are such items as bedding, an iron, toaster, old washer, flatware, pictures, tables and chairs, etc., etc. Certainly $300 would not be to much to raise to provide the family with some clothing.

Those in charge of the project to assist Mrs. Lindsay assure readers that all monies will be [illegible] No [illegible] furnishings will be picked up unless required. For example, only one iron, one toaster, one kitchen table, will be collected for furnishing the home.

The need is urgent - the need is now - today. Please check your possessions and see if there is some article which can be spared. If there is, please phone your name and address to Radio Station CJRL, phone 7850. Cash donations will be accepted at the Miner and News and at the office of the Radio Station.

Cash donation to date are: Mrs. M. Whiting, $5.00; Mrs. Allan, $2.00; Miner and News, $10.00.

ONLY HORNED OWL HAPPY WITH THIS ONE

Hagerstown, Md. — He's stumped, Democrat Clarence Mason of Washington County said, so he's going to ask the Maryland attorney general the $67 question about great horned owls.

Mason successfully sponsored a bill in the 1959 legislature to let Washington County pay a $3 bounty to hunters for each owl they killed. The predatory birds were killing too many young wild turkeys and rabbits, spoiling the season for hunters of that game.

But now, said Mason, he finds that the legislature also enacted legislation setting a $70 fine for killing certain birds. The great horned owl is one of them.

Ottawa — Motor vehicle traffic fatalities in Canada during February fell 23 per cent to 121 from 157 a year earlier, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Newfoundland 2 (1); Prince Edward Island 1 (0); Nova Scotia 1 (12); New Brunswick 9 (7); Quebec 28 (29); Ontario 52 (64); Manitoba 8 (3); Saskatchewan 1 (5); Alberta 12 (21); British Columbia 6 (15); Yukon and Northwest Territories 1 (0).

Many large firms make a practice of having medical examinations for their employees, including chest x-rays. The results have proved that it helps to reveal new cases of tuberculosis, heart diseases or diabetes, any of which might have remained undiscovered until too late for successful treatment.

it's a FACT

Alchemists were forever seeking a magic substance called the "philosopher's stone" that would turn lesser metals into silver and gold. Legend held alchemy was first taught by the fallen angels. Another story was that an alchemist actually succeeded in making gold. He caught the devil peering through his window, ripped off the Satanic tail—and found that this item when thrown into his pot turned the trick.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics

Construction:

Construction expenditures in Canada this year are expected to amount to $7,202,000,000, slightly below last year's record total of $7,231,000,000. To carry out the year's programme will require an estimated 596,503 full-time workers. For many of the principal types of construction, outlays will be greater this year than last. The major decrease in prospect is in pipe-line construction. Residential building outlays will likely be under last year's high figure.

Labour:

The number of persons with jobs during the third week of March was estimated at 5,552,000, virtually unchanged from a month earlier but 151,000 more than in March last year. In contrast with the usual unemployment increase from February to March, the number without jobs and seeking work declined by 12,000 to an estimated 525,000, some 72,000 fewer than a year earlier, and representing 8.6% of the labour force in the month compared to 10.0% last year.

Industrial Production:

Showing the sixth consecutive gain, the seasonally adjusted index of industrial production in February was 2% higher than in January, touching an all-time high of 160.9. Previous high was 159.6 in March 1957. All the major seasonally adjusted components of the index rose in February over the previous month.

External Trade:

Preliminary figures for March show the value of imports in the first quarter of this year 5% higher than in 1958 at $1,244,000,000 and exports 3% lower in value at $1,058,000,000. In March, however, exports were 2% higher in value than a year earlier and imports about 3% higher.

Transportation:

Railway carloadings in the first week of April showed an increase of nearly 18% over the same week last year, to put the cumulative total just over 1% above last year. . . . Tonnage of cargo handled at Canadian ports in 1958 was nearly 9% smaller than in 1957, cargoes handled in foreign trade falling almost 19% but those in coastwise trade rising 3%.

Merchandising:

Canadian retail sales in February were 7% higher in dollar value than a year earlier, with motor vehicle dealers reporting a gain of more than 15%. Chain stores increased their dollar sales by 6.5% in the month.

KITCHEN CLASSICS

ROLL IN THE FLAVOR

Today's recipe for Carmel Nut Roll is a delectable example of what a new twist can do to add flair to an old favorite.

On the basis of outward appearance, this delighful dessert treat might be classed as a member of the jelly-roll family. A light and delicate sponge cake forms the base for the light smooth pudding which combined with chewy - toasted nutmeats forms the unusual filling. The cake is spread with the caramel nut filling, rolled, and then chilled until set. This dessert has special appeal during the warmer months, and for variety, different flavors of instant pudding may be used.

CARAMEL NUT ROLL

Yeild - 1 roll of cake about 9-½ inches long

⅔ cup once-sifted all-purpose flour or ¾ cup once-sifted pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 egg whites (at room temperature)
2 tablespoons water
3 egg yolks
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 package (approx. 3-⅝ ounces caramel-flavored instant pudding
1-¼ cups milk
¼ cup toasted chopped nutmeats

Line a greased jelly roll pan (10 X 15 inches) with greased waxed paper. Preheat oven to 375 deg F. (moderately hot).

Sift together twice the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder and salt; return to sifter. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Add water to egg yolks and beat until very light; gradually beat in granulated sugar and mix in vanilla.

Sift dry ingredients into egg yolk mixture about a quarter at a time, folding lightly with rubber scraper after each addition. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn batter into prepared pan and spread evenly. Bake in preheated oven 12 to 15 minutes.

Meantime, sprinkle a tea towel with fine granulated sugar. Immediately cake is baked, turn it out on sugared towel; peel off waxed paper and trim away crusts.

Beginning at a narrow edge, roll up cake and towel loosely. Stand on cake rack to cool.

Prepare instant pudding mix according to package directions using only 1-¼ cups milk as the liquid; mix in nutmeats. Let stand until sufficiently thickened to use as filling for cake - about 5 minutes. Unroll cold cake, spread with the caramel-nut filling; re-roll and chill until set.

Recreation Associations To Meet In Kitchener

Members of municipal recreation commissions, recreation directors and others interested in community and industry recreation programmes will be meeting in Kitchener on May 1, 2 and 3 for the 14th annual meeting and conference of the Ontario Recreation Association. It is expected that 350 will be attending the sessions.

The conference theme is "Sharing Our Recreation Wealth."

Representatives of industry, organized labour, church, school, "Y", and municipal recreation authorities will discuss many aspects of modern recreation, including financing, leadership, parks, facilities and community planning.

The main conference speakers are to be Miss Florence Philpott, Executive Director, Social Planning Council of Metropolitan Toronto; and Dr. Floyd S. Maine, Director of Extension and Summer Courses, University of Western Ontario.

ASK SEGREGATION OF BOYS, GIRLS

Vancouver—The B.C. School Trustees Association has recommended to the Chant royal commission on education that boys and girls be segregated in junior high school.

The association in a brief to the commission said the basic reason was that girls tend to dominate boys at this age level. Physically, socially and emotionally girls are at this age more advanced than boys, the brief said.

"This development is unfortunate insofar as it hinders the development of masculinity in the boys."

The trustees said that "this subjugation of masculinity in the schools is in part responsible for the need to assert itself outside the schools in the form of gangs."

PEOPLE STARTLED BY RUNAWAY

New York—People on Sixth Avenue stopped and gaped at a rare sight—a runaway horse and a hansom cab.

The cab, which usually carries couples on liesurely trips through Central Park, was drawn by a 14-year-old horse named George.

George was waiting for passengers at a park entrance when he was startled by a car backfiring and went clattering down the avenue, leaving his driver behind.

The empty cab was smashed as George bolted between two parked cars. George was caught some distance away, shaken but unhurt, and returned to his stable.

4-H Clubs Assist In Farm Accident National Survey

Canada's first national survey on farm and farm home safety will be conducted over the next two months.

In making the announcement, Jack Whyte, Chairman of the Agriculture Committee of The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said that the 73,000 enrolled in 4-H Clubs across Canada will be playing a key role through reporting the accidents on their home farms. The survey, itself, has been co-operatively organized and is being carried out by the Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs, the Provincial Departments of Agriculture, The Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Canada Department of Agriculture and The Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

"There are no adequate national statistics at the present time on farm accidents", said Mr. C. A. Douglas, President, Canadian Council on 4-H Clubs. "However, we do know that farm accidents, in addition to causing much suffering and hardship, are responsible for serious loss of time, production and income to the farm industry. It is hoped that up to date information on the kind, cause and incidence of farm accidents will facilitate the development of better farm safety programs in Canada."

Mr. Whyte said all those concerned with the survey appealed to the farm parents and local 4-H Club leaders for assistance and co-operation in supplying statistical data to 4-H members. Questionnaires, to be filled out, would cover the period January 1 to December 31, 1958, and it is hoped to have results tabulated by next autumn.

Agriculture and business have long been interested in such a survey, and are in agreement that a co-operative effort is needed to develop an effective program of national farm safety. Although some sectors of Canada have developed farm safety programs that have produced a lower frequency of deaths and accidents, much remains to be accomplished in this field.

CAPTURE 4 TONS OF RATTLE SNAKES

OKEENE, Okla. — This little northwest Oklahoma town sounded like a giant baby rattle as 1,000 hunters brought in more than four tons of rattlesnakes from nearby Gypsum Hills.

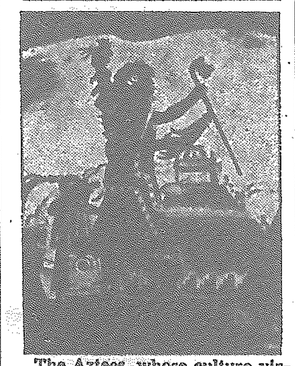
They were taking part in the annual rattlesnake roundup sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The snakes sold alive for 50 cents a pound. Some hunters made their trip pay. C. L. Shotless of Longdale, Okla. sacked 445 snakes weighing a total of more than 700 pounds. Bill Allen of Okeene nabbed the longest rattler — a diamond back 73½ inches long.

Ranchers encourage the annual hunt because it results in saving many cattle from snakebite.

Only three persons were bitten and all were reported recovering.

it's a FACT



The Aztecs, whose culture virtually matched Europe's of the time, were conquered by the 450 Spaniards under Cortes with amazing speed—in part because their "empire" contained many disaffected tribes, and in part because of their own ancient legend that a "white god" from the East would return to rule over them. In astronomy, medicine, law and government, their learning was almost equal to Spain's.

Their ordeal automatically entitled them to membership in the Order of the White Fang.

Some snakes are kept for exhibition. Others go to laboratories for snake venom or canning plants for rattlesnake meat.

BURGLAR FISHES FOR MINK STOLE

Beverly Hills, Calif.—Now police can tell the one about the burglar who fished for mink.

Sunday night, they said, a burglar went to a Wiltshire Boulevard fur shop armed with a toy pistol that shoots darts with suction cup tips.

He had fish hooks on the darts instead of cups. He aimed through a package drop, police said, fired one of the darts into a stole on a manikin. Then used a line to pull the garment out.

How did they figure it out? One hook - equipped dart—apparently a near miss—was found hooked in the manikin's dress.
