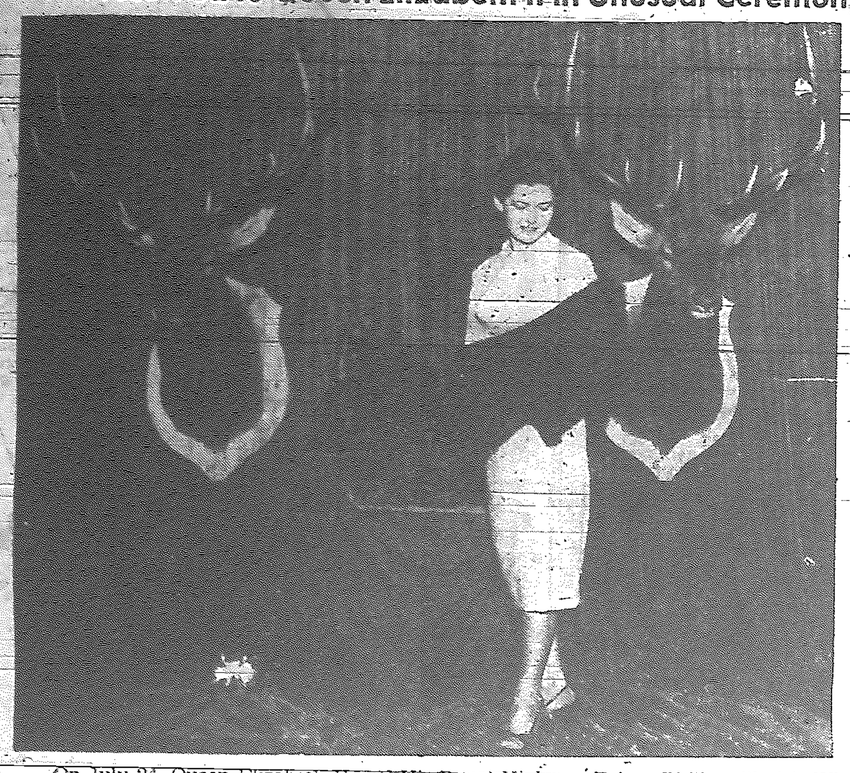
To be Presented to Queen Elizabeth II in Unusual Ceremony



On July 24, Queen Elizabeth II and His Royal Highness Prince Philip will visit Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. In a historic public ceremony, performed only once before, the Queen will receive from the Hudson's Bay Company two elk heads and two rare black beaver skins. This rent "payment" is in accordance with the Company's 289-year-old Royal Charter of May 2. 1670 which stipulated that rent taking the form of "two elkes and two black beavers" must be paid to King Charles, or his heirs or successors, whenever they should enter the territories of Rupert's Land. The beaver skins to be presented to the Queen have been selected from more than 90,000 fine pelts.

DOGGONE DOGS

Every time the subject of dogs is mentioned in this column, the 'phone begins to ring. "Why just mention dogs running loose at Rabbit Lake, what about Lakeside and other areas of town?", is the question asked.

Making people keep their dogs at home and in their own yards, is not my department, I believe the town hires a dog catcher to look after this. From the numerous calls received at this office, it makes one wonder why the dog catcher and the dogs can't get together.

The law I believe, states that all dogs must be tied up or confined to their own yards, all day and night too. Maybe dog owners are not familiar with the law. I always thought that laws were made to be enforced, but now I wonder.

I wonder too, why home owners should go to the trouble of beautifying their property only to have it destroyed by dogs. Six people 'phoned me yesterday and told of lawns and gardens that had been dug up by dogs, and also of countless flowers destroyed.

I'm sure I don't know what the solution is but it could be that a delegation at the next council meeting might do some good. The next regular council meeting is Monday, July 27 at eight o'clock in the council chambers.

HERE WE GO AGAIN

It seems that the little moron jokes are making the rounds again. Remember when they used to be called, Little Audrey jokes? Here's one that should get a rise - Have you heard about the little Moron who pushed the cow over the cliff so he could hear the "Jersey Bounce". Then there's the little moron who killed [illegible] because he heard the coach was going to send in a sub!

BE CAREFUL

Watch your appetite! Its so easy to get 'round on more than three square meals a day.

ROSES

Longbow Lake may be famous for its fishing and as a haven for tourists, but if they keep growing roses out that way like the ones brought into this office yesterday, the area may well become the rose garden of the district. Yours truly, was given three of the most beautiful roses ever to be picked anywhere. These Longbow Lake roses are also the biggest roses I have ever seen and I do thank the grower for thinking of me.

HEARD ON MAIN STREET

I chose my wife as she did her wedding gown, for qualities that would wear well.

GO FOR BROKE

Enjoy, But Beware The Rushing River

Since April 1 our district has had almost as much precipitation as it had in the previous 12 months. As a result many lakes and rivers have very high water, reports the Department of Lands and Forests at Kenora.

This is especially noticeable in Rushing River on which one of our Provincial Parks is located. A few picnic areas were flooded and one foot bridge was washed out. In spite of this, the beauty of the Falls is unsurpassed with the great volume of water pour down, and many tourists stop on the road alongside to take pictures.

Children and adults should confine their swimming to the area behind or close to the float lines at the beach. Several folk have received nasty bruises by being tossed down by the current amongst the rocks and a child could well come to great harm. Remember that swimming is unsupervised at the Park, so due caution should be exercised.

Enjoy, but beware, the Rushing River!!

New Cottage Subdivisions Proposed At Kenora

Last week Mr. R. G. Code, Supervisor of the Lands Branch at the Head Office of the Department of Lands and Forests paid a visit to the Kenora District. He spent some time with officials in the District Office discussing the various problems in the Lands division,, and also made a trip out in the field looknig over some of the subdivisons laid out and approved last year. These have been surveyed and the department is awaiting the registration of the plans so that they may start selling the lots.

The Kenora Department reports that they have nine new proposed subdivisions laid out to date this season and plan to lay out a few more. Four have sent to Head Office for approval one each on Longbow Lake, Dogtooth Lake, Malachi Lake and Macara Lake near Ingolf. It is hoped that these four plans will be apporved shortly so that the actual survey may be carried out and the lots made available for the steadily growing demand of summer resort locations.

Ft. Frances Streets Will Feature Area Scenes

Fort Frances — Paintings advertising the sights and variety of recreation to be found in the Fort Frances area were to be erected today on downtown Scott street.

A project of the Chamber of Commerce, the paintings were done by local artist John Bouchard. He has 14 scenes ready to hang, with more to follow. They will be displayed on every lamp post in the two main blocks of the business district.

Gordon Baldwin, heading the Chamber committee in charge of the project, expressed his pleasure with the quality and attractiveness of the paintings. He said that summer visitors will undoubtedly stroll from lamp post to lamp post to see them all.

Kenora District Baseball League

Cheryl Berg A Winner In Elmer Safety Contest

Kenora has another winner in the Elmer Limerick contest, Cheryl A. Berg of 30 Mascott Avenue has won a miniature rocket radio in the third week's contest. Twelve year old Cheryl was one of fifty youngsters in the province to win radios.

The major prize of a bicycle was won by Wayne MacMillan of Sudbury.

This week's Elmer Limerick contest appears elsewhere in this issue. The Miner & News along with numerous other newspapers in the province is co-operating with the Ontario Safety League in promoting the Elmer Safety Elephant contests.

MINISTER LOST ON OWN HIGHWAY

Barrie — Ontario Highways Minister Cass experienced a "shocking thing to happen to a minister of highways." He got lost on his own roads.

Mr. Cass related the story when he eventually arrived for the official opening of a new bridge which carries Highway 50 over the Nottawasaga River some 10 miles southwest of here.

The minister was unable to find signs for the cutoff from Highway 400. He asked a service station attendant.

"That's what they all ask," said the attendant.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see some signs up here very soon indeed," commented Mr. Cass.

QUICK CANADIAN QUIZ

1. What is the meaning of the name Niagara Falls.

2. Last year which was the greater, benefit payments from the unemployment insurance fund or contributions to the fund?

3. Who wrote the words and music of the Maple Leaf?

4. The operating deficit of the CBC was $6.3 million in 1958. What was last year's figure?

5. If a manufacturing plant creates 100 new jobs in a Canadian town, does it create 14, 54 or 117 other jobs in the community?

ANSWERS — 5. A survey of nine Ontario and Quebec towns found that for each 100 new factory jobs, 117 other jobs were created. 3. Alexander Muir, a Toronto school teacher. 1. Niagara is from an Indian word meaning "thunderer of the waters." 4. CBC deficit was $50.4 million in the year ending March 31, 1959. 2. Unemployment insurance benefit payments totalled $483 million last year, while the fund's revenue was $241 million.

Except for Newfoundland, Canada's most easterly province is Quebec; along the north shore of the St. Lawrence, Quebec extends nearly as far east as the city of St. John's, Newfoundland.

Walk Softly Here

IF YOU visit your District Home for the Aged, walk softly - you may be in the presence of people greater than you know.

The old man, gaunt and bent, who shuffles down the hall may be teaching more than the whole school ever hope to teach if we take a step along his lap. We've been a girl who thought nothing of dancing all night, and working all day, and if her load was heavy, being happy and proud that she could carry so much so easily.

The one who sits alone in the corner may once have been the best neighbour in the settlement, always doing something for someone. But no one knows about that now, because, the people she helped have gone and she has not many friends any more.

Now, for one reason or another, people such as these, find a refuge in a Home for the Aged. We can be very proud of some of these Homes, but even at the best, they have one common lack - they cannot provide any semblance of a normal family life where age and maturity and childhood and youth live naturally together or at least where they see something of one another. In a Country Home Old people are set apart in their own age group; any contact they have with others has to come from outside, either through relatives keeping in touch with them or through the people of the community.

So it means a lot when Church groups, Women's Institutes, Junior farmers and others hold a meeting at the County Home, or bring in a party or a concert - especially if they invite the old people to take part in the programme. It means still more when outsiders coming to the Home make personal friendships with individual men and women there; for more than anything else old people are likely to need friends. They want someone to talk to, someone to consult when they feel confused, someone who seems to like their company even of (and well they know it) they aren't just what they used to be.

A specialist in geriatrics tells us our chief care is malnutrition of the ego. Perhaps we can do something about this by coming to them sometimes for advice from their experience or comfort from the philosophy they have built up over the years. They might be able to fill in the blanks in local records for the Historical Society. An old woman might teach us the "FOX and GEESE" pattern she used to knit into hundreds of mittens year ago. And what a piece of writing a high school student with ambitions toward journalism could turn out, if the teacher would give him the composition assignment "Interviews in an OLD FOLKS' HOME" - provided the student has a respect for the views of older people and that he knows better than to make fun of their "quaint, old ideas."

In our County Homes old people are provided for as they were never provided for years ago. Most of them may be happier than they would be living with relatives. But they miss belonging to a family and they miss having neighbours. And perhaps they sometimes miss being regarded as persons in their own right . . . When you visit your County Home walk softly.

Are Fish Derbies A Good Thing?

The Department of Lands and Forests at Kenora, in a release today ask, "Are fish derbies a good thing?" The communication continues.

The fish derbies held at Kenora and Vermilion Bay this summer resulted in some good sized fish being presented for the judges' appraisal.

While fishing derbies add to the excitement of a fishing holiday for many visiting anglers and no doubt spur local fishermen to greater efforts on our countless lakes in the Kenora District, it seems a rather moot point that they really contribute anything of lasting value to the natural enjoyment of angling in our great outdoors.

One rather unfortunate result is that the ideals of wise use and sound conservation of one of Northwestern Ontario's most valuable resources become clouded by the chief interest in winning a prize. Furthermore, young fry are encouraged to think about the "bigness" of fish rather than the "greatness" of fishing. Good sportsmanship and a true appreciation of nature cannot be learned by the younger set in a medium of material commercialism. For these reasons it is unlikely that the Department of Lands and Forests will ever actively lend their support to endeavours of this nature.

Lake Louise Chateau Started Business In 1890

Chateau Lake Louise, second largest of Canadian Pacific's summer resort hotels situated 40 miles west of Banff, Alberta, has an illustrious background since its beginning as a wooden chalet in 1890. The structure consisted of one back sitting room extending across the front and two bedrooms and kitchen. The frame building was 35 feet wide and 50 feet long, and contained a half dozen small rooms on the second storey under a long, sloping roof. The walls were sealed with light yellow pine.

At an altitude of 5,680 feet and dominated by towering Mount Victoria and its snowy Victoria Glacier at the far end, Tom Wilson, ex-Royal Northwest Mounted Policeman and pioneer mountain guide, was the first white man to set eyes on this emerald-green wonder lake in 1882.

The story goes that he had been camping nearby in his work as guide for Major A. B. Rogers who surveyed the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway through the mighty Selkirk Range, a chain of the Rockies. The stillness of the night was broken from time to time by heavy, rumbling sounds as far-off thunder. Upon questioning his Indian companions they told him it was the voice of the Manitou or Great Spirit speaking at the Lake of Little Fishes. Wilson determined to see this for himself and the next day his Indian friends led him to the location where he was so struck by the brilliant color of the glacial waters dancing in the sun that he named the "Lake of Little Fishes" Emerald Lake. The voice of the Great Spirit, he found, was caused by huge pieces of the glacier falling down the mountain side into the lake.

Shortly thereafter, the wife of the Governor-General of Canada being the Princess Louise, a daughter of Queen Victoria, the lake was re-named Lake Louise in her honor - - and so Mount Victoria forever watches over her daughter Louise.

In 1912 six families of Swiss guides from Interlaken settled at a group of Swiss mountain houses in a Swiss village named Edelweiss, which could at that time be seen from the railway track. The families lived there all the year round and the post office was Golden, and the station also bore the same name. The last remaining Swiss guide to work for the CPR Walter Feuz, retired in January 1959, and resides at the Swiss village at Golden with, among others, his brothers Edward and Ernest. However, Walter was persuaded to return to the Chateau for one more season as Boatman.

A small log chalet was built in 1890 at what was then known as Laggan, Alberta. This building was burned in 1892 and replaced in 1893 with a more pretentious wooden building. Extensions were made in 1900, 1906 and 1911, and a concrete wing added in 1913. The older sections, with the exception of the concrete wing, were replaced in 1924 and 1925, resulting in the present modern hotel building.

Be Sure Campfire Is Dead Out

The usual weather trend in late July and early August is for hot days with a low humidity. Under these conditions fires start easily and spread rapidly. This is the time of the year when the attractive camping areas are used by many people and thoughtless campers leave their neglected fires to destroy numerous beauty spots.

The Department of Lands and Forests at Kenora strongly urges all persons to be careful with fire. Do Not Set Out Fire To Dispose Of Rubbish Until You Have A Burning Permit. Extinguish All Smoking Materials Before They Are Discarded. Put Your Fire Dead Out Before Leaving The Camp Site.

TREES AND SOIL

"Mac" Williams, one of the Department of Lands and Forests soils experts, visited the Kenora District for three days and discused long range tree planting plans and the role played by land and soil types in this regard. With Don Vance, Reforestation Supervisor, Mac examined many typical forest areas and their soil types on which they occur and discussed what planting methods and tree species would be preferable in each instance. It is especially interesting to learn that soils men are paying more and more attention to the effect which tree-rots exert on the breakdown of the soil. As trees are cut or blown over their roots, which sometimes extend 10 to 15 feet underground, rot and form excellent channels for water and other materials to wash down into the lower soil depths. This abets the breakdown of what may be a hard, unfertile sub soil into a softer more productive growing medium.

INTERNATIONAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT DRAWS LEW HOAD

Toronto, Ont., drew some famous names to the International Tennis tournament. Mr. and Mrs. Lew Hoad of Melbourne, Australia, get their first taste of a salad made from fresh Ontario fruits and vegetables as guests at the Toronto Tennis Club. Mr. Hoad, world famous professional tennis star, is a former Wimbleton and United States amateur champion. Shown at left is Helen Hancharek also sampling some of the food.

Kitchen Classics

It's Salad Week across Canada, a time set aside to feature summer's abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables in our menus. Nothing is as delicious as a cool and refreshing salad made from a colorful variety of fresh fruits.

Of the home grown crops, first to arrive are always British Columbia cherries. Although the peak of the crop is just past, you'll still find plenty of top quality B.C. cherries at your market. Don't let the season slip by without enjoying this once-a-year treat.

The next major crop is British Columbia apricots, just now arriving at your favorite store. Latest news from the growing areas points to July 27th for the start of preserving supplies.

For a saladtime special, try this delightful salad.

APRICOT SALAD

12 fresh apricots
4 slices canned pineapple
2 cups cottage cheese
Fresh Bing cherries

Wash, halve and pit apricots. Arrange crisp lettuce on 4 salad plates, place ring of pineapple in centre. Mound ½ cup cottage cheese on pineapple, circle with 6 apricot halves. Garnish with cherries and serve with sweet French dressing.

When entertaining your favorite bridge foursome or committee meeting, fresh fruit salad is sure to be a winner. Arrange halved fresh apricots, canned pear halves, pineapple slices and fresh cherries on lettuce-lined salad plates. If desired, tuck in a wedge of cantaloupe or honeydew melon.

Serve with this wonderfully good fruit salad dressing.

FRUIT DRESSING

8 large marshmallows
¼ cup undiluted frozen orange juice concentrate
½ cup mayonnaise

Cut up marshmallows, mix with orange juice and mayonnaise. Chill several hours. This dressing is delicious with any fruit salad and cottage cheese salad.

Try some of the first fresh apricots in this delightful fruit combination.

MIXED FRUIT SALAD

¾ cup diced orange
2 cups pitted sweet cherries
1 cup diced fresh apricots

Peel and slice cantaloupe in crosswise slices, remove seeds. Place on individual salad plates on salad greens. Combine orange cherries and apricots, sweeten lightly. Pile in centre of cantaloupe ring. Garnish with fruit salad dressing. When fresh cherries are not available substitute canned or fresh pineapple cubes.

RAIN MYSTERY NOW SOLVED; BUG JUICE!

San Diego, Calif. — The weatherman was right when he said the mysterious moisture that has been falling on Charles Coval's backyard wasn't rain.

It was bug juice.

The phenomenon was explained by scientists Tuesday after Coval, meteorologists, engineers and everybody else admitted being baffled.

Dr. Rudolph Preisendorfer, research physicist at the University of California, led the unofficial scientific expedition to Coval's backyard after reading about the mysterious sprinkles.

Preisendorfer described them as leafhoppers, commonly called sharpshooters and known scientifically as homopyera cicadellidae homalodisia.

They excrete a spray of fluid, which the scientist said is sometime called "honey dew" especially when they are disturbed.

The leafhoppers had been keeping an area 20 feet square wet. Preisendorfer said the phenomenon is not too uncommon.

The value of the forests of Canada is beyond calculation.

UNITED NATIONS GROUP STUDIES AFRICA

Geneva Park conference on Africa, sponsored by the Toronto branch of the United Nations association is being attended by about 70 Ontario high school students. Africa was chosen as the conference topic officials said, "because it is an area where the future of the world now hangs in the balance." Shown above is Henry K. Kanyike, left, Uganda secretary school supervisor, Jean Walker of Downsview, Ontario and Robin Wood of Richmond Hill, Ontario. They are studying a map of Africa which is part of a visual aid display being built up on tour Ontario high schools.

BUSINESS WOMEN OPEN GATHERING

Paris, France — The International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs is concentrating on means of promoting international understanding in the interests of peace at its triennial congress.

The congress started its sessions here Monday and will run through Friday.

Daily workshops are held in the mornings for the 900 delegates and observers to discuss ways of "building bridges between peoples," the theme of the congress. Out of these discussions are expected a number of resolutions which will be passed on to the local clubs in the 22 nations represented.

SAYS DIVING MASK CAUSED DEATH

Toronto — Provincial police here have been ordered to file a report on a diving mask that may have caused the July 19 drowning of an eight-year-old boy at Shadow Lake, 25 miles northeast of here.

Chief Coroner Dr. Smirle Lawson, who ordered the report, will personally conduct an inquest into the death of Donald Laur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Laur of Toronto.

The boy was declared dead after a milling throng of spectators interfered with attempts by a life guard to give artificial respirating.

Mrs. Laur has blamed the tragedy on the face mask which was intended to cover only the boy's nose and eyes.

"He was too small and when it slipped over his mouth he didn't know what to do," she said.

Correct Use Of Brushes Ensures Neat Paint Job

Before starting to paint make sure that you have enough paint to complete the job. The surface area that can be covered by a given amount of paint will usually be indicated on the container.

Paint should be thoroughly mixed before using and the solid ingredients properly dissolved. Stirring should be continued until the contents are of a uniform texture.

The container used for painting should be wide enough to accommodate the brush. This will prevent damage to the bristles.

Beginning at the top left hand corner of a wall, paint should be applied in narrow strips, each strip reaching from the top of the wall to the baseboard. To prevent lap marks, each new strip should be applied before the previous one has had time to dry. Paint should first be brushed on the dry surface, working towards the wet or painted edge.

The brush should be dipped lightly and never deeper than half the depth of the bristle. Overloading the brush will cause the paint to spatter and run down along the handle. Excess paint should be tapped off against the side of the container after each dipping.

Paint should be applied with short light strokes using only the ends of the bristles. The pressure should be released at the end of each stroke to prevent thick edges & brush marks. Care should be taken not to compress or otherwise twist the bristles when painting in tight corners. If possible, an old brush should be kept handy for this purpose. A good brush can be ruined if the bristles are mistreated.

Applying too heavy a coat or using overdiluted paint may cause runs or sags. These should be brushed smooth before the paint has had time to harden.

If a damp cloth is kept within reach, accidental paint spots can be removed quickly before causing permanent stains.

For interior surfaces a flat, straight-edge, three-inch brush is recommended. A narrower brush - 1½" or 2" will be needed for trimming. A third brush, this one with a chisel edge, will be found practical for window sash.

Rubber sponge or felt rollers are now widely used for painting large surfaces, such as walls and ceilings. An even textured finish can be obtained with a roller without any special skill and with definite advantage in painting time. A roller can be used equally well with water soluble, oil emulsion or rubber paints.

All left-over paint should be stored in tightly covered containers. Brushes and rollers should be thoroughly cleaned before storing. Solvents for this purpose may be obtained at any hardware store.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

SOLITUDE

Solitude, the safeguard of mediocrity, is to genius the stern friend.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Who hath not learned that when alone he has his own thoughts to guard, and when struggling with mankind his temper, and in society his tongue?

—Mary Baker Eddy

Solitude is the nurse of enthusiasm, and enthusiasm is the true parents of genius.

—Isaac D'Israeli

Solitude shows us what we should be; society shows us what we are.

—Richard Cecil

I had three chairs in my house; one for solitude, two for friendship, three for society.

"Rescue Breathing" New Way To Save Lives

The best first-aid measure to revive a victim of near-drowning, electric shock, or gas inhalation, claims August Reader's Digest, is to blow your breath into his lungs, mouth-to-mouth.

No artificial equipment is necessary for successful mouth-to-mouth breathing. But to eliminate the need for oral contact, a small S-shaped plastic "resuscitating tube" or "airway" has been devised by Dr. Peter Safar, a John Hopkins Anisthesiologist, and Capt. Martin C. McMahon of the Baltimore Fire Department. It is easy to use and requires the briefest of demonstrations.

Rescue Breathing has an extra lifesaving advantage. Doctors have long recognized the danger that an insensible patient may "swallow his tongue" - and suffocate . Rescue breathing avoids this danger. With this new technique, the victim's head must be tilted back and the lower jaw must be jutted out. The backward tilt of the head unkinks the victim's air passage, and the jutting jaw pulls the tongue forward. Authorities say that some unconscious victim will be saved simply by holding the head and jaw in this position, which permits spontaneous breathing.

According to experts, a large percentage of victims could be saved if everyone knew the few simple steps involved in mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration. The Digest article states that in an emergency, with or without an airway, start up life-giving blowing at once and have someone else call a doctor or rescue group.

Many Canadians Lack Protection Against Polio

Edinburgh, Scotland — Canada's polio immunization program still has not reached an adequate number of the country's adults, R. J. Wilson, University of Toronto professor, said Wednesday.

He told a preventive medicine session of the joint meeting of the British and Canadian medical associations that only 10 to 35 per cent of adults are estimated to have received three doses of antipolio vaccine by last June 30—four years after the start of the immunization program.

Children under 16 covered by the program ranged from 40 to 90 per cent in various provinces. The lowest percentage in some provinces reflected the major problems of immunizing rural populations.

Wilson also said the Canadian program for controlling communicable diseases is extremely successful. The emphasis for the last three decades had been on preventive immunization, particularly of infants and children.

NEW SERUM

Wilson said the developments of a serum containing tetanus toxoid and polio strains should prove useful in immunizing adults and those in rural areas.

Tetanus polio vaccine was tried last year on 10,000 industrial workers, he said. About 85 per cent had completed voluntarily the initial series of three doses and now received a "recall" dose.

If successful, the vaccine is expected to reduce the load on doctors and encourage adults to get immunized, he said.

Dr. Gordon E. Wride of the federal health department, told the meeting that a sickness survey made in Canada eight years ago helped the development of a broad program of social security.

He said the current success of hospital insurance and other social assistance programs is due largely to the accuracy of preparatory estimates based substantially on early analysis of the results of the sickness survey.

In a panel discussion on tuberculosis, professor John Crofton of Edinburgh said an increasing number of elderly men have been afflicted by the disease in the last few years.

Dr. H. T. McLintock of Toronto said Canadian doctors are finding much the same situation.

McLintock also said Canada had a high mortality among young women but this situation has disappeared and now the mortality is highest among old men. Thirty per cent of the patients admitted for surgery are over 60, he added.

McLintock said there is more tuberculosis among the lower income group, and more in jails than any other place.

The fight against the disease is hampered by a growing attitude in Canada that TB is practically a thing of the past, he added.

FIREMEN PUSH THEIR TRUCK TO OUTBREAK

Knedy, Tex. — Fire Tuesday caught the Kenedy volunteer fire department with its truck in a garage being repaired.

The firemen pushed the truck, minus its radiator, to the blaze.

The fire burned out a cleaning shop and threatened two other buildings for a time.

BIGGAR LETS VISITORS KNOW

Biggar, Sask.—A large sign marks the entrance to this western Saskatchewan town where the Queen and Prince Philip stopped Tuesday for 20 minutes. It says:

"New York is the largest city in the world, but this is Biggar."

HORSE CRACKS TWO MINUTE MILE

Montreal — Mighty Dudley Tuesday night cracked the two-minute mile, harness racing's equivalent of the four-minute mile, for the first time in Canadian history.

The four-year-old brown horse, owned by K and J Stable of Montreal paced the mile in 1:59 3-5 and in the process broke the Canadian record of 2:00 1-5 he set two weeks ago over Richelieu Park's half-mile track.

Driven by veteran Keith Waples Mighty Dudley paid $8.40, $3 and $2.70 as he took the fourth leg of the $10,800 stake pace.

A survey of the nine Ontario and Quebec towns that have acquired new manufacturing industries shows that for each 100 new jobs in factories, 117 other were created in the towns.

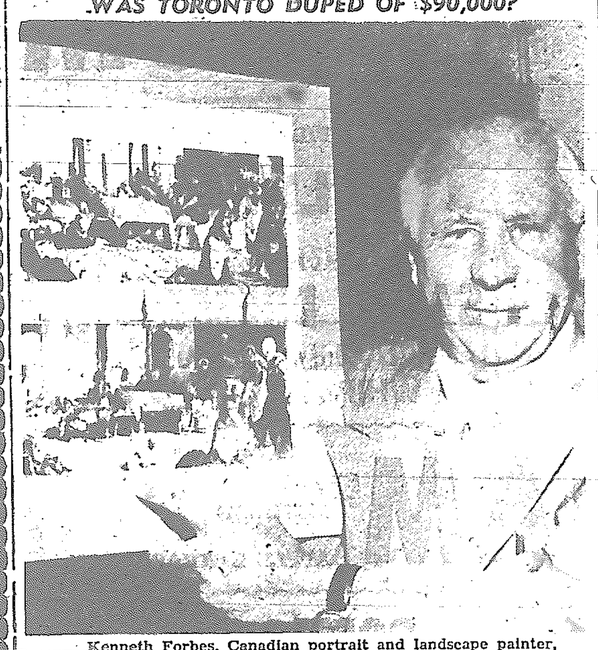
WAS TORONTO DUPED OF $90,000?



Kenneth Forbes, Canadian portrait and landscape painter, has attacked the Toronto (Ont.) Art Gallery on their purchase of what they believe to be an original "Tintoretto" painting of Christ Washing the Disciples Feet. Forbes claims that the Gallery's painting is a poor imitation of the original which he says hangs in the Prado in Madrid, Spain. In the above photo he shows reproductions of the two paintings to back up his contention. The top picture in the photo is the painting purchased by the Toronto gallery.

Every Home Owner should study these FACTS about NATURAL Gas

So many pertinent questions have been asked by Homeowners interested in using Natural Gas in their own homes, that we've selected ten of the most-asked—and reprint them here together with direct and simply-worded answers. Your Authorized Blue Flame Dealer will gladly give you further or more amplified explanations when you call him.

Q. Is Gas Service only available for home heating?
A. You can have Gas Service for cooking, clothes drying, water heating, home heating, or incineration.

Q. What does it cost to have my home connected to the gas mains on my street?
A. If your home is within 100 feet of the mains on your street, a Gas Service line will be run FREE OF CHARGE. There is of course, a small extra charge per foot over this distance.

Q. How do I arrange for Natural Gas Service?
A. Just get in touch with your Authorized Blue Flame Dealer or call the Gas Company. You simply sign an order for Natural Gas Service, and arrange to buy your equipment. No down payment required, if your equipment is installed before July 31st.

Q. Can I save money by converting now to Natural Gas?
A. Yes. Right now your Authorized Blue Flame Dealer can save you up to $100 on your Natural Gas home heating equipment and installation—and you save for a lifetime on future heating bills.

Q. Can this be financed?
A. Yes. If you are a homeowner, simply sign the order for the equipment you need. The whole cost will be spread over and billed to you in low monthly budget instalments with your Gas bill each month.

Q. If I am not a homeowner, can I get Natural Gas Service?
A. Yes, of course. Sign your order for Natural Gas Service and select the equipment you require. In your case a small down payment will be necessary—but our regular finance plan will be available.

Q. How about service after installation?
A. Only Natural Gas provides you with FREE round-the-clock burner tip and adjustment service. There is no charge for any service call. You only pay for parts needed.

Q. Why is Natural Gas more economical than other fuels?
A. First of all, Natural Gas equipment costs less to buy, install and maintain. No tanks, bins, pumps. No storage problems - you PAY ONLY for the fuel you use as you use it. Gas heat is instantaneous and this important quality eliminates slow costly warm-up periods common to other fuels. Because Natural Gas burns clean there are far fewer needs of re-decorating, cleaning of drapes, etc.

Q. How is Natural Gas rated with other fuels for safety and dependability?
A. A recent study by the National Fire Protective Association establishes the fact that out of a list of 26 causes of fires, etc., Natural Gas was listed way down at 18th on the list. Safety, economy and dependability were the major factors that contributed to industry's recent decision for rapid conversion to Natural Gas.

A NEW GROWTH IN THE NORTHERN LIGHTS — NATURAL GAS

If any other questions occur to you, or if you desire estimates without obligation, just phone your Authorized Blue Flame Dealer. His knowledge and experience will be of invaluable aid—or call your Community Service Gas Company.

MANITOBA BRANCH WINS COMPETITION

Mrs. Lois Neabel, secretary of the Manitoba Womens' Institutes has announced that Manitoba has been awarded first prize for a song and music in a Tweedsmuir competition of the Federated Womens' Institutes of Canada. The song entered by the Sanford WI was composed by Mrs. M. B. Parker.

Mrs. Neabel attended the Federated Womens' Institutes of Canada biennial meeting at St. Dunstan's College, Charlottetown, PEI. Also attending the meeting were Mrs. Walter Forrester, Emerson; and Mrs. W. J. Johnston Swan River. Mrs. Wm. Thompson, Souris, and Mrs. R. J. Moss, of Amaranth, have been appointed executive members for the term 1959-61. Mrs. Thompson has been named chairman of the committee on the International Peace Garden.

Mrs. E. J. Roylance, President of the Provincial Board of British Columbia Womens' Institutes has been chosen as President of the FWIC for 1959-61. Mrs. Roylance resides at Greenwood, B.C. Mrs. James Haggerty, Napanee, Ont., and Mrs. Harry Kilpatrick, Jacksonville, N.B. were elected vice-presidents. Mrs. C. Shulver, Woodrow, Sask., and Mrs. Clarke, Newfoundland are the two other executive members.

Eat To Live, is the title chosen for nutrition study projects for all provinces. The study is to be based on Canada's food rules. Institutes across Canada are being asked to conduct a TV program survey, similar to one which was done by Ontario Womens' Institutes.

Royal River Film Highlights Present Royal Tour

Geoff Hogwood, staff announcer for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in Montreal, has been chosen as narrator for "Royal River," the National Film Board production now nearing completion at NFB studios in Montreal.

"Royal River" is a 30-minute color film. It is a pictorial record of the trip by Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip along the St. Lawrence waterway, from their arrival at Gaspe until they leave the Royal Yacht Britannia at the Canadian lakehead.

Exclusive scenes of the Royal couple, photographed aboard the Britannia, are included in the film.

20th Century-Fox Corporation will distribute the 30-minute film in Canada, and in shorter versions throughout the world.

ADOPTIONS UP BY NEARLY HALF

Toronto — Ontario Welfare Minister Cecile Tuesday announced a "phenomenal" upward trend in adoptions in the province this year amounting to a jump of nearly 50 per cent.

Adoptions in the first five months of 1959 totalled 1,447. In the same period of 1957, the figure was 1,007, he said.

He said that classified advertising to find parents for hard-to-place children resulted in the adoption of 10.

Fifty such advertisements placed in a trial period in May and June resulted in 533 inquiries from Ontario alone.

LONGBOW LAKE NEWS

By "Kim"

Since last report from this fast growing hamlet we have met with rather unusual weather conditions, "The rain descended and the floods came", which caused an unusual rise in lake levels. Docks were afloat, boat houses and beaches were rendered useless.

"Andy" the foreman on the new dam project found it necessary to remove a portion of his coffer dam and suspend building operations for a week while the flood receded.

This condition has corrected itself and concrete is being poured as of Tuesday.

"There was a sound of revelry by night" last week when a bunch of Kenora gals were celebrating at a shower, the conquest of an unsuspecting male. This affair took place at a cottage well back from the highway on new Storm Bay road. No casualties reported.

Mr. Doell the engineer in charge of Department of Public Works operations in this district was a visitor this week inspecting new dam at Longbow and other district projects.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Longstaffe are visiting in Winnipeg.

Mr. Shiplow is building a new home on the point.

We were shocked to hear of the passing of Mr. S. Nyardy who recently purchased the Jackson home on Longbow Lake.

The tourist season is now in full swing most camps are full, fishing has been better than usual.

Gardens in district are exceptionally good since recent rains, Helgi's onions give promise of a bumper crop.

The bears that have frequented the garbage pit are now away feasting on blueberries eating vines and all.

The fourth annual meeting of the Research Council of the Kenora Curling Club was held last week end at camp "Restawhile" on Kimberley Road. Some very interesting topics were "dealt" with. Jas. Guy was elected chairman for the coming year.

"GINGER PEACHY" DESSERT

New dessert ideas are always welcome, especially when they are colorful, full of flavor promise, and, live up to their advance billing as well. The recipe for Gingered Peach Topsy Turvy takes advantage of the peaches out in full force at this time of year, while chopped ginger and maraschino cherries add their own special touch. A batter mixture is poured over the whole melange, thus giving the dish its name topsy turvy, and it is then baked in a buttery sweet glaze. Serve this topsy turvy warm from the oven with pouring cream or a fluff of whipped cream. It makes quite a sumptuous dessert.

GINGERED PEACH TOPSY TURVY

Yield—6 to 9 servings

3 tablespoons butter or margarine

½ cup lightly-packed brown sugar

1 tablespoon finely - chopped candied or preserved ginger.

9 maraschino cherries

9 peeled ripe peach halves

1-¼ cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 1-½ cups once-sifted pastry flour

1-½ teaspoons baking powder

¾ teaspoon baking soda

½ teaspoon salt

⅓ cup shortening

¾ cup granulated sugar

1-½ teaspoons grated lemon rind

1 egg

¾ cup buttermilk

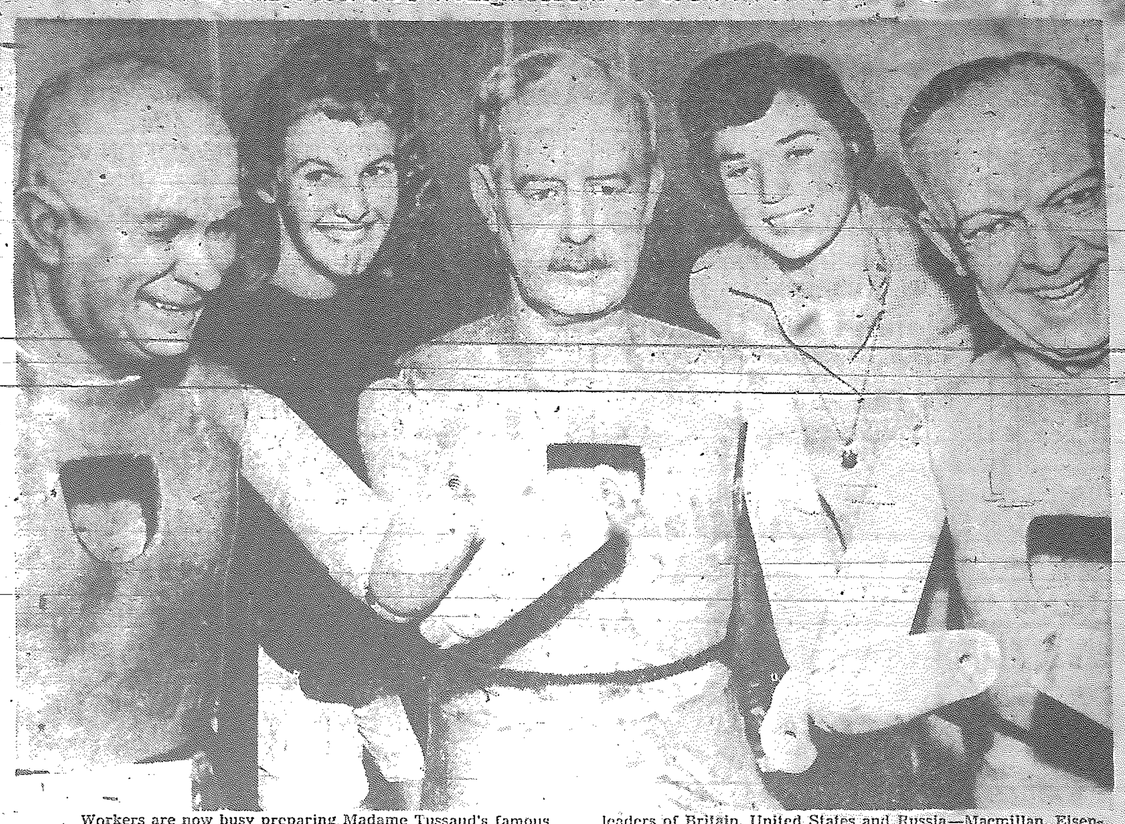
½ teaspoon vanilla

Preheat oven to 350 deg. F. (moderate).

Melt butter or margarine in a 8-inch square cake pan; brush sides of pan with the butter or margarine. Sprinkle brown sugar and chopped ginger in pan. Arrange maraschino cherries equally spaced in pan. Prepare peaches and place one over each cherry, pit side down.

Sift together twice the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream shortening; gradually blend in granulated sugar and lemon rind; add and beat in the egg. Combine buttermilk and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture, alternately with buttermilk, combining lightly after each addition. Pour batter over peaches in prepared pan Bake in preheated oven 1 to 1-¼ hours. Carefully turn out pudding onto a serving plate. Serve warm with pouring cream or a fluff of whipped cream.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S WAX MUSEUM TO OPEN IN NIAGARA FALLS



Workers are now busy preparing Madame Tussaud's famous wax museum for its opening in Niagara Falls, Ont. Bodies, heads and costumes have arrived and are about to be assembled. Picture above shows a summit in effigy, bringing together the leaders of Britain, United States and Russia—Macmillan, Eisenhower and Khrushchev. Inspecting them are two visitors from Texas, Barbara Carlisle, left, and Patti McAlister. The exhibits were shipped from London to Niagara Falls.

Loosening Binding Sash Simple Job For Homeowner

Binding windows are a common source of annoyance to homeowners but, in many cases, the problem can be overcome simply and with little expense.

A newly painted window will sometimes become fastened by a film of paint that has hardened and sealed one or both sections to the frame, to the stop or to each other. Dampness will also cause windows to bind against the running face of the frame or against the stop beads.

When a window sticks after painting, try to loosen it by running a knife blade around the edges of the sash. If this fails, a wooden block should be held squarely against the rail and tapped with a hammer. Unless the paint has penetrated deeply into the crevices the sash should work loose with one or other of these methods.

Wooden sash absorb moisture which can cause them to bind. To make a double-hung wood sash run more freely, apply paraffin wax to the binding faces. This may be sufficient but, if considerable effort is needed to raise the sash, waxing may not be enough. If the stops press too tightly against the sash they should be pared and moved back slightly. Stops fastened by screws can be planed rather than moved to one side as this will allow the screws to fit in their original seats. Where the stops are nailed down care should be taken when removing them not to mark the wood with the lifting tool.

Some effort may be needed to work loose a wood sash that binds tightly against the frame. If the frame itself has swollen with the absorption of moisture to the point where the sash cannot be budged by the means described, some planing of the upright railings may be required.

Planing, however, should only be done as a last resort as the sash will shrink during the dry weather and may become too loose.

After planing the edges, they should be coated with paraffin wax to make them work freely This also gives them a moisture resistant surface.

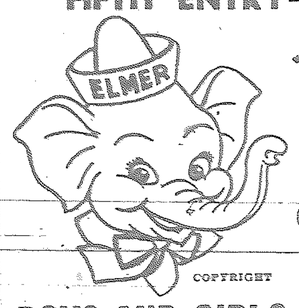
ELMER'S LIMERICK CONTEST

FIFTH ENTRY—DEADLINE JULY 29



Big Prizes

New Raleigh Bicycle and 50 Rocket Radios Every Week.

Grand Prize—A Trip to Canada's West

SPONSORED BY RALEIGH CYCLE INDUSTRIES (CANADA) LTD. IN THE INTEREST OF CHILD SAFETY

COPYRIGHT

BOYS AND GIRLS—THIS IS YOUR CONTEST

Hi Kids,

Here's the fifth part of my Limerick Contest, and here's my fifth safety rule:

"WALK—WHEN YOU LEAVE THE CURB"

Now here's the contest and here's what you can win! Every week, in an announcement like this, I'll give you the first four lines of a limerick about one of my safety rules . . . and I'll give you the safety rule so you can make up the last line of the limerick to suit the rule. Be sure it rhymes with the first line. After you've made up the last line, fill in the entry blank and mail it to me. Get mother and dad to help you if you like. Maybe you'll win one of the prizes for the week. When we've gone through all the rules, we'll have a special limerick covering all six rules. The grand prize for this one is a trip for you and one parent, guardian, teacher or any adult of your choice, to Canada's west!

So read the rules, put on your thinking cap and get busy. Good luck!

ELMER

HOW TO WIN

1. To enter, make up the last line of the limerick shown. Entries will be judged on their rhythm and rhyme, and how their lines fit in with the first four lines. Last line should rhyme with first line.
2. Any student who attended an Ontario public, parochial or private elementary school during 1959 may enter.
3. Children of employees of this newspaper, the Ontario Safety League and Raleigh Cycle Industries (Canada) Ltd. cannot enter.
4. This entry must be postmarked not later than midnight Wednesday, July 29 1959, and mailed to the address on the entry blank.
5. Each verse must be mailed with an entry blank or reasonable facsimile. All entries become the property of Elmer the Safety Elephant, and cannot be returned.
6. Judges of the contest will be people who are teachers, writers and traffic safety authorities. The judges' decisions are final.

it's a FACT

The Venetians, in about 1300, were the first to make mirrors of glass by backing them with a coating of mercury and tin. These quickly took the place of earlier metal mirrors. Venetian mirror-makers formed a corporation to protect the secrets of their manufacturing methods. If anyone carried the art into a foreign country his nearest relatives were imprisoned, and the corporation sent members to find and kill him.
