AT COUNCIL MEET

MANY SEEK HALT TO LIQUOR REFERENDUM

The regular meeting of the Town Council last night saw a capacity crowd fill Kenora's council chambers as members of the Ministerial Association and interested citizens gathered to present their views and petitions relative to a proposed liquor referendum. Sunday morning at most Kenora Churches, Ministers delivered sermons on the subject and circulated petitions for congregations to sign. The presenting of petitions and representation at Council arose following a meeting by the Chamber of Commerce at which a resolution was adopted by the group that they would request the town of Kenora to hold a referendum of the electors at the earliest possible date to voice an expression of opinion for or against the licensing of:

1. Sale of liquor under a di-

TV REPORT

Unofficial reports concerning activity directed to bring television to Kenora have been received. It has been stated that some equipment is now in Kenora and that CBC personnel were in Kenora yesterday. The target date for service is still late May with the satellite station to possibly operate on channel 8.

CHILDREN'S AID APPROVES OF BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS TO SAVE A CHILD'S LIFE

Six adoptions were finalized last month through the Kenora and District Children's Aid Society, the board learned at the regular meeting which was held in the society's office, and a total of 42 children are on adoption probation. These figures were in the report given by the local director, Mr. W. J. P. Thompson. The chairman of the board, Mr. W. B. Powell, presided at the meeting. Five cases of protection with unmarried parents were being leaving eight cases active at the end of the month. Children in care number 198, and there are 35 protection cases.

The C.A.S. board unanimously elected Mr. H. R. Churchill to membership. The board set Feb. 16 as the date for the annual meeting which will be in the form of a dinner. The public will be invited and details will be announced later.

A resolution supporting the action of the Toronto Children's Aid Society which is asking the government to legislate out of existence the right of parents to deny blood transfusions to their children when the alternative is death, was passed at the meeting. Such a law means that any child

2. Sale of liquor under a lounge licence.

"To win a war, we must spike the enemies guns, before the shooting," said Mr. Jack Robinson, first speaker to address council on the topic. "I am of the opinion that we have in town a number of pressure groups who from time to time try to force things on our elected aldermen which are very often neither necessary or good for Kenora." Mr. Robinson quoted the chairman of the Chamber of Commerce as saying that "the granting of licences for the consumption of liquor in lounges and dining rooms would bring about a curtailment of drinking", this is pure supposition said Mr. Robinson and cannot be proved. He also stated that the expense the town would be liable to for preparing a special list of voters for a referendum was not warranted in his opinion.

Rev. A. McCrae of First Baptist Church presented a petition bearing 87 names, Rev. V. Olson of Lakeside Baptist Church a petition of 46 names, Rev. R. J. Leighton one with 93 signatures, Rev. J. Vance Calvary Church, 36 names, Rev. J. D. Matlock

First Presbyterian church 31 names and the Salvation Army, 18 names.

Each minister presented the resolution that council refrain from any action on the question unless 25 percent of the population ask for a referendum. Rev. McCrae stated that his church was in opposition to anything that would adversely affect the youth of Kenora and that the seeking of more liquor outlets was not by popular demand of the citizens as a whole but only of a small group.

Rev. Olson stated that the opening of more liquor outlets would

Heavy Agenda Kept Town Fathers Busy

The first meeting for 1959 of the Kenora Town Council was a lengthy one keeping town fathers busy with a heavy agenda till eleven o'clock.

Regarding the proposed location of a Children's Aid receiving home on First Avenue South, the following communications were referred to council as a whole for study: a letter from the Kenora Planning Board stating that at a meeting of that body held January 6th the following resolution was passed "that this board finds that a Children's Aid Receiving Home is classified as an institution and therefore is non-conforming with the regulations of the zoning by-law.

J. Pike, Chief of Police wrote advising that the proposed location leaves absolutely no opportunity for the parking of vehicles on the street and "I question if there is any available space at the rear, accessible only by a narrow lane."

Fire Chief R. Davie reported that he has not yet inspected the premises.

Norman Water Project:

C. J. McMullin of Proctor and Redfern, consulting engineers for the town in a communication referred to the decision of the Ontario Municipal Board in not approving the Norman Waterworks and Sewage project and suggested that the matter of the receiving home is pending.

The report of the treasurer, Mr. Charles Platt, showed $1,001.94 spent for clothing. An account of $1,028.72 for medical and dental expenses included three hospital items of some duration. Boarding home expenses of $4,661.38 involved 160 children.

Mr. Thompson told of the outcome of the case of the tot who had been abandoned on the streets of Keewatin on Christmas eve. After a mental examination of the mother, she was committed to the Ontario Hospital at Port Arthur, and the child, now a non-permanent ward of the society, has been placed in a foster home.

20 MEN RECEIVE QUARTER CENTURY CLUB RINGS AT PLEASING FUNCTION

The humble and sincere tribute of Mando's president, Mr. Robert Faegre, and community leaders of this district, was paid last night to some 20 new members of the Company's Quarter Century Club, at a pleasing dinner which has become an annual Company highlight since 1946. Joining with Company officials in voicing appreciation for the role which loyal employees have played in the progress of Mando were the mayors of Kenora and Keewatin, Ratuski and Hodgkinson; Reeve Byers of Jaffray-Melick and Dr. R. G. Davidson.

In an eloquent address which was notable for its directness and hominess, the guest speaker found it an amazing fact that fully 25 per cent of Mando's 5,000 employees proudly wear their Quarter Century Emblems. In Kenora, 251 such rings have been given out in the past 13 years. Translating service into man-years, he said Kenora members represented a total of 75,000 in this brief span of time.

The full text of Mr. Faegre's address will be published in Wednesday's issue.

Mr. Faegre termed the members "the real back-bone of the community" and frankly stated that the company couldn't have achieved its enviable record without their many assets. Some of these he listed as stability, experience, judgement, confidence, integrity, sincerity, resourcefulness, determination, perseverance, maturity and loyalty. Terming members as the "bulwark against immaturity" in the future, the speaker said that their influence strengthens stability, goodwill and leadership qualities.

LOOKING BACK

Mando's president recalled some of the world events of 1933 - the year the 20 new Members joined the Company. The Mill's position at that time was bleak; it had been in receivership for 3 years and could not pay its accounts. The great devotion of the late Dan McLeod was responsible, said Mr. Faegre, for keeping things going. In that year production was 49,000 tons, or 25% of present sales. The payroll was $280,000 while today it stands at $3,350,000. The Company couldn't meet its obligations inside or outside the mill.

Despite the many aids which have been developed, life in the business world remains complex, continued Mr. Faegre. However, reduced to its simplest terms, success in business does not lie in man or machines; products or markets. Rather, said the speaker, it lays in a harmonious relationship between the interests of the owners, who invest risk capital in the expectation of a fair return; the workers, who must have a fair return for their skill and knowledge; the customers, who must be served with

AFFAIRS OF TOWN IN GOOD SHAPE MAYOR, ALDERMEN TELL ROTARIANS

The affairs of the Town of Kenora are in good shape, members of the Town Council and Mayor Ratuski told members of the Kenora Rotary Club at the annual luncheon on Monday tendered to the elected members each year by the club. President W. H. Marr presided and three visitors welcomed. Attendance was 92.73% and last week, 94.55%.

Alderman George Sewell, chairman of Finance was the first speaker called on by Mayor Ratuski and he advised that the budget for 1958 had been balanced with a small surplus. The defeat of the two bylaws, and especially the one refusing to change over to hydro "was in my opinion a mistake" Alderman Sewell stated. We would have to go to arbitration now, and he felt we will have to pay more for power. The increase would be passed over to the users. We would also have to walk on patched up sidewalks for a year at least.

Taxes have increased, but so has everything else, stated Mr. Sewell as he told of conditions prevailing in earlier days. The debenture debt was a little less than $2,000,000, and our present assessment was $12,877,000. The Council was still holding on to the approximately $1,000,000 in our sinking and investment fund. The population was now 10,538 or an increase of 282 over last year.

Kenora could go into city status now, Mr. Sewell stated, but we would lose a lot of school grants in consequence. The Norman water plan had been turned down by the Municipal Board, but the council was continuing its efforts to have this approved and would send down a delegation to Toronto in this regard.

The Community Centre and General Hospital projects for the coming year, he could not see go through except with Town Council aid, even in guaranteeing the necessary bonds, and he could foresee a new school for Norman and possible extension to the King George School. These were problems for the new council.

Speaking on Parks and Cemeteries, Alderman A. E. Minor, who will be chairman of Fire and Police committee for 1959, reported they had tried to re-claim land in the northwest section of the Lake of the Woods Cemetery, and he hoped more land could be re-claimed in the southeast section of the present site.

After construction of the new bridge near the hospitals, a large portion of McLeod park will be re-claimed, especially near the shoreline, and in any event the new bridge would confer many benefits in safe travel. He would like to see a new grandstand at Coney Island, the future and more ground had been re-claimed at Lakeside Park with the possibilities of more property being available. At Coney Island costs were being obtained re anchoring the three main docks with piles, and this would be considered.

Through the new street lighting "we can now see things more clearly" stated Mr. Minor of Main, Second and First Streets, reporting for Alderman Bruce Paterson, chairman of Utilities, and this improvement will be continued. A new water main in the northeast section of town would improve service to housing in the area, and another booster station now being constructed will offset the heavy demand from Pincerest Home. This would also provide service for a second, or number two house development in the area, which would provide seventy to eighty new home sites.

With the bylaw defeated the town now faced an expenditure of $150,000 to convert our present power system to a higher voltage. This had to be done.

The Fire and Police department faced the growing headache of off-street parking, and once the contents and departments in the old town warehouse were transferred to the new site at Lakeside the old town warehouse area would be utilized for off-street parking. Two other locations for parking were under consideration. Parallel parking on Main and Second streets would add a few feet to the travelling width of the roads concerned and permit a better and faster flow of traffic.

Alderman Roy Stratton, last year's chairman of Fire and Police committee and new chairman of Public Works, said the police department had a staff of seventeen and cost in operation last year, $92,789. Fines and parking meter fees brought in $34,114 but showed a loss of approximately $1,900 on meters this past year.

Money was now being saved on cruiser car operation, by purchasing two cars a year, which meant half the mileage of previous years and a normal depreciation on renewal. They would also get gasoline from one supplier, this year and save from $600 to $800 annually.

Fire Department losses had been exceptionally low until the end of September, the lowest per capita since 1927, the total being $3,600, but a bad fire at the Dalmore had added $38,299 to fire losses for the year. The staff numbered 14 and operation costs were $78,785.00.

In Public Works they would complete the new Norman bridge shortly and the new pumping station for the northeast section of town. The town had purchased the Lakeside property from the Department of Highways and were now re-juvenating the buildings and would transfer all departments to this new location. Shops would be concentrated making for more efficient operation. The town had now 21.08 miles of paved highways.

Alderman Larry Johnson said he was looking forward with anticipation to his experience as Alderman and Chairman of Public Welfare, and in presenting the report of that department for the past year said that costs were growing every year. Since 1958, however the Government was paying 80% of relief costs which would help considerably. Not since the 30's had relief costs been so high and relief figures had increased steadily in November and December.

Alderman Jim Armstrong, new chairman of Parks and Cemeteries said he was warned that he would experience many headaches, but six years previous municipal council experience had equipped him in this regard. Next year he hoped to be able to report fully on his department.

Rotarian A. S. Olson thanked the Mayor and Council members for their able presentation of town affairs.

Canadians Foil Close-Checking Strategy

Even when the great Bellevue is checked as closely as he is here, goalie Johnny Bowers looks worried. Ex-Canadian Bert Olmstead is the Leaf who is jolting Bellevue. Despite Maple Leafs' close checking and clinging efforts, Montreal blanked the visiting Torontonians, 3-0 with Jacques Plante collecting his sixth shut-out of the season. Maurice Richard, who fired the 525th goal of his career, and defenceman Bob Turner, who scored one and was a bulwark on defence, shared the hero's role.

Bright Future Forecast For Red Lake Area

"Watch Red Lake in 1959," is the advice of the January edition of The Prospector, official publication of the Northwestern Ontario Prospectors' Association at 17 South Cumberland street, Port Arthur.

There's been new life and action during the past season in the old Red Lake stamping grounds. There is more on immediate horizons.

Many new claims were staked in townships throughout the area. New depth developments in already producing mines revealed better grades and enlarged ore resources.

Some authorities now believe depth is the key to deposits of big-time calibre. In part this theory has been proven. Pursuit of it has already brought a new lease on life of the McKenzie Red Lake and Madsen mines.

There are current reports that the old Starritt-Olson mine now closed down will reopen shortly on the basis of a new depth-drilling program.

Other Active Scenes
 Bulk sampling is now in progress at the Luno Echo gold properties in Fort Frances area. They experienced encouraging results before the new year and work is expected to continue during the winter.

Local prospectors are presently at work on a Sibley Peninsula claim.

A new year drilling program scheduled to start on MacLeod Ken Addison properties at Longlac is believed to be in progress now.

The annual meeting of the Northwestern Ontario Prospectors' Association will be held at 2 p.m., January 16 in the Blue Room of the Mariaggi hotel, Port Arthur.

New Indian School For Fort Frances

Bill Benidickson MP for the Kenora Rainy River constituency, advises that he has received information from the Hon. Ellen Fairclough Minister of Citizenship and Immigration, the federal department which deals with Indian Affairs stating that funds will be provided in the 1959-60 estimates to construct a new Indian Residential School at Fort Frances and that plans are now being prepared.

For some years Mr. Benidickson has been urging the replacement of the fifty year old school. Full replacement rather than repairs or temporary renovations has been under consideration and it was stressed to the Minister the value of such work as a measure to mitigate unemployment through the area, during the present winter.

It had been hoped that funds would have been provided in the 1958-59 estimates. The Minister's letter seems to indicate that as soon as funds are voted in the estimates, the project will be started.

CITY PLANS MEAN TRICK ON PIGEONS

ST. LOUIS — Dr. J. Earl Smith, city health commissioner, plans to attack the pigeon problem here by getting the birds drunk. St. Louis, like most big cities, has thousands of pigeons that leave a nuisance of their presence on buildings, sidewalks and occasionally the citizens.

Dr. Smith plans to put out grain and bread soaked in alcohol or drugs, and when the birds pass out from the effects, health crews will pick them up and dispose of them in the city 466 pound's gas chamber.

LET'S TALK CARS

STOP ME IF YOU'VE HEARD THIS ONE . . .

The easiest way to tell a car story is to trap a mechanic in a grease pit, stand over him and shout. He just can't escape. The advantage of being a reader is that you can leave anytime.

But here are a few that I've forced our people to snicker at. There was the man in Vancouver, Canada, who told the judge he wasn't guilty of failing to have his new license plates on his car by the deadline. "The plates were on my car," he said, "right on the front seat." "Best excuse I've heard in a long time," said the judge after the prosecutor had talked himself out explaining the difference between "in" and "on." Gave him a suspended sentence.

The law, just the same, was able to trip up another man. In a small town, a man set out to prove a bet that there was no law against driving in the nude - and was arrested for not having his driver's license on his person.

Things went easier for a woman in Tyler, Texas, who was asked by the judge to explain why she had overparked in front of a dress shop. "Trying on a girdle and was unavoidably detained," she explained. I don't know how she was, but her sentence was suspended.

Like the woman in the girdle, once you buy a car you're going to be in it for some time. That's why it's good sense and good business to pick out a car that fits - that fits your needs and fits your pocketbook. We have such a large display of quality cars at our lot, we're pretty sure we can find one just right for you.

MUTUAL CONFIDENCE
 Addressing some 200 members of the Quarter Century Club, who completely filled the main diningroom of the Kenricia Hotel, Mr. Faegre told the veterans that these are times when experience and abilities count most. He told them he had every confidence in them, both individually and as a Mando team. In return, he promised that "I will do everything reasonable to earn your confidence in return."
 In closing, the president had special words of praise for three members of the Quarter Century Club; Mr. E. E. Crandall, Mr. Fred McKellar and Mr. George Potts. Each had risen from the ranks to assume important posts with Mando, and had merited recognition for their work.

RINGS PRESENTED
 For the 20 new members of the Quarter Century Club, last night's banquet was most remarkable. The chairman, Kenora manager E. E. Crandall had a word for each, as he presented the rings, recalling briefly the history of each recipient with the Company. President Faegre and Canadian general manager Fred McKellar too, had a handshake and a word for each member as he came forward.

THANKS COMPANY
 On behalf of the 1958 group of new members, Mr. Jack Roberts voiced the appreciation to the Company for the highly prized recognition accorded. Coming to Kenora as a complete stranger in 1933, he found in Mando friends who offered every assistance to a beginner. "I shall be forever thankful to them," he stated.

 Mr. Crandall presented an impressive record of company service. There are now 1,278 men and women with 25 or more years with Mando, out of a total of just under 5,000 employees. Mr. John Minor, Kenora's oldest oldtimer, 83 years young, sat at the head table, one of six fathers who have sons working for Mando in Kenora. There are a total of 92 sons or daughters of Mando veterans working with the Company, said the chairman.

Fred McKellar, who became a Club member 2 years ago. Looking around the large room, Mr. McKellar said that he "owed much to so many who had taught him many of the various phases of the paper industry. His tribute was warmly received."

FIRST FIRE, THEN FLOOD, NOW MUD

Sitting on the stairway of her home near Los Angeles, Mrs. Cecil Whitman watches her son Kip, 12, try out their grand piano to see if it can still be played. Covering the floor to a depth of feet is a layer of mud deposited in the livingroom by a flood caused by a torrential downpour which also inundated streets in this city. The Whitman home is located in the Benedict Canyon area where two weeks ago a fire burned many houses and scorched hundreds of acres of ground.

Many Seek Halt To Liquor

be an unlimited evil to the community adding to the moral decline of our town, the additional spending of taxpayers money for the referendum was unjustifiable.

Rev. Leighton in presenting his views said that it was his belief and that of the delegation with him that the addition of further outlets for the sale of alcoholic beverages was unnecessary and a detriment to the moral and spiritual status of the town. Tourists have always enjoyed themselves in our happy town he said. The tourists are mostly the family type and from those who attend my church in the summer. I know they would not want this type of outlet. I consider the request unnecessary and more outlets would be a disadvantage not an advantage to our town". Rev. Leighton concluded.

Rev. J. N. Vance said that it had never been proved that any community was better because of liquor . . . Cocktail lounges will only glamorize drinking for our young people.

Rev. Marnock stated that we are aware of the need for example on the part of our young people and of the hosts of others who frequent our town, we do not need any more outlets.

The sentiments of the ministers were echoed by those representing the Salvation Army.

Replying to the delegations, C. T. Sewell, senior alderman, assured the group that nothing would be done until 25 percent of the people wanted the referendum. "If people demand it, we must follow through."

my opinion cocktail bars are less injurious than other forms and I will vote for it."

Alderman Johnson stated that he personally would take the same stand as Alderman Sewell . . . "I don't like being told what I can do or can't do, he said, this is a free country . . . Manitoba studied the question for two years as to the best way to handle the liquor question and in their wisdom moved forward to give the people what they wanted when and how they wanted it, along with proper control . . . I believe that establishments granted licences are upgraded by the addition and it is time to move ahead . . . I am for it and the cost of preparing the question would be more than recovered over the course of the year."

In referring the whole matter to council as a whole for study along with the Chamber of Commerce's request for the referendum, Mayor Ratuski assured the delegations that nothing would be done without thorough investigation. He also informed the group that when and if a voters list is prepared the Ministerial Association could study and check it at will. "We won't hide anything," he concluded.

MIXED METAPHORS

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)
Over the years speakers have produced quite a variety of mixed metaphors.

Recently at a conference of meat traders in Britain a worried delegate said: "I believe we are hiding our heads in the sand and looking around for a scape-goat."

But members of Parliament need not take a back seat when it comes to mincing and minding metaphors. The late Humphrey Mitchell, former minister of labor, rolled up a high score in that department. One of his best: "When it comes to digging down and working out a solution, he can carry the ball faster than anyone I know."

Then there is the member in the British House of Commons who was reported the other day as saying that the trickle of colored immigration into Britain had grown like a mushroom.

But for the grand generous style says the Manchester Guardian, there have been few to equal the member of Parliament who warned: "The new minister will have to have courage and a double edged scythe to cut down and winnow away the army of barnacles that have got into the establishment."

Third Time Hurts

PARIS — Frenchmen with two previous convictions for drunkenness found guilty a third time within a year of the last conviction will be liable to six months' imprisonment and a heavy fine starting April 1.

CLEAR SPEECH WINS RELEASE FOR SUSPECT

LOS ANGELES — Lawyer Herman Cosby, 33, said "life insurance" without a falter and walked out of Superior Court a free man.

Cosby was picked up by police after a drive-in cafe was robbed by a bandit who stutteringly told his victim:

"I h-hope your l-l-life insurance is in order."

The victim, who was unharmed, said Cosby resembled the gunman. In court Cosby took the stand in his own defence — and repeated the bandit's line without a stutter. Friends testified Cosby had never had a speech impediment.

BARE FACTS

Los Angeles — Bare facts won a divorce for 40-year-old Mrs.

Nadine Morris. She testified her husband, Mitchell Morris, 45, wanted her to become a nudist, and that his fellow nudists walked around "like Adam and Eve" when they came to dinner. "I didn't like that sort of thing," she said.

Mrs. H. Turcofte, winner of the Penner Motors monthly draw for a chest of silver is shown as Mr. George Kehler, manager for the company at Kenora, makes the presentation.

Winnipeg — Pointing out the routes of some of their European travels to their son, RCAF Corporal George Noseworthy (right), are Warrant Officer and Mrs. Stan Noseworthy of Kenora. When the elder Noseworthy returned from three years of air force duty in France, they were delighted to learn that son George, formerly stationed at Centralia, Ont., had been posted for duty at the same station as his father. Both airmen now serve at 14 Training Group Headquarters, Winnipeg. Warrant Officer Noseworthy is the son of Mrs. May Noseworthy, 630 1st St. South, Kenora.

A Letter To 10,000 Drivers

Please accept my sympathy and regrets. A trying time lies ahead. You are going to be angry. You are going to feel both insulted and victimized.

You will probably be hopping mad. That will be your privilege. It will also be one of your remaining methods of getting about . . . hopping. Because you are not going to be able to drive a car.

You are one of the 10,000 drivers in Ontario who, according to the estimate of the Department of Transport, are expected to have

IRON EAR

Caulking the seams of a 60-foot parabolic antenna at North River station, on the western coast of Alaska, a maintenance crew stands on a wind-buffed scaffold. The antenna is one of many giant "iron ears" in the White Alice communications system which stretches across 3,100 miles of Alaska. One of the "iron ears" is at Tin City, Alaska, only 30 miles from Russia.

You are you will understand that you one of the people who are not have been kept off the roads as a willing, or not able to conform protection, not as a penalty. The to what the Province considers a application of the Points System minimum standard of safe be may hurt you personally, but haviour at the wheel of a car. it may save a life. Because of it there is a little less likelihood that you will be either victim or executioner in a senseless sacrifice on Ontario roads.

As an individual who thoroughly enjoys the pleasure and convenience of motoring, I can appreciate the severity of your self-inflicted handicap. But as an executive of the Ontario Safety League I must express our deep satisfaction that you are to get such a powerful demonstration of the all-round benefits of keeping your driving performance within the law, and within the bounds of common sense.

It is going to sting in many ways when you have to spend three months in the passenger seat. I can only hope you derive some compensations. Such as an appreciation of some of the good points about public transport, and a realization that there is no actual hardship in having to walk half a mile occasionally.

We hope that when you are welcomed back again as a driver, after a three months' rest, you will not feel bitter and that you

VOLUNTEERS FOR SOVIET SPACE TRIP

COPENHAGEN—A lonely and bitter carpenter, brooding over a broken marriage, says he has applied for a seat on the first manned Soviet space rocket because life on earth has no promise for him.

"Why not try in space?" Boerge L. Jensen, 45, asked.

Jensen said he sent his application to Moscow a year ago. A reply he said was signed by Premier Khrushchev acknowledged the application but said Soviet citizens would have priority.

"I asked for 200,000 kroner (about $70,000) to make the trip into space," Jensen added.

QUEEN'S BARGE TO FIND HOME IN CANADIAN MUSEUM

Travelling to Canada, but not under its own power, is this 33-foot-long ceremonial barge once used by Queen Victoria. Given to Queen Victoria by the British admiralty, the ornate boat is being shipped from London to the Maritime Museum of Canada at Halifax, N.S. A special packing case 35 feet long and nine feet high was made in Portsmouth dockyard to protect the delicately carved hull and the royal coat of arms on the boat's transom.

St. Alban's Church:

E. L. Carter, acting vestry clerk for the church, wrote council asking that consideration be given to the possibility of the opening of a lane connecting Main Street South and Water Street in the area directly South of the Church property, and pointing out the advantages to the Church if such a link was provided, and requesting the erection and enforcement of "No Parking" signs at Water Street in front of the Church property. This was referred to council as a whole and the Fire and Police committee respectively. W. H. Marr wrote informing council that his company was willing to sell to the town a 20 foot strip of property bordering the Anglican Church property and running from Main Street to Water Street at a price of $20,000. His letter also asked for the sale by the town to him of property in Lakeside for which he offered $3,000. Referred to council for consideration.
