COLORING CONTEST WINNERS

The following are the winners of the second Easter Coloring Contest.

FIRST PRIZE - 1 Pair Shoes, Slippers or Rubbers - value to $5.00 from Bill's Shoe Box won by 10-year old Kerry Cunningham, Box 460, Fincrest. Kerry enclosed a sales slip from Acme-Kenora Cleaners.

SECOND PRIZE - Two Books of Paramount Theatre Tickets won by 9 year old Phyllis Prouty, 1014 9th Street N. Her sales slip was from Acme-Kenora Cleaners.

THIRD PRIZE - One Book of Paramount Theatre Tickets won by 7 year old Florrie Carlson, 1122 Valley Drive. Florrie enclosed a sales slip from Lakewood Studio.

The picture to be colored for the third week's contest will be published Saturday in the Kenora Miner and News. Boys and girls aged five to twelve are eligible to enter, but each entry must be accompanied by a sales slip from one of the participating merchants.

MAYOR OF KEEWATIN

PRESENTS BRIEF TO PREMIER AND CABINET

Mayor Walter Hodkinson of Keewatin, president of the Northwestern Ontario Municipal Association, together with Milton J. Vibert, Reeve of Paipooze Township and first vice-president of the association, are in Toronto where they are presenting a brief to the Honorable Leslie Frost Prime Minister of Ontario and members of his cabinet.

Resolutions being presented concern problems of the Northwestern section of the province and have been prepared with infinite care for the general welfare of the "province" within a province.

Of prime importance is the resolution dealing with the Trans Canada Highway in this part of Ontario. The delegation will ask that the federal and provincial governments increase the number of contracts let each year to expediate completion of the highway at the earliest possible date, pointing out that at the present rate of construction it will take many years to bring the highway up to reasonable standards. The delegation will also point out that due to the sub-standard condition of the highway, the amount of traffic taking the south route through the U.S.A. causes a considerable loss of revenue both to the province as well as to the residents of this area.

Also brought to the attention of the cabinet is that with the opening of the St. Lawrence seaway and with the increase in truck transport business, the proposed port facilities at the Lakehead and the weak link in the transport chain, the economy of Northwestern Ontario and the provinces of the Canadian west are injured. Since highways radiating from United States ports on Lake Superior to Western Ontario are superior to our single Trans-Canada Highway, it is imperative that the government recognize the necessity of swift completion to top standard of the highway between the Lakehead and Manitoba.

Also to be presented are resolutions dealing with (1) Since there are many level crossings throughout the country that have no signal lights or warning signals, railway companies be required to begin immediately the work of marking all freight cars with some type of luminous or reflective material.

(2) that the CBC be asked to construct satellite stations to provide television service for the entire Northwestern Ontario area.

3. The Department of Lands and Forests be urged to increase the fee for non-resident fishing licences, except to Canadians from other provinces.

4. The Attorney-General be requested to increase the rate of pay for jurors, to $10.00 per day.

5. That the Department of Education provide sets of basic plans for construction of schools to alleviate the high cost of architects' fees, and that legislative grants be provided for the construction of basements and basement play rooms in Northwestern Ontario schools.

Other resolutions pertaining to the Highway Traffic Act, amendments to the Assessment Act, the Department of Health, the access road to Quetico Training Centre and the Child Welfare Act will also be presented for consideration.

The Case Of The Missing Shoes

One of the Supervisors of the Department of Lands and Forests is claiming to be "The Last Angry Man." It seems that on a visit to Dryden recently the weather was very cold so he drove with bedroom slippers inside his overshoes. However, in order to look respectable around the Dryden office, he took along his ordinary shoes. For the return trip he changed back to slippers, but last minute business delayed departure and when it finally came time to leave the street shoes could not be found anywhere.

On the trip back to Kenora he noticed that all who passed him slowed down and looked back, with what he took to be a helpful smile on their faces. He stopped a couple of times himself to examine his headlights and tires and so on and finally decided that the travelling public was becoming happier and more cheerful. It was not till the next day that he discovered his shoes wired to the back of the truck.

Now he is momentarily expecting a visit from the Police to investigate reports of the missing "bride" and as the mother of his children is still well in evidence he is also wondering if a charge of bigamy may not be thrown in for good measure. He claims the Police will have a real case if he can discover who it was who played this dastardly trick, although he maintains that the charge will have to be reduced to one of justifiable homicide.

A Visit To The "Hitch-Hatch"

Recently one of the members of the Department of Lands and Forests told the two very junior members of his family that they could go to the fish hatchery to see the little fish. Great excitement reigned and the young lad immediately dubbed his destination as the "Hitch-Hatch." He was overjoyed at arriving to see the fish eggs, many of which had already hatched and were wriggling in the trap and tanks. The wee lass seemed more impressed by the huge "bath tubs" that had no taps - actually large tanks used for emergency storage of young fish that have hatched and grown more quickly than they could be delivered to the field.

It was very interesting to learn from Mr. Turner the Manager, how at just the right season parent fish are caught by net in lakes and streams and the spawn collected by "stripping" the female. The eggs are fertilized by collecting them in a shallow tray containing a solution of water and milk which is stripped from the male parent. After collecting the spawn the parent stock is returned to the lake or river. Females are seldom completely stripped for fear of damaging their organs, unless they are to be killed and sold. With amazement we learned that one quart will hold about 150,000 pickered eggs; 45,000 whitefish eggs, 7,000 lake trout and 12 - 14,000 speckled trout eggs. In the hatching jar

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY APPOINTS COMMITTEES

It was noted that dead eggs rise to the surface where they can be siphoned off to prevent contamination. The intricate water system whereby lake water was pumped through hatching troughs and hatching jars and then funnelled off again, presented quite a maze of piping to the amateur.

It was interesting to note how lake trout "fry" are much larger and more active immediately after hatching than are the speckled trout. However, once the egg sac is consumed by the young fish and regular feeding commences the "speckled" becomes the livelier of the 2 species. Beef liver ground fine as pepper in the feed. One of the mysteries was why it should take 22 or 23 weeks for trout eggs to incubate while pickerel take only 15 to 21 days

Re-Thinking Our Outlook On Education

W. J. WINDEBANK
Manager, Industrial Relations Ontario-Minnesota Pulp and Paper Company Limited

Ed Note: - Mr. Windebank's article is a most welcome addition to Kenora's Education Week Observance. Education week offers us an opportunity, in a world of almost terrifying changes, to re-examine some of our ideas about learning and teaching in order to see whether they have taken into account the changes in our physical and intellectual environment.

Education might be said to be the opposite of sin, in the sense that everyone is "in favor of it". Indeed, one of our failings in North America has been to leave very little unsaid about education and a tremendous amount undone. We talk about having made education "universal" - like the vote, available to every citizen - but if we are to meet the challenge of the next few years (and it is by no means certain that we will meet it) we may have to alter some of our ways of thinking about education.

In this article "For the sake of argument", I want to suggest some questions on which responsible adults might do some profound thinking.

Question 1: When should a person's education end?

I think it is fair to say that people in our part of the world tend to look on education as something that begins with kindergarten and ends with high school or college. In a world that can be encircled in few hours, a world in which man's ability to live at peace with his neighbor is

At a Board of Directors meeting of the Kenora Agricultural Society, held Tuesday evening, committees were set up for the 28th Annual Exhibition and Flower Show to be held August 20, 21 and 22nd.

President Joseph Garrow noted that a perfect attendance was presented for this meeting. In announcing the dates for the 1959 exhibition, the president stated that this will mark the third fair to be held at the Rabbit Lake location. It was reported that last year's fair had been very well attended.

The following committees were set up:

100 Marathon Men Back On Jobs

Port Arthur, Ont.—The Marathon Corporation of Canada Ltd. said Monday more than 100 timber workers have returned to their jobs in the Caramat-Stevens area of northwestern Ontario and one bush camp is in full operation.

The company closed its six camps in the area after 450 workers walked off the job Jan. 5. They were protesting the fact that the company had not signed a work agreement with their union, Local 2693, Lumber and Sawmill Workers (CLC).

The company later invited workers to return. A company official said Monday most of the married workers had returned. P. V. Lemay, woods manager, said the firm has heard nothing from the union about getting the other men back to work. He said

In Jail 36 Years, Released To Die

En route from America to Rome, Guido Grassi, 78, stops at London airport. Grassi, an exiled Italian convict pardoned in the U.S.A., was flying home to see his sons before he dies. He spent nearly half his life in jail. In 1910 he came to America to seek his fortune. He found misfortune instead. In 1923, after allegedly going berserk in a hotel in Aberdeen, Wash., he shot and killed two men and stabbed a third to death. He was found insane and was sentenced to life imprisonment. Earlier this month, Gov. Albert D. Rosellini granted the aged man a pardon. He will spend his last days with his family in Lucca province, in Italy.

police protection would be given to returning workers if needed. Ontario Provincial Police reinforcements moved into the area last week after pickets clashed with workers returning to the camps.

Sees Trouble In Paper Industry

Ottawa—Douglas Fisher (CCF—Fort Arthur) said in the Commons Wednesday that Canada's pulp and paper industry is in serious trouble and that the government should take a "close hard look" at the situation.

In Northwestern Ontario, costs of producing pulpwood were among the highest in the world. "Every time freight rates go up they are in more difficulty and their competitive position is weakened," said Mr. Fisher.

Russian competition was a potential menace. Two pulp and paper mills—"genuins giants" with a capacity of 1,000 tons a day—were being built.

"What will happen to the industry in Canada if Russia should decide in future to drop a few hundred tons on the work market?"

Mainville Has Scored Fourteen Play-Off Goals . . .

The Kenora Thistles now realize that the Fort Frances Canadians will not be an easy play-off opponent to push over . . . In fact, the Thistles high command is looking for a better performance from the reds and whites this evening in the border town . . . This corner feels that the Thistles had one of those "bad ones" on Tuesday evening and it is doubtful if they will ever again play the first two periods in such sluggish fashion as they did two nights back . . . The series is a best-of-seven affair and the local club still have time to rally around the winning flag . . . The Fort Frances Canadians will be extremely hard to defeat this evening on their home ice; especially when the play-offs are at stake . . . The border town bandits have an excellent line-up . . . Harry Barefoot, Mike Pearson, Sambo Fedoruk, George Melynychuk, and the rest of the club are not only impressive on paper but look good out on the ice . . . Frankie Leroux's knee injury was a sad blow to the Thistles at this time of the season . . . We have been fortunate, however, that Frankie played as many games as he did . . . Leroux will soon have an operation on his knee and will not be back for the rest of the season . . . It should be quite an evening for the boys in the Port.

A juvenile hockey player who was in Butch Courchenne's shadow for two seasons is beginning to amaze the hockey critics . . . Vern Mainville, a tall, rugged and graceful player, has been the main key that turned the league championship look for this season's Lake of the Woods Indians . . . Mainville not only led the Juvenile League in scoring this season but he has already scored fourteen goals in the play-offs . . . He has only played in four semi-final and final games . . . It is also worthy to note that he assisted on four goals in his last game against the Legion Junies . . . Some of the current Juvenile players have told this reporter that Mainville is perhaps even better than his old counterpart, Mel Courchenne . . . We don't take sides in this argument, but we must admit that Mainville is the top Juvenile player around this season . . . With the Lake of the Wooders leading their best-of-five final series with Legion by two firm games, the last game could be tonight's which takes place at the Thistle this evening . . . If you want to see Tony Leonard's boys in action we advise that you take this evening's contest . . . Steve Levand, Don Morrison, Don Morceau, Matthew Beaver, Larry Johnson, Gary Owen and Gary Beyko are some of the fellows to watch for.

It's been confirmed that the Thistle budget is not in a healthy state of affairs as we reported earlier, (OFF THE CUFF Friday, Feb. 27th) . . . That's one of the reasons why they are selling tickets on a "win yourself a trip to Jamaica" raffle . . . The Thistle Hockey Club is no small business . . . Here are a few facts to illustrate this . . . Last season the Thistles paid the referees $610 . . . Over $1,500 on equipment, sticks, skates, etc. $1,700 on meals and hotel expenses . . . $6,500 on remunerations and accident time loss . . . $3,500 on guarantees to visiting clubs, and many, many more expenses . . . In short the Thistle hockey executive is running at present a twenty-five thousand dollar business!!! . . . We know that the executive is trying to bring the best hockey possible to Kenora in the present state of affairs and we think that you should keep on giving them all your support.

Two plugs . . . Rideout Athletic Society plan on holding a dance shortly . . . Understand that the Rideout people intend on building a new club house . . . Men's Bowling League are presently selling some raffle tickets on some valuable prizes. CUFF PERISCOPE . . . Thistles to defeat the Fort Frances Canadians in full games . . . Dryden Eagles to win the senior division of the Northwestern Ontario High School Basketball League, and the Red Lake Cubs to win Junior division . . . High School effort by the Boys' and Field to its proper place in local sport . . . Mervin Dubchuk to score the largest number of goals for the Thistles in the play-offs, with Ray Westlund a very close second.

CUFF QUOTE OF THE WEEK
 . . . Larry Johnson Jr. on the Lake of the Woods Indians . . . "If they get by us, (Legion Junies) they will go all the way to win the Chapple Cup for the second straight year."
 Try and take in the Minor League hockey finals.

and whitefish about 160 days. This depends largely on the temperature of the water.

The youngsters wanted to know why Mr. Turner kept a "roof over the fishes" - actually they were long shelves sheltering the rearing troughs from light. If this is not done, the "fry" will all cluster at the darker end of the trough away from the windows and smother themselves on the screens at the other end.

Mr. Turner, Manager of the Hatchery, is a born story teller and has been in the business of rearing fish for 47 years. Those years have been filled with hard work and many varied experiences that have combined to make him one of the most capable Hatchery Managers in the Department. If you and your children want to spend a very interesting and informative hour or two take a run down to the "Hitch-Hatch" and learn the story of fish first-hand - right from the egg to the frying pan.

Re-Thinking Our

dwarfed by his power to destroy; there must be sufficient reason for doubting that the average person can afford to be content with learning the three R's, catching the merest glimpse of the natural sciences, and getting a smattering of the humanities. Yet it is comparatively rare for adults to continue with their studies once they have "graduated" from their institution of formal learning, whether elementary school, high school or college.

Not long ago I heard a young woman say "No sir, I wouldn't go back to school for anyone", in response to an offer to attend a one-week course while her mother looked after the young children. The significant part of the remark was the phrase "Back To School", since it indicated that learning was all over with and to resume it would be a backward step. Most of us feel the same way, perhaps unconsciously. Our characters go on maturing, our brains continue to store up unrelated facts and experiences, yet we seem content to let our intellects lie permanently fallow - to be satisfied to read newspapers, watch television and leave to the experts the job of trying to understand the complex world we live in.

It is quite true that rapidity of discoveries and change in our world bewilders us and makes us feel that we can never hope to understand what is going on about us. But the success of democracy depends on the average person having informed and intelligent opinions. How can this happen if "education" continues to be limited to children and adoles-

Question 2: Whose job is education?

Although a few mothers and occasional fathers are to be found at Home and School and Parent-Teacher meetings, we tend to think of education as the responsibility solely of education departments, school boards, and teachers. We seem to expect "them" to turn Johnny into a nuclear scientist or a historian with very little help from outside influences. In view of how much all of us, and our children and grandchildren, will have to depend on the scientific and political achievements of our people in the next few years, surely all elements in society have a share in the responsibility for education. In the last few years industry has accepted an increasing share of this responsibility. Foundations for the support of education have been established by industrialists. Arrangements have been made between industries and colleges whereby undergraduate students can serve in industry on a sort of "intern" basis and thus acquire practical experiences along with their studies. Some companies, under certain circumstances, have allowed employees leaves of absence to go on with their schooling, with some financial assistance. Industrial firms have assisted their employees in Home-Study courses. Industry has given some support to the Adult Education movement. I suggest that this trend might go considerably further with the support of unions, governments, Chambers of Commerce, churches, and all of the responsible elements in our society. Our chief concern should be to develop the intellectual resources of our people. We should be searching much more actively for ways in which to avoid the tremendous losses that occur when able and intelligent people give in to apathy and cease to learn.

What is needed now?
Any thinking done about these two questions must lead to some fairly obvious conclusions about the need for action. Writing as a private citizen, some things that seem to me to be needed are:

1. More chances to continue education
- (a) for youths who have left school before graduation,
- (b) for housewives whose families are grown up or who are otherwise able to attend courses,
- (c) for workers in business and industry to whom the five-day week has brought free time,
- (d) for older people who are retired or part time.
2. More teachers who are skilled at creating an appetite for knowledge.
3. More interest by governments, associations, corporations, and various types of citizens groups.

We need more will to learn, more stimulation of people's hunger for knowledge and more courses that would provide opportunities for people to continue their learning after the formal schooling stage. We should be able to offer employment (perhaps government - subsidized employment combined with on-the-job instruction) for youths who have demonstrated that they are unfitted to continue through the higher grades. We need to find out more and do more about recruiting teachers who really want to teach, and have the necessary aptitudes and temperament. (Perhaps we should do more about offering alternative employment for people who have discovered, after landing in the teaching profession, that it does not suit them emotionally.) Our life-long attitudes toward learning seem to be established in the early years of our schooling. How often a love of learning is kindled or quenched for life by the right or wrong sort of teacher! We need the same sort of enthusiasm for life-long learning that manufacturers put into producing and selling better products, that unions put into welfare and security demands, and that all of us put into improving our material welfare.

We need to change our concepts of education from what they are now, so that we will see it as a life-long process and a responsibility of all citizens and groups in our society.

Winnipeg Police Retain Curling Trophy Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon at the Kenora Curling Club, members of the various Police Associations of Winnipeg retained the Association Trophy in the second section of the annual Winnipeg and Kenora District Police Association Bouspiel.

Play for this trophy is divided into two sections and is based on a total point system. In February six rinks from the Kenora District curled in Winnipeg losing out with a 47 point deficit.

Wednesday's play saw district personnel gain 19-points at the end of the first draw and only eight points at the end of the second and final draw. Kenora District rinks were skipped by Chief J. Pike, W. Engstrom, Larry Johnson, C. G. Robertson, OPP Ear Falls, Q. D. McKay, CPP Dryden and M. Stewart, CPP, Kenora.

Inspector J. Green of the Winnipeg City Police led the out of town curlers, with officers of the Winnipeg Police Force, CNR, R.C.M.P., St. Vital and St. Boniface forces.

Following the draws an enjoyable banquet was held at the Kenwood Hotel. Eugene Degagne of the Keewatin Police and president of the Kenora District Association chaired the banquet.

Kenora Judo Club Accepting Members

The Kenora Judo-Kai are now accepting membership in Junior and Senior groups; Enrol at the Club House beside Lakeside Community Rink.

9 to 14 years enrollment date Tuesday March 10th, 1959 from 7 to 8 p.m. under instruction of Mark Matsuno, 4th Kyu.

14 to 16 years enrollment date Thursday March 12th, 1959 from 7 to 8 p.m. under the instruction of Gary Sutherland, 3rd Kyu, George Oshiro, 4th Kyu, 16 years and over, enrollment date Friday March 6th and 13th, 1959 from 7.30 p.m. to 8.30 p.m. instructed by Julius Grosy, 2nd Kyu.

Parents may attend with children if desired. If you have a Criminal Record please do not apply as the Canadian Black Belt Association will not except your membership.

This is a healthy sport and prepares children for adult life. There are less chances for injuries in Judo than other sports and after several months you will be surprised at the changes of attitude.

Judo is the art of using all parts of the body to promote general well being, and might be considered as a basic culture of the body. It creates a sense of rhythm of movement and co-ordination of the mind and body as no other sport can do. Soon after commencing Judo practice, the novice often becomes aware of an improvement in his own occupation or sport, due to a sharpening of his senses.

DARTS

Kenora Legion once again took the lead in the Bynski competition with Keewatin being a close second and the Sergeants' receiving nourishment from the rear receptacle. Top scorer was E. Barnard of Keewatin with 126.

League Standings:
 Kenora - 132
 Keewatin - 129
 Sgt's - 117.

Fourteenth Annual Ski Meet Slated For This Weekend

This Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8, the Fourteenth Annual Ski Meet will be held at the Kenora Ski Club. An estimated fifty skiers from Winnipeg, Dryden and Kenora will take part in the meet. The hills are hard packed and they will make for some fast and dangerous skiing. The Junior and Senior Downhill should provide plenty of spectacular falls for the spectators to see, as the run is practically nothing but a winding ice path through rock cuts and brush. Come out and see these skiers do their stuff. Refreshments and lunch will be on hand at the ski lodge. Events will take place as follows:

Saturday:
 11 a.m., Juvenile Boys - Downhill and Slalom.
 Juvenile Girls - Downhill and Slalom.
 1 p.m., Senior Ladies - Downhill.

1.30 p.m., Senior Ladies - Slalom
 2 p.m. T. Eaton Team Slalom, (4 men, to a team). (First three teams to compete for 2nd run).
Sunday:
 11 a.m., Junior Boys Slalom.
 1 p.m., Johnny Hansen Memorial Open Slalom. (First 10 men to compete for 2nd run).
 3.30, Junior and Senior Men's Downhill.

Prizes to be presented for each event.
 The Kenora Ski Club is located opposite the Skyline Store on the Airport Road.

The Canadian Red Cross Society has been serving Canada and the world since 1909.

The 100th anniversary of the birth of the Red Cross idea will be commemorated in 1959.

Mercs Win First Game of Shore Finals With a Slim 2-1 Victory Over Nipigon

Opening the best four of seven series in the finals of the North Shore League, Marathon Mercurys eked a 2 - 1 victory in overtime against the Nipigon Flyers here Tuesday night.

Nipigon ended up in 4th spot of the league play but with their display of determination and checking they are far from being excluded as champions when the series ends. Mercurys favorites in their own right kept the Flyers hemmed in their own area for the greater part of the first period but were unable to clear themselves for effective damage at the Flyers net. Lanteigne sinking the only Marathon counter of regulation time at 13.33.

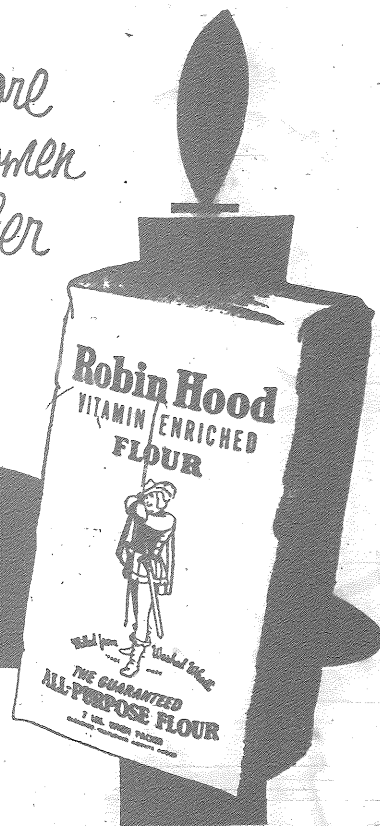

Flyers shook themselves loose at the latter part of the first and continued their offensive through the second and third periods despite being handicapped by the loss of Legace who was taken from the game because of a recurrence of his elbow injury.

Flyers gambled by withdrawing Ruth from the net and paid off when Dahl drove their only and tying goal past Deluca a split second before the final buzzer. Fandemonium broke loose with Nipigon cheering and Marathon protesting the goal both on and off the ice as the Marathon players not on the ice trying to climb out of the players box into the crowd.

Lanteigne again came through in overtime for the tie breaker at 4:04 Flyers again pulled their third period strategy but were held off and almost had it back fire with LeBlanc on a break hitting the goal post of the open net.

Mando Timber Producer Is Also Successful Sawmill Operator

A PROMINENT SUPPLIER of timber products for Mando's International Falls operations is also the co-owner of one of the largest and most successful sawmills in the state. Carl J. Dahlberg of Effie, veteran logger, is associated with Roy Johnston in the Keewatin Sawmill Company. Their modern mill is located on the outskirts of Keewatin on the west end of the Mesabi range.

Carl Dahlberg started selling pulpwood to Mando in 1926 and since 1933 has been a logging contractor for the company. With his son, Waldo, as a partner in the logging field, he produces substantial quantities of wood for the Falls mill, and the Keewatin sawmill provides a ready market for the logs harvested in connection with their pulpwood operations. The sawmill firm also buys logs from other producers and woodlot farmers.

Efficient operations and first class service to customers are the big factors in the success of the Keewatin industry.

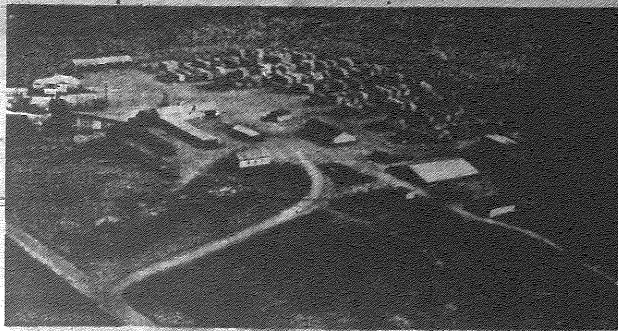

The Dahlberg-Johnston team has been producing and marketing high quality, old-growth northern Minnesota white pine lumber since 1947—the year they took over the former Manners sawmill. To combat high costs, they completely modernized the plant in 1952 and installed an efficient electric band saw to replace a steam-powered unit. Efficiency was then, and is now, the by-word of these partners in converting northern Minnesota timber into high quality products for lumber markets of the midwest.

With convenient access to both rail and truck shipping services, the Keewatin mill has enjoyed increasing demand for products which include northern white pine lumber, paneling, sheathing, siding and dimension lumber.

The Dahlbergs, father and son, employ up to 75 men in their logging operations on lands belonging to Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company and the federal and state governments. Cutting is on a selective basis.

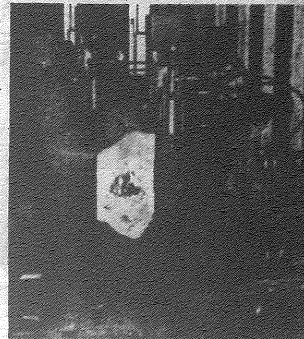

Charles Maki, a veteran in lumbering, is manager of the mill and also serves as telephone sales-man for the firm.

AERIAL VIEW indicates size of Keewatin Sawmill Co. operations. Air-drying yard in background holds three million feet of lumber.

LOGS ARE DECKED in winter for summer-sawing operations. Company's specialty is northern white pine.

BAND SAW, electrically operated, rips through big white pine log. Setter on carriage is Ole Johnson.

KEEWATIN SAWMILL TRUCK is shown leaving mill with load of northern Minnesota white pine. Firm serves lumber dealers as far away as Chicago.

WARN OF OTHER STRUCTURES CAUSING MORE DEATHS

A government investigation is being held into the cause of the collapse of this curling rink at the Britannia resort hotel near Huntsville, Ont. Three persons were killed, four badly injured by the falling beams and roof structure. The building had an aluminum roof supported by two inch rafters, which collapsed under the weight of 16 inches of snow. Engineers warn that many other structures in use by the public are in danger of collapse.

Girl Guide Assoc. Tea, Huge Success

On Saturday, February 28th, the local Girl Guide and Brownie Association staged a most successful tea in the dining room of the Kenricia Hotel.

The head table was attractive with its centerpiece of the traditional Brownie toadstool, while the tea tables were centered with tiny figures of Guides of other countries. Presiding over the tea cups were Mesdames, Bouchard, T. Locke, H. Nagengast, P. Hughes, McInnes, R. Leighton, R. Hogg, Ian Cameron, G. Percy and Miss Luby. Guides of the local companies acted as servitors.

Officers of the associations tender their thanks and appreciation to all who made this event the success that it was.

Hears Witness Say She Wanted Murder

Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan smiles and toys with her locket as she goes to court in Ventura, Calif. Mrs. Duncan wept as a young waitress testified that the 54-year-old woman begged her to help kill Olga Kupczyk Duncan. Her tears were the first shed in more than two months of investigation of charges that she hired two men to kidnap and kill her son's expectant wife last November.
