- The Library services are provided in a manner that respects the dignity and independence of persons with disabilities.
- The Library strives to provide “universal access” to library services for all people to the greatest extent possible without the need for adaptation or specialized design in order to integrate services to persons with disabilities. The Library will offer alternative measures, including trained staff support, where necessary, so that persons with disabilities may obtain and use library services.

BACKGROUND:

The Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA, 2005) is a provincial act with the purpose of developing, implementing and enforcing accessibility standards in order to achieve accessibility for persons with disabilities with respect to goods, services, facilities, accommodation, employment, buildings, structures and premises.

Under the AODA, Ontario Regulation 429/07 entitled "Accessibility Standards for Customer Service" came into force on January 1, 2008. The Regulation establishes accessibility standards specific to customer service for public sector organizations and other persons or organizations which provide goods and services to members of the public or other third parties.

The City of Kenora Accessibility Policy, upon which the Library policy is based, is drafted in accordance with the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service (Ontario Regulation 429/07). The Integrated Accessibility Regulation 191/11, effective January 1, 2012 and phased through to 2021, addresses standards related to Information and Communication, Employment, Transportation and Built Environment.

Accessibility for Users with Disabilities: Customer Service Standards

Library Service Delivery

All Library services in all service locations are accessible by persons with disabilities. The Library strives to provide Library services in a way that meets the specific needs of the person with disabilities and is convenient and accessible to the person with disabilities.

Communications with Persons with Disabilities

When communicating with a person with a disability, the Library will do so in a manner that takes into account the person's disability.

Temporary Service Disruptions

The Library will make reasonable effort to provide notice of planned or unplanned disruption of Library services to the public, including information about the reason for the disruption, its anticipated duration and a description of alternative facilities or service, if any, that may be available. In the case of unplanned temporary disruption, advance notice will not be possible.

Assistive Devices and other Measures that Assist with Accessibility

A person with a disability may provide his/her own assistive device for the purpose of obtaining or using Library services. Exceptions may occur in situations where the Library has determined that the assistive device may pose a risk to the health and safety of the person with a disability or to the health and safety of others on Library premises. In these situations, the Library may offer a person with a disability other reasonable measures to assist him or her in obtaining and using Library services, where the Library has such other measures available.

It is the responsibility of the person with a disability to ensure that his or her assistive device is operated in a safe and controlled manner at all times.

Service Animals and Guide Dogs

Persons with a disability may enter Library premises accompanied by a service animal and keep the animal with them if the public has access to such premises and the animal is not otherwise excluded by law. If a service animal is excluded by law, the Library will ensure that alternate means are available to enable the person with a disability to obtain, use or benefit from Library services.

If it is not readily apparent that the animal is a service animal or a guide dog, Library staff may ask the person for confirmation of the animal's status, as outlined above.

It is the responsibility of the person with a disability to ensure that his or her service animal or guide dog is kept in control at all times.

Support Persons

A person with a disability may enter Library premises with a support person and have access to the support person while on the premises.

The Library may require a person with a disability to be accompanied by a support person while on Library premises in situations where it is necessary to protect the health and safety of the person with a disability or the health and safety of others on the Library premises.

A support person, when assisting a person with a disability to obtain or use Library services, will be permitted to attend at no charge where an admission fee is applicable.

Training

The Library will ensure that all persons to whom this policy applies receive training as required by the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service. The amount and format of training will be dependent on a person's interactions with Library users.

The content of the training will include:

- A review of the purpose of the AODA;

Safety and emergency information is provided in the format required by an employee's disability as part of the orientation process.

Design of Public Spaces Standards

The Library strives to create and maintain facilities for the public that follow the principles of universal access.

When building new facilities or undertaking significant renewal of exterior paths of travel, the Library will ensure that all specifications of this Regulation and the Building Code Act of Ontario, 1992. O. Reg. 413/12, s. 6., along with the City of Kenora Accessibility Design Standards, are followed. These standards apply to any external paths, ramps, curbs or stairs on library property.

When building new or undertaking renewal of existing Library parking lots, the Library will ensure that the spacing and number of designated spots is in accordance with this Regulation.

Items in facility: collections, desks, furniture and equipment are designed to serve all patrons of the Library, including those with disabilities. Service counters are designed to accommodate those patrons using mobility aids. Staff are trained in appropriate customer service responses to ensure the needs of patrons are met.
