PREDICT NEW COURSES OF STUDY WILL INCLUDE GRADES 14 AND 15

The beginning of another school year is an opportune time to see what leading educational people are predicting for the future. Dr. W. P. Perival, Former Deputy Minister of Education for Quebec, made some very interesting remarks about the "Schools of the 1960's" at the annual Conference of the Ontario Urban and Rural School Trustees' Association held in Bigwin Inn, Muskoka, last June, which was attended by two members of the Kenora Public School Board.

Noting the tremendous changes of the past fifty years, he stressed the fact that schools have changed with the times. "This is clearly visible to anyone who has eyes to see and the ability to read his 1959 tax bill," he said. Better school buildings, new text books, revised courses of study, classroom libraries, the use of visual aids, radios, and TV are some of the changes he referred to. He predicted that changes in the next fifty years would be just as great.

Firstly, he suggested that new courses of study will be in effect. These will be on a basis of three courses of study for each grade, one each for bright, average, and slow learners. The course for the bright learners would be completed in ten years, that for the average pupil in eleven years and the slow learner would have an entirely different course. The school year would also be lengthened to 210 days, and in the High Schools, the hours of instruction per day would be increased. The saving in time for pupils and money for taxpayers and school boards would allow for his second prediction, that Grade 14 will be instituted in all High Schools and Collegiate Institutes and Grade 15 offered in some. No less a person than President Eisenhower said a few months ago, "I think we will have to put at least one or two more years on our educational system before we can say a man has graduated from High School." With the large number of children in public and high schools at the present time, it is anticipated that by 1965 no fewer than double the number of students presently enrolled will seek admittance to Universities. Most universities will not be able to do or do not intend to cater to these increased numbers. They will call for higher entrance qualifications. This would not mean a higher percentage in the School Leaving marks, but a year or two of higher accomplishment. Then the universities would drop the work of the first year in Arts and Science, and begin their courses where the schools leave off. This policy is under consideration in some universities today.

Mr. Melville backs up the union belief. The association, he said, has not made formal application for an extension of hours although petitions have been submitted seeking return of room service.

"We don't want things wide open", said Mr. Melville "but we believe there should be some type of licensing to allow the better places, particularly those who cater to conventions, to have longer hours.

"This would apply not only to Toronto and the larger cities, but to resort areas where many conventions are now held," he said. The 11.30 p.m. closing Saturday and the fact that no liquor may be served Sundays cuts tourist traffic to Toronto, the hotel association manager said.

William M. Murdoch, general manager of the Metropolitan Toronto Convention and Tourist bureau, said his organization has never taken a stand on the hours of liquor sale. "I can't point to any business we have lost through limited hours of sale," he said.

"We sell conventions on the basis of the facilities we have to offer," he said.

A tour through thousands of miles of Ontario this summer convinced Rev. Gordon Domm, secretary of the Ontario Temperance federation that U.S. tourists would appreciate a "tightening rather than loosening of present laws."

He said most tourists he met were moderate drinkers and "highly appreciative of Ontario's quiet and restful resort areas."

"They come here for rest not for carousing far into the morning," he said.

Mr. Domm said he considers convention business and liquor are "getting a bit out of hand." Even financial pages are now editorially conceding that in business life alcoholic beverages have become a positive menace.

Union, Hotels Seek Later Closing Time

TORONTO — Ontario bartenders and hotel workers who want a return to the 2 a.m. closing time for cabarets and dining lounges have the moral support of the Ontario Hotel association. Clint Melville, the association's managing director, said.

The bartenders also want to reinstate the law which permitted room service of liquor at hotels.

The proposals are contained in a petition to Premier Frost and the Liquor Control board of Ontario. The move is designed, the bartenders say, to attract more of the national and international convention business to Toronto.

Henry Parsumi, secretary and business agent of the Hotel and Club Employees union, presented the petition. The submission says income from conventions is more than $60,000,000 a year and Ontario stands to lose its share of that money to wide-open Quebec.

Thunder Bay District garnered 597,300 bushels valued at $362,800, while the Dryden region produced 167,700 bushels valued at $137,000.

The potato crop in 1958 again exceeded the half-million-dollar figure. The three northwestern

District Ontario Provincial Police Earn High Praise

The Kenora District detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police came in for much praise today from the Honorable Kelso Roberts, Attorney General of Ontario for the enviable record that was established in this district over the Labour Day week end. District 17 officers and men were congratulated for the way that the highway patrols were carried out. No traffic fatalities were recorded for the area and accidents were at a minimum on highways patrolled by the O.P.P.

Also coming in for praise were the many motorists who by their co-operation kept the picture such a bright one.

Province wide the story was the same. All O.P.P. patrolled highways had the best reports for the past three years. Labour Day weekend, 1957 saw 9 people killed. In 1958, 13 people were killed while in 1959 the figure dropped to 6.

Another result of lack of university facilities will be the establishment of more Junior Colleges and Collegiate Institutes. As early as 1943 the Canadian Educational Association recommended that 150 Junior Colleges or Advanced Secondary Schools be established in Canada. The Junior College movement here is lagging far behind that in the United States. California, with a population somewhat more than double that of Ontario, has 63 such Colleges. Quebec has a system of Classical College and Arts and Trade Schools. Dr. Percival believes that these are necessary to give more young people the advantage of college training.

Among other things, he predicted that Governments will increase all grants to education, in particular, they will take care of capital costs; and that business and industry will take increasing interest in higher education. In the classroom new tools of learning will be used more readily, including radio, TV, and the tape recorder. Teacher qualifications will be gradually raised and psychological quotients will be established and used, in particular, the "Savvy" (practical wisdom) quotient.

He concluded by saying that if these features do not all materialize in the 1960's, they and many others will do so in the 1970's and the 1980's.

Another relic was a one hundred year old hand painted china plate. It had belonged to the member's grandmother.

AS I SEE IT

By JACK THOMSON

The overlapping of sports seasons seems more pronounced every year. A merry go round that occasionally slows down but never stops. Hockey play-offs were underway last spring, when baseball blossomed into a new season. Baseball was going full swing in mid-summer when the football teams kicked off their exhibition schedules. Now, with baseball's World Series near at hand and football underway, hockey is back in the news. The National league clubs and their farm teams are already on the ice. Locally baseball just closed the lid on another season, high school football is just about ready to start and the Thistle hockey club will be electing their new slate of officers for the coming season next week. Of course there is one thing about being in this sports dodge, you never get a chance to think of anything else . . . Gary Bergman who certainly shows promise of being good pro-hockey prospect, has left for the Montreal Canadian hockey camp. Gary's major league hockey rights are held by the Canadians, with his minor rights in the hands of Jack Perrin and his Winnipeg Warriors . . . Stubby Dubchuk is to report to the camp of the Toronto Marlboros in October . . . Bud Bailey is still waiting for the Cleveland Barons to place him for the coming season . . . Ray Sawchuk will again toil for the Winnipeg Monarchs . . . The first league meeting of the Ontario Minnesota Hockey League is scheduled for Friday Sept. 25th at One Sided Lake. It is hoped that another team may be entered this year . . . Heard today that the Kenora Figure Skating Club has signed a new professional for this season, she is from the Takehead . . . Keewatin Curling Club working hard to install artificial ice in their quarters . . . And that's 30 . . .

Macon, Ill.—Scotch and soda drinkers may have to go underground in this community of 942. It's legal to drink the scotch but not the soda.

A member of the city council has discovered an ordinance enacted in 1881 and still in effect which set a fine of $10 to $50 for soda sipping.

Donald W. Northland, city attorney, said no move to repeal the ordinance is afoot.

TCA Will Unveil New DC-8 Aircraft Late This Year

The air conditioning system in one of Trans-Canada Air Lines' new Douglas DC8 Jetliners would comfortably cool 14 good-sized homes.

Yet each of the two separate refrigeration units weighs less than 150 pounds, exclusive of controls. Built by the Carrier Corporation of Syracuse, N.Y., for Douglas, they are equivalent to a conventional refrigeration system weighing approximately 5,000 pounds.

The compressors in these miniature units weigh only 11 pounds apiece, making up for their tiny size by turning at more than 90,000 revolutions per minute. The turbine turning the compressor is driven by air from the aircraft's powerful Rolls-Royce Conway by-pass jet engines.

Operating at close to 10,000 feet where the temperature may be 15 degrees below zero on a summer day, cooling rather than heating is, oddly enough, the aircraft engineer's greatest problem. "This is because the Jetliner's cabin is pressurized at 40,000 feet to the equivalent of 8,000 feet. The thin, cold air outside is compressed inside the cabin. This causes speeding molecules to jump about like pent-up animals, gaining in heat what they lack in room to move. (A scientist would say their kinetic energy had turned to heat.)

As the air emerges from the compressors on its way to the cabin, its temperature is about 235 degrees. Temperature of this air is lowered to about 90 degrees by running it through a series of tubes cooled by the frigid, below-zero outside air.

But with each of up to 127 passengers, emitting warmth equal to that of a 100-watt bulb, temperatures inside the cabin would still be over the 100 degree mark.

And even worse would be the inside temperature when the aircraft was on the ramp or during climb when frigid high altitude air was not available for cooling.

The solution was the Carrier-built air conditioner constructed of light alloys, turning at fantastic speeds and with parts machined to 50 millionths of an inch accuracy, changing the entire cabin air every three minutes.

The first of TCA's big DC-8's is scheduled to be delivered to the airline late this year. Six of the aircraft have been ordered for service on trans-continental and trans-Atlantic routes.

Motor Vehicles In Use Soars Over 4 1/2 Million Mark

Toronto—Total motor vehicles in use in Canada soared over the 4 1/2 million mark in 1958 - one for every 3.7 persons. The 1959 edition of "Facts and Figures of the Automotive Industry" released by the Canadian Automobile Chamber of Commerce reveals that 3.6 million passenger cars and 1 million trucks were registered last year. Another 95,000 buses, motorcycles and miscellaneous types were in operation. These vehicles travelled an estimated 38.7 billion miles and consumed 3.3 billion gallons of gasoline.

The dollar value of new vehicles sold in Canada exceeded $1 billion for the fourth consecutive year - 376,723 new passenger cars were sold, valued at $1,110,724,000 and the 68,046 new commercial vehicles sold were valued at $254,742,000. 180,369 cars and 24,675 trucks were scrapped last year, 45% of new units sold.

Other 1958 statistical highlights contained in this authoritative and informative booklet are:

* Production of cars in Canada was 297,373 and trucks 59,045.

* There were 5.6 million licensed drivers.

* Expenditures of new plants, equipment and repair and maintenance amounted to $15.6 million by the manufacturers.

* An additional $197.2 million was spent by the automotive parts, petroleum products and rubber industries.

* Motor vehicle purchasers paid $134.2 million in federal sales and excise taxes.

* Total payroll of Canadian automobile manufacturers was $129,718,693.

* Provincial governments collected $350.6 million in gasoline tax revenues and $139.1 million in registration fees.

* Imports of motor vehicles totalled 113,377 including 104,195 cars and 9,182 trucks. Exports were 13,409 cars and 3,025 trucks.

DIDN'T HAVE TO MAKE SINGLE SALE

RICHMOND, Va.—Michael L. Matthew of Fort Eustis, Va., sells encyclopedias. That is, he was hired three days ago to sell encyclopedias. He hasn't sold any yet.

At a sales meeting Wednesday, 49 states sales winners were picked for a free trip to Paris. But the chartered plane has 49 seats.

A drawing was held. Ah, Monsieur Matthew, you are the lucky one, non?

DIDN'T RISK AMERICAN TEA

RUFFALO, N.Y.—Who says the English love tea?

The local United Service Organization stocked up with 1,000 tea bags for a party Tuesday night to honor visiting English sailors from the frigate Scarborough.

The sailors ate pizza and television dinners, drank coffee and exhausted the milk supply—but none wanted tea.

Mrs. Odessa J. Shipley, USO director, reported 1,000 tea bags still on hand Wednesday.

DOREEN MAE WEARE

Miss Doreen Weare of Kenora, was one of the graduates to receive her R.N. at the graduating exercises of the Children's Hospital, Winnipeg, held in that city on September 2nd. Miss Weare has accepted a position on the staff of the Children's Hospital.

Mrs. Margaret Innard is pictured with the many trophies that she won at the recent Kenora Agricultural Fair. She was named grand award winner and received the Wm. Greenwood Memorial Cup awarded to the family receiving the most points in the fair. Mrs. Innard also won the cup in the Domestic Science class and a cup for flowers.

WEDDING RING FOUND AFTER 27 YEARS

TOLEDO, Ohio—Mrs. Mary Thomas had her wedding ring back on her finger today, 27 years after she lost it.

Mrs. Thomas lost the ring on a farm near New Bavaria, nearly 50 miles southwest of here, where she lived for several years.

Two years ago Erford Oedy, who now lives on the farm, turned up a wedding ring while plowing.

The story of the ring eventually got to Napoleon, a dozen miles north, where Mrs. Thomas's sister-in-law, Mrs. Beatrice Thomas, lives.

Last Sunday, Mary drove to the Oedy home and picked up her ring.

DOG INSISTS ON STAYING AT POUND

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—A dog turned itself in Wednesday at the Kent County pound.

"We've always prided ourselves on having an inviting shelter," said manager Joseph Aernouts, "but this is the first time anything like this has happened."

The medium-sized white dog leaped through a window while the cages were being cleaned. Aernouts said the dog was friendly, seemed to like the place and refused to leave.

ANYBODY WANT A AOUADAD?

NEW YORK—There are too many aoudads around and something has got to be done about it.

Most people seem to be able to get along without an aoudad and don't even bother their heads about how to pronounce it (ah-uh-dad).

But the city purchase commissioner is sure there's a market, and is asking far and wide for bids on four eight-months-old aoudads, otherwise known as North African horned sheep. That's four, too many for the city's zoos, it was decided after checking birth rolls this year.

Introduces Corvaair

DETROIT — Chevrolet officially joined the small-car battle today with details on its new Corvaair, first American car with the engine in the rear.

Ford unveiled its small Falcon a week ago. To come in November is Chrysler's Valiant. The Corvaair will go on sale Oct. 2; the Falcon Oct. 9.

The Corvaair has an air-cooled six-cylinder engine made mostly of aluminum and mounted in what up to now always has been the trunk compartment on American cars. The location is the same as in the German Volkswagen and French Renault, sales leaders among foreign cars.

The Corvaair will be built at first only in four-door sedan models. These will weigh 2,375 pounds. They will be 15 feet long, about 2 1/2 feet shorter than the 1959 Chevrolet; four feet, three inches high and five feet, seven inches wide. The car will have about 90 horsepower. A two-door model will be offered early next year.

UNITIZED BODY

Like the other two new compact cars, the Corvaair will have a "unitized" body — a one-piece unit rather than a body shell bolted to a frame. American Motors' Rambler also uses this type of construction.

Ed Cole, Chevrolet's general manager, told a national press preview that the Corvaair will get 25 to 40 per cent better gasoline mileage than the standard Chevrolet six-cylinder model.

For its Falcon, Ford claimed 50 per cent better mileage than any current production car, and also claimed up to 30 miles to a gallon of regular gas.

Cole made no specific miles-per-gallon claim.

WEIGHT IN REAR

He said the over-all weight distribution of 60 per cent in the rear and 40 per cent in the front — almost an exact reversal from front-engine cars — will give excellent traction in mud, snow or ice along with light-touch steer-

IN MEMORIAM
MULHOLLAND — In loving memory of our son Robert Reece, who passed away — September 11, 1957.

Tonight the stars are gleaming
On a lonely, silent grave,
Where sleeps in dreamless slumber

The one we loved but could not save,
In tears we saw you sinking,
We watched you fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
You fought so hard to stay,
But when we saw you sleeping,
So peacefully free from pain,
We could not wish you back
To suffer that again.

— Ever remembered by his loving Mother, Dad and family.

IN MEMORIAM
MULHOLLAND — In loving memory of my dear husband Robert Reece, who passed away September 11, 1957.
He is gone but not forgotten
And, so dawns another year,
In my lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er me,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
— Ever remembered by his loving wife Dorothy and son Robert.

IN MEMORIAM
MULHOLLAND — In loving memory of our dear brother and uncle Robert Mulholland who passed away — September 11, 1957.

Always a thought and many a tear
For one we miss and loved so dear,
The sudden way you had to die
We shall always remember and wonder why,
To know we never said good bye,

Will always bring regret,
But the ones that loved you dearly,
Are the ones that will never forget.

— Ever remembered by Laura and Roy, Doris and Floyd and nephews.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our relatives, friends and neighbours during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father. Special thanks to Rev. Tomes and Pallbearers.
Mrs. Martin & Family.

For the second year in a row, the number of daily newspapers, counting both English-language and foreign-language dailies, in this country has increased.

Today, more people enjoy boating than ever before. And more people are traveling by boats for business and pleasure. Last year steam ship advertisers invested over $4,600,000 in daily newspapers to tell travelers about their accommodations.

Ford of Canada's first entry in the economy car field, a brand new automobile from top to bottom, the six-passenger Falcon is powered by a 90-horsepower front-mounted engine and is offered in two-door and four-door models. Pictured above is the new car which will be seen in Ford-Edsel-Monarch dealerships on October 8. The Falcon is 1,400 pounds lighter than conventional North America type vehicles, offers unusual roominess and fuel economy. Tested under all operating conditions and types of driving, over hundreds of thousands of miles, it has demonstrated its ability to average better than 32 miles per gallon (Imperial) of gasoline.

Today's Youth - "Least Understood" Says Young Orator

Walter T. Parnaby of Orillia, chosen Ontario's top high school orator in 1959, was guest speaker at the Young Canada's Day Luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

The poised 17-year-old spoke to some 300 guests at the CNE Directors' Luncheon in the Queen Elizabeth Building on his favorite theme: "Youth as I See Them Today - the Future of This Group."

Calling his generation the "most analyzed and least understood" of any in history, the young speaker said 95 per cent of this group "are decent, kias, intelligent and concerned about the future. We know better what we want than many adults."

Walter, the winner of the Secondary School prepard speech division of the 1959 Ontario Public Speaking Contest, told his audience that: "Living in the world today presents a challenge. To meet it we need education to teach us to think accurately and quickly."

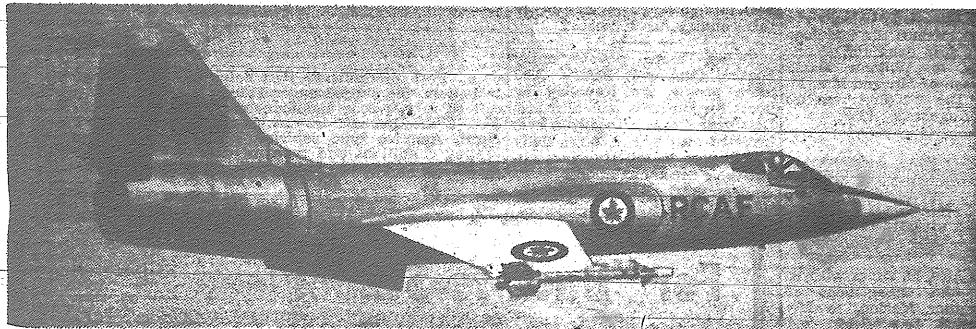

He paid tribute to Ontario Hydro and the Ontario School Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association as sponsors of the public speaking contest, which he said is making a great contribution to youth by helping them to develop their speaking ability.

"We want a life that is significant and meaningful. The fact that we are restless confirms that. Above all we want freedom . . . from fear of war."

Referring to the changing world in which youth will live in the future, Walter told his listeners "you can be sure we will continue to be chips off the old block."

A Grade 13 student, Walter spends his vacation and after-school time as a technician, producer and announcer at radio station CFOR in Orillia. He calls public speaking his favorite hobby. As for the future, he hasn't made his mind up yet between engineering and law.

IN RCAF DRESS—This is the F-104 Starfighter, the aircraft chosen to re-equip Canada's NATO squadrons in Europe, as it will appear with RCAF markings. Expected to be in squadron service by 1961, the sleek jet will be produced in Canada by Canadair, Ltd., and known as the CF-111. Able to scorch the sky in 1,500 mph bursts of speed and to zoom to the very fringes of space—91,243 ft.—the F-104 holds the world's speed and altitude records. Powered by the General Electric J-79 turbojet, the F-104 has been called "a missile with a man in it" for its razor-sharp wings protrude only seven feet from the fuselage on either side. A wide variety of external armament, including nuclear weapons, can be carried by this relatively small aircraft.

CHIVALRY MISPLACED

Oxford, England. — Playing Sir Galahad on a motor-scooter cost a local man £9 in fines.

Ian Welch, 25, putting through town on his scooter, saw two men talking to a girl who didn't want anything to do with them. He dismounted and ran to her aid, socking one of the men in the stomach as the young lady fled.

But it turned out the two were plain-clothes policemen trying to arrest the lass on street-walking charges under Britain's new anti-vice act.

P.S. — The policemen later caught up with the lady and it cost her a £5 fine.

POISONOUS SNAKES ON INCREASE

Toronto — The Ontario highways department has issued a bulletin saying the number and types of poisonous snakes is on the increase in the province and they're covering a wider area.

A snake expert said it isn't so. The bulletin says "Too many people" believed rattlesnakes are the only ones to worry about in Ontario, and that actually "some people become seriously ill if bitten by a puff adder, a copperhead or moccasin, of which there are many varieties, and all exist in Ontario.

E. B. Logier, Royal Ontario museum's assistant curator for reptiles, said the Mississippi rattler is Ontario's only poisonous snake and its habitat hasn't changed.

"The so-called 'puff adder' is nothing but the hog-nosed snake, and is definitely not poisonous," he said. "The copperhead does not occur north of the New England states, while the northern limits of the moccasin is Southern Illinois."

RANDOM SHOT DROPPED "DUCK"

Charlton, Mass. — Aaron Burlingame got tired of youths blowing auto horns outside his house to attract his daughters.

So, when he heard one, he rushed out with a shotgun. Seeing nothing, he fired a blast into the air.

Pelle's struck Quentin Kuehl, 17, hidden in a tree. Police said he had been playing bird calls on a duck horn as a practical joke.

Kuehl was given hospital treatment and Burlingame pleaded guilty to assault with a dangerous weapon. He was given a suspended six months' jail sentence.

All babies begin to smile at the same age: toward the end of the first month of their lives. They smile at this time even though they are blind. If they are born prematurely, babies begin to smile not four weeks after the day they were born, but four weeks after the day they were expected to be born.
