Interest in civic affairs, as reflected by attendance at three nomination meetings last night and in the number of candidates nominated, is higher in this community than for the past several years. While attendance at Kenora, Keewatin and Jaffray-Melick municipal halls set no records, the number of candidates named at each meeting certainly proved satisfactory.

A motion to discontinue the "Town Hall" meetings in Kenora, was sharply defeated by those attending last night's nomination meeting. If the Jaycees do not call such a public gathering, Mayor Charlie Bergman will be asked to do so. Clerk Jim Hooper accepted nominations last night, assisted by George Martin, for the 17th consecutive year.

Memorial Service Friday For Late Bishop Lofthouse

The Right Reverend Joseph Lofthouse, D.D. died in Hamilton, Ontario on July 12th last. There will be a memorial service in St. Alban's Pro-Cathedral on St. Andrew's Day, Friday, November 30th at 8:00 p.m. to which all are invited. At the memorial service a plaque will be unveiled by Mr. C. R. Atcheson. The plaque will be dedicated by the Right Reverend H. E. Hives, E.A., D.D., who will also preach the sermon.

Bishop Lofthouse was ordained in 1907 and he served all his ministry in the Diocese of Keewatin. From 1928 to 1938 he was rector of St. Alban's Pro-Cathedral. On St. Andrew's Day 1938 he was consecrated Bishop of Keewatin, in which office he served until his retirement in 1953.

Here Since 1910 Harry Jeffrey, 75 Called To Rest

Happy George Jeffrey, a resident of R.R. No. 1, who has lived in this district for the past fifty two years, died at the Kenora General Hospital Friday evening, November 23rd, following a lengthy illness.

He was born in Bancroft, Ont., October 31st, 1887, and was in his 76th year. He came to Kenora in 1910 where he has been employed as a carpenter. He was married in Kenora November 29th, 1911 to the former Mary Ann Kelly.

Surviving are his wife, three sons, Harold, Charles and William all of Kenora, one daughter Mrs. Cecilia Harrison of Vancouver, B.C., four brothers Frank, of Carthage, N.Y., U.S.A., Jesse of Huntsville, Ontario, Nelson of Bancroft, Ontario and William of Kenora. Four sisters Lena of Bancroft, Therza Barker of Owen Sound, Pearl Fowler of Fort Frances and Jennie Sweet of Bancroft, Ontario. Also surviving are ten grandchildren.

The funeral services will be held Monday, November 26th in the Chapel of the Brown Funeral Home at 3:30 p.m., Rev. Jack R. Smith presiding. Interment will be in the Lake of the Woods Cemetery.

Rev. S. Johnson To Conduct Series Of Meetings Here

The Rev. Sterling Johnson will be conducting a series of Evangelistic meetings at Bethesda Lutheran Church in Lakeside, November 25-29.

A graduate from the University of Denver in 1942, he enrolled at Luther Theological Seminary in St. Paul, the fall of the same year. Pastor Johnson was ordained into the Holy Ministry in 1945. For two years he served as an evangelist in Canada, sponsored by the Luther League of the Canada District. It was also his privilege to serve as teacher-evangelist for the Canadian Lutheran Bible Institute at Camrose, Alberta.

While attending the seminary, he met Mildred C. Morck, who was serving as a parish worker at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Minneapolis. They were married in 1943. The Johnsons now reside in a suburb of Minneapolis, Minnesota. The meetings at which the Evangelist will preach in Bethesda will be held at the regular hours of worship on Sunday, 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., and on Monday through Thursday at 8 p.m. The meeting on Monday evening is for men only and the one on Thursday evening is for women only. Everyone is invited to attend all other meetings.

Ministers Elect Officers For The Coming Year

At a recent meeting of the Kenora-Keewatin Ministerial Association there was an election of officers. The following officers were elected:

- President - The Very Reverend J. M. Watts
- Vice President - The Reverend F. E. Johnson
- Secretary-Treasurer - The Reverend R. J. Watson

Arrangements are being made for the observance of the Week of Prayer which is January 7 to 11. A committee is considering a series of "cottage services", and a concluding service in one of the Churches on the Friday evening.

At the meeting there was considerable discussion about marriage and matters relating to it. In view of the number of breakdowns in family relationships, which involve people in unhappy legal action, it was agreed that much more time be given to preparation for marriage. The ministers all expressed their willingness to counsel young people before marriage, and there was general agreement that at least two months notice be given before the marriage date. It is not necessary for couples to wait until all the arrangements are complete before they consult the minister who is to solemnize their marriage. The minister is more than an agent of the State who holds a license to marry.

He is a minister of God who desires the well-being and happiness of all people. He would therefore appreciate being called well ahead of the contemplated marriage.

W. J. Feltham Wins Flying Officer Commission

Flight Cadet W. J. Feltham, of Keewatin, Ontario, has successfully completed the RCAF Radio Officer's Course at the Air Navigat on School in Winnipeg and has been commissioned as a Flying Officer. He received his wings from Air Commodore J. A. Verner, CD, Chief Staff Officer, Air Training Command, Winnipeg.

his junior matriculation at the Kenora-Keewatin District High School in Kenora before joining the RCAF in May 1961. For the past year he has been undergoing intensive ground and air training as a student Radio Officer.

Flying Officer Feltham will receive further training at the Operational Training Unit, Trenton, Ontario before taking up flying duties with Air Transport Command.

His parents Mr. and Mrs. H. Feltham, live at 31 Main Street, Keewatin, Ontario.

Of Canada's 307 radio and television stations, 259 are privately-owned and 48 are state-owned.

Over the past five years 649,005 new housing units have been completed in Canada.

Drought and poor storage of water are the main cause of food shortages in Togo, West Africa.

Gold Hill Lodge No. 261 Marks 75th Anniversary

Visitors from all parts of the district were present last evening at a dinner and dance held in the Kenora Legion Auditorium marking the 75th anniversary of Gold Hill Lodge No. 261, I.O.O.F.

Chairman for the occasion was Mr. W. J. Bodger, P. G. who introduced the gathering and gave a history of the lodge which was started here on November 24th 1887, seventy five years ago today. The first lodge was located in the Garfield Hall which was situated where the present Laundromat is, on Matheson Street South near the Northland Hotel. This building was destroyed by fire. Then the lodge was located on the site where the present Oddfellows Building now is. This also was destroyed by fire in 1909. The present building was erected in 1910 by Brother Gordon Hudson, who was a contractor at that time.

On November 24th 1887 five Oddfellows gathered together to form Gold Hill Lodge. These men were: Bro. George Barnes, A. J. Holmes, G. A. Kobold, George Thomson, John G. Clark. Mr. Holmes was the father of Bro. Gervail Holmes, who is a 50 year veteran of Minnetonka Lodge and still active in Oddfellowship and grandfather of Bro. Eddie Holmes, a 25 year veteran of Minnetonka.

Since its inception, he said, Gold Hill Lodge has grown and served a very useful purpose in this community. It has met each challenge and is constantly working against selfishness, benevolence and charity being the principles of the order. Mr. Bodger said that he would be remiss not to mention one, who has just completed 50 years of unselfishness, having contributed a great humanitarian service to the community and District as a whole. He was referring to Dr. J. P. Paton, a Brother in the lodge. He then introduced Brother Herbert Dawson, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Ontario who is a director of the Children's Aid Society of the District of Port Arthur.

Mr. Dawson, in his opening remarks, said that 75 years of service in a community is no mean endeavour as there are many organizations in every community which start up and as the years go by, fall by the wayside. The anniversary of Gold Hill Lodge should receive the recognition and gratitude of all staked Mr. Dawson as this is indeed a tremendous event in the history of Kenora. He tendered best wishes from Grand Lodge of Ontario. He said that often some lodges do not progress as much as they might because of lack of interest on the part of some of the members. He told of meeting a member of a crew from a German boat recently at the Lakehead. The map was a member of a similar lodge in his country and took great pride in recounting the work done by his organization in the community which he had come from. He urged all to take a greater interest in the work of the lodge. He recounted many of the humanitarian services which the Odd-fellows and Rebekahs do throughout the country. Family life, he pointed out, is no longer the simple kind it was years ago when the home was the centre of activity. Home, now, he said, is just a place where the family pass through occasionally as today everything that seems of any importance takes place outside the home. This makes a terrific impact on the young people as the sons and daughters do not stick together with the parents like they did in the past. He cited several instances of home-life which he had encountered in his work saying that there are many homes in Northern Ontario which are without the bare necessities of life, some of them not having any furniture, heating facilities, proper cooking utensils etc. This poses a great challenge to all as it is always so easy to look someplace else and see how poorly others are faring and yet not realizing that dire conditions exist right in our midst. Racial discrimination, he pointed out, is every bit as strong right here in Ontario against our Indian population as it is in the southern states against the Negro.

Modern times are thrilling times to be alive, he said, as we are constantly aware of every thing of world importance which takes place in various parts of the globe and we feel the impact of every world change. The Lodge is moving forward, he said, and all must look to the future.

Alderman Armstrong, acting mayor of Kenora brought greetings from the municipality. He tendered congratulations to the Gold Hill Lodge on its 75th birthday and expressed best wishes for the future.

Paul Brinkman, Noble Grand of Gold Hill Lodge said he was pleased indeed to be the holder of his position at the occasion of the anniversary. Eric Newman proposed a toast to the ladies and his was replied to by Sister Vera Colbert, P. D.D.P. of the Rebekahs. She tendered her congratulations to the lodge.

LET'S TALK SPORTS

— with Larry Johnstone —

Kenora's John (Bud) Bailey is in the headlines south of the border once again. This time Bailey was suspended by the International Hockey League president, Andy Mulligan, for one of his stick-swinging episodes.

Just prior to returning to Kenora to pick up his wife and family, Bud clashed with Muskegon's Ken Hayden on November 11 in Omaha. Mulligan suspended Bailey for two games and fined him $50.00 while Hayden was suspended for one game and received a $25.00 fine. Bailey was assessed a match penalty for his clash with Hayden and this was his second match penalty in three games. So far Bud has picked up over sixty minutes in penalties while playing with the first place Omaha Knights.

FRED PAGE IN TOWN

Thunder Bay Amateur Hockey Association President, Fred Page, will make a special trip to Kenora tomorrow night for a meeting with two local hockey people. Page will meet with Hiro Oshiro, local Thunder Bay representative, and Len Kropioski, who coached the Norman Stratton Juvenile Hockey Club last year. Kropioski had hoped to organize a Junior Hockey club this season but at the Thunder Bay Hockey Association meeting this past spring, his application was turned down since Kenora already has one Junior club, the Kenora Thistles of the Northwestern Ontario Junior "A" Hockey League.

Since this time Mr. Kropioski sent a letter to Canadian Amateur Hockey Association secretary-manager Gordon Juckes concerning his application for a Junior club. Juckes in turn notified Fred Page and Page called for a meeting with both Oshiro and Kropioski tomorrow night to straighten the problem out once and for all.

All rinks wishing to enter the Annual Northwestern Local Playdowns are asked to mark the name of their rink on the bulletin board located at the curling rink. The deadline for entries is Monday, November 26... Once again a reminder to all local parents to attend the important meeting concerning the re-organizing of the Kenora Minor Hockey Association Monday night, November 26 at the East Room of the Kenora Legion starting at 8:00 p.m.

137,609 Beaver Trapped in Ontario In Past Season

ONTARIO — The 137,609 beaver trapped in Ontario during the 1931-32 trapping season realized well over a million dollars, probably for the province's trappers, and immeasurably more, through manufacture and retail sales. It is more heavily trapped than any fur bearer except muskrat. Its numbers increase and its habitat is extended through live-trapping and relocating by the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests. Its industry and intelligence made it emblematic of Canada's future progress. The beaver was enshrined in Canada's first postage stamp, the red "three-penny beaver" stamp of 1851.

Yet, by many, the beaver is regarded as a nuisance, even though it's a source of livelihood to thousands. That the little animal is also an engineer extraordinary only adds and advances its nuisance proclivities.

Complaints received by the Department of Lands and Forests from those "wronged" by the beaver over a wide area of its activities W. R. Catton, chief conservation officer for the Department in the Pembroke District lists some of them:

Deer hunters find runways changed by beaver ponds; trucks bog down on the old road into camp because of a beaver dam.

Cottage owners are perturbed, and rightly so, to discover poplar trees at the front of the lot no longer standing but, even worse, on the lawn or camp. Beavers gnawed them down for bark for food.

Farmers complain of drowned brush lots and meadows too damp to plough.

Recognized for his engineering feats, the beaver also plays an important role in the production of other species of wildlife, some beneficial, some not. The numerous beaver ponds created by dammed spring freshets and drainage systems have created waterfowl breeding areas long lost to this section of the country," Mr. Catton says. "The contribution to the country's waterfowl population from these ponds must indeed be recognized. However, those working close to the scene recognize that too high a beaver population can have a detrimental effect on deer numbers!

"During the winter months, deer require two things in order to survive - sufficient proper food and suitable cover. Food is usually found in greater quantity on the slope adjacent to the deer yard. The shelter of the "yards" may take the form of a stand of mature hemlock or pine, but more often it is a low-lying stand of cedar which provides protect against cold winter winds and excessive snowfalls.

"Any reduction in either food quantity or yarding area, therefore must be considered detrimental to deer numbers. Unfortunately, beaver flooding has caused a reduction in the amount of winter shelter formerly available.

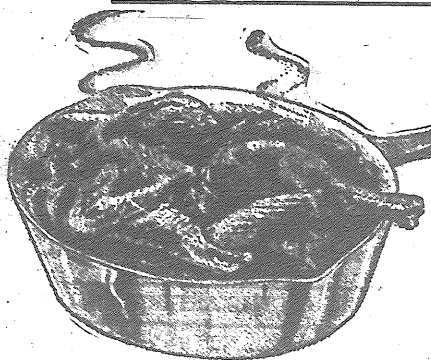

External Trade: Total exports in the third quarter of this year were valued at an all-time high for the period at $1,609,600,000, larger by 17 percent than the corresponding 1931 total. The nine-month total also reached a peak at $4,623,100,000, up 9.1 percent from a year earlier. August imports were valued at 17 percent above a year earlier at $23,000,000, while January - August imports were up 14.1 percent from the preceding year at $4,234,600,000.

Names For Quarter Million Lakes In Province, Big Chore

Did you ever look at a map of Canada, or Ontario, or even your own district, and wonder where all the thousands of names came from, and who was responsible for getting them on to the map?

A recent information bulletin put out by the Department of Lands and Forests highlights the system and is quoted extensively below:

Over half a century ago the Canadian and the Provincial governments recognized the chaotic condition of Canada's nomenclature as it was being used to identify places and geographical features throughout the land. In 1897 the Geographic Board of Canada was established by Order-in-Council for the purpose of clarifying the problems which beset the geographers, cartographers, and others whose activity included the use of geographical names.

The passing years brought changes and refinements in the manner of dealing with such problems. The present successor of the earlier board, since July 1961 has been known as the "Canadian Permanent Committee on Geographical Names. It is composed of senior officers of the geographical and mapping branches of the Canadian Government, plus a member selected at provincial level to present the interests of provinces in such matters.

The control of approved nomenclature for geographical features in the Province of Ontario is exercised by the Surveyor General as the Provincial Member, assisted by the Chief Cartographer and the staff of the Geographic Office, Department of Lands and Forests, Toronto.

The control is maintained by the use of an extensive library of maps, charts, plans, directories, gazetteers and many other types of referential works which are co-ordinated with the "Index of Geographical Names in Ontario." This Index, kept in constant revision contains well over 100,000 entry cards on which salient facts relative to each name are concisely detailed. When a name under consideration cannot be vindicated via these references, it becomes necessary to obtain varying evidence of form, spelling, origin, history, etc., according to local usage, from local officials or inhabitants. The accumulated facts are studied and judged in accordance with the Principles of Nomenclature resulting in recommendations being presented to the Canadian Permanent Committee on Geographical Names for its consideration and possible approval. The general public is made aware of the final decisions when they appear on official maps and documents.

Those engaged in this meticulous editorial work are constantly on the watch for possible errors in form, spelling, or wrongful application relative to the feature identified by a name. Knowledge of geography, history, languages and the varied cultures of our Provinces' inhabitants, coupled with long experience and understanding are some of the attributes required in performing this work in a manner which is satisfactory to all concerned.

The Province of Ontario is reputed to contain over a quarter of a million lakes plus their relative drainage streams, thousands of islands, bays and other nameable features, therefore, the task of processing the large volume of requisite nomenclature is considerably more than is needed for most of the other provinces.

D.B.S. Weekly Highlights

Introduce Your Child To World Of Books

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

THE TEACHER at almost any grade level easily spots the child who has heard at home effective English, has been read to a great deal from his early preschool years or has been reading much for pleasure himself. She tends to spot this child from his verbal, even his written, expression. The child who has had all these good influences is very fortunate indeed.

Not all parents can provide their children in their own speech with good models of verbal expression. But practically all parents can read aloud to them in their early years, find ways to help them become good readers, provide them with good reading materials and stimulate their interest in reading for pleasure.

Providing Books

Most parents can afford to buy some good books and children's magazines for their children, which they can supplement by borrowing from the public library; though not nearly all, sad to relate, have easy access to a public library. Many more could if they were willing to travel a little farther to a library. In this day of cars and other good transportation, consider how many could be using a library 25 or 50 miles away or meeting a bookmobile.

Most of us little realize how much teachers, especially in the elementary grades, do to stimulate children to read and to get good reading materials into their hands.

Use Libraries

Of course we need more public libraries, one in every local community. But we also need to help our children use those within easy reach. We furthermore need to be more ready to buy good reading materials for our children, especially materials from which to read to the child for several years before he enters school. Granted that an occasional family, barely able to buy necessary food, can't afford to buy books, far more could than do.

My fellow parents, let me entreat you to sit down together and figure out what luxuries you could cut out of your family budget to enable you to purchase such reading materials for your children.

Buy Good Books

Having set aside such an amount go, even a great distance if necessary, to a public library and ask the librarian to name some books you should purchase. Then go to a good bookstore with your child to examine these books. Seeing your funds greatly limited, go back to the library to borrow some of these books for your child.

Even with ample money for purchasing books, you may want to supplement the books you buy with some borrowed from a library, if within your possible reach.

Borrow Books

While it obviously is better to own books from which you will read to your young child and very desirable for the reading child to have some books of his very own, do keep in touch with your library and often go with your younger child to examine many good books there, letting him borrow some of them. Besides, some of the best books which have stood the test of time cannot be found at a bookstore.

This is Book Week. (My bulletins, "Home Helps in Reading" and "Why Read To Baby And Young Child?"; may be had by sending a self-addressed U. S. stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.)

Heated Canoe, Air Icicles Are Featured

Dallas, Tex. —The newspaper ad offered a whale safari to Alaska for the man who wanted to "be the only Dallasite to have a whale head mounted lengthwise in his den."

It was a gag by David Wade, travel agency executive but Wade said today public reaction was serious.

The tour was to be arranged by "enthusiastic academic Eskimos" and the cost was to be $32 to Misery, Alaska, "location 40 degrees below zero, Alaska."

Travel would be by air icicle, dog sled and heated canoes.

Wade recently advertised a "Cuban fortnight" trip featuring a tour of missile bases. He says he got more than 200 inquiries.

"What we're really trying to do is to see just how people read the newspapers and how they react, and we're certainly finding out," he said.

Washing St. Paul's

Workmen have begun to remove the grime of centuries from the face of famed St. Paul's cathedral in London. The cathedral, masterpiece of Sir Christopher Wren, was begun in 1675 and finished in 1710, and this is the first attempt to clean the exterior where the dirt of the years has built up in places to over one inch. Cost of this face washing is covered by two anonymous gifts totalling 10,000 pounds ($28,000).

NEW RULES EXPECTED FOR INMATES

LONDON --The Sun--

derland magistrates court was shocked to learn Wednesday that inmates of Her Majesty's hospital for the criminally insane, Broadmoor, have been making and passing counterfeit money. Three persons were committed for trial for having passed pound ($3.00) notes manufactured by inmates with permission of hospital authorities. The prosecutor said the bank notes were for use by the prison amateur theatrical society. "I understand," he told the court, "that the prisoners have a very strong amateur dramatic group." According to testimony, prisoners passed the notes on to visitors who then used them to buy liquor.

STREET CLEANERS HONORED

NEW YORK --Every morning the wife of a business executive leaves a fashionable brownstone residence on East 49th Street with her maid, each carrying a broom. Then Mrs. Suzan Hanson and the maid, Mrs. Imelda Marquez, sweep the street, curb to curb, from Second Avenue to Third Avenue. They've been doing it for two years.

Mrs. Hanson and her husband, Lowell, head of the overseas division of the Continental Can Company, simply believe that New Yorkers should have pride in their neighborhoods.

As a result Mrs. Hanson and Mrs. Marquez were among 16 civic-minded women honored at a luncheon by the citizens committee to keep New York clean.

"The boys from the sanitation department like us very much," Mrs. Hanson commented. "We're real buddies and they promised that they'll give us a cart and broom for Christmas."

Street, Keewatin was christened on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the St. James Church, Rev. J. W. Whitford officiated.

God parents were — Miss Mildred Thorpe, Mr. Dennis Belair, Mr. Albert Lind.

Among the guests present were Mr. H. Thorpe and Mr. T. Thorpe making this a memorable occasion of four generations. Mr. and Mrs. J. Belair entertained friends and relatives at their home following the ceremony.

Members of the Retired Mens Association of Keewatin are requested to assemble at the St. James Sunday School Rooms on Sunday evening at 6:45 p.m. to attend Church Service.

The Superintendent and teachers of the St. James Sunday School Keewatin held a meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. A good attendance was present and many important matters were dealt with.

Plans were finalized for the "Sunday Family Service" on November 25th at 11 p.m. The service will be conducted by the Sunday School teachers and pupils. Christmas parties were arranged and it was decided to hold the "Primary Classes" in the afternoon of December 15th following the Upper School party on the evening of December 14 due to the ages of the children.

Committees were formed for the entertainment, refreshments and decorating. With all business being completed for this year the meeting adjourned.

Be firm — but polite — if you refuse to take a door-to-door salesman.

FOR MEN ONLY

UNCLE JOE'S TROUBLE

Dad, I don't think you should keep offering Uncle Joe a drink when he comes here.

Why not, Phil? He can refuse if he likes.

I know, but maybe he doesn't want to — and you know what a lot of trouble he got into when he was drinking.

I certainly do — I just offer him a drink to be hospitable. He can have ginger ale if he wants.

He was practically an alcoholic wasn't he? It's no wonder that Aunt Jape left him.

Joe has had a lot of disappointments in his life. That's why he drank.

Maybe his drinking helped cause his disappointments.

That's true. It probably worked both ways. Now, since he's been off it for nearly a year, he does seem to be getting along better in every way. I really admire him for it.

Do you think it will last?

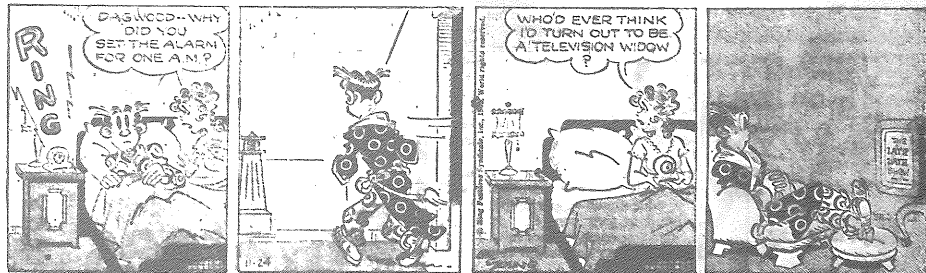

Yes, I think it will — because I noticed when I offered him that drink before dinner, he refused it without a second thought. I think he has his liquor problem licked.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Editor,
Blair and News:
Dear Sir:
Would you please print this in your paper, personally I think it is a waste of time to try and across to the parents the need of community rink, but I will in this last attempt.

Every year it is the same who try and stick together with our children and your children in a place to skate and play and I don't think it is fair to push back on to someone else, it is ways the same few who put up boards and flood the ice.

We are having our regular meeting on Sunday, November 25th at 8 p.m. in the club and would like to be sure 50 parents come out to the meeting. If we don't get some company there just won't be a rink.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Elsie Paine
