ONE BID RECEIVED FOR INTERCEPTOR SEWERS

Only one tender was received by the Town of Kenora in response for a call to carry out the work of installation of an interceptor sewer throughout the town which would gather up all present out flows of raw sewage into the Lake of the Woods and carry it in one pipe to a Winnipeg River site where the new sewage disposal plant is to be constructed. Tenders closed Monday and at the regular council meeting it was announced that the tenders from Sub Strata Construction Company of Port Arthur, in the amount of $567,713.30 was unacceptable. Members of the town's consulting engineering firm, Proctor and Redfern, were present at the meeting and had examined the tender, in company with Municipal Engineer J. A. McCombs and Public Works Engineer Harry Cochran.

Following examination of the bid council was advised that the tender price was substantially higher than an estimated figure of $304,000.00. Mayor Carter asked the engineers if it was not possible to take a good hard look at the project with a view of having the work carried out by town forces under the supervision of local engineers. This will be further studied.

An expression of sympathy was extended by council to the family of the late Mrs. J. A. McCombs who passed away on July 28th, 1966. A letter was received from the Bell Telephone Company advising of their withdrawal of an application to the Board of Transport Commissioners to permit the construction, erection and maintenance of telephone lines along public streets in Kenora. The withdrawal, it

Heavy Rains Great Boost To Manitoba Crops

Winnipeg — Weekend rains in Manitoba have helped stop a general deterioration in crops, and provided moisture for filling the grain.

The Ministry of Agriculture and Conservation says in a crop report today that rain was heaviest at Estey and Dauphin. The Stone wall area was the only one which received no rain.

The report says cool weather following the rain slowed the ripening and gave it time to fill with moisture.

Six surgeons carried out the tricky operation. They described it as technically successful but emphasized it will be at least two months before it is known if the transplant has taken. Today, both father and son are listed in satisfactory condition.

Beware Danger Hoarding Old And Oily Rags

How can a bunch of innocent-looking rags be dangerous? They're nothing more than snips from one of Aunt Sue's old dresses or Dad's old jeans. Well, just get a bunch of greasy rags together in an airless closet on a hot Summer day, and they may break out in spontaneous combustion and fire. According to the Handbook of the National Fire Protection Association, which is considered the ultimate authority on fires of all sorts, such combustion can be "attributed to the very rapid oxidation of the thin films of oil spread out over the surface of the fibres. The rapidity and extent of this oxidation are influenced by a number of factors such as the nature of the oil, the volume of the material, the ratio of the exposed surface to the mass, the degree of heat insulation, the presence of so-called driers or certain metallic oxides such as iron rust, the initial temperature and to some extent the moisture content."

It's advisable that all oily rags... those that you use for waxing furniture, that Dad uses around the garage in his car-tinkering moments or when fussing around the power mower... be kept in tin or glass containers. Another piece of advice is to keep them in as cool a place as possible.

The safest thing, naturally, is not to save old greasy rags... to throw them away. But that's wasteful, and there'll come a day when you find yourself ragless. A safe and economical alternative is to reclaim your rags. Put them in a bucket of hot water, add a half pound of sal soda concentrated and soak overnight. The sal soda grips the grime and grease... emulsifies it and not only makes them clean and soft as new but makes them thoroughly safer. After drying they can be stored anywhere until the next-using-when you should give them another sal soda soak.

Roadside Charmers

When you have to stop your car or detour over rough ground because of a construction job, it isn't quite so unpleasant when the signals are given by a pretty girl waving a flag, The Financial Post reports. Recognition of this fact was the basis for the incorporation in Vancouver a few months ago of Traco Services Ltd. headed by Merv. Ellis. His job is to provide young women—or men, in some cases—to act as flagmen on road and other construction projects or as escorts for heavy and wide truck and tractor loads. Young, single women—21-29 years old—hired by Traco are neatly attired in uniforms, wear hard hats and are specially trained for their duties. They must pass written and practical examinations before they are assigned to a job. They are paid union rate, $2.74 hourly. Although Traco has been kept busy ever since its organization, Ellis believes it is probably two years ahead of the time when this duties—L. provides will become virtually indispensable.

Cyclist Says Crash Helmets Are Unsafe

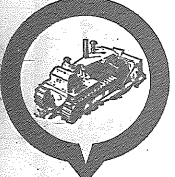

VICTORIA — A local motorcyclist is engaged in a safety campaign against the usual flow of change. William Gavne wants to repeal the provincial law requiring motorcycle riders to wear crash helmets. He says they're unsafe.

The law was passed two years ago and Gavne, a motorcyclist for 35 years, is circulating a petition for its removal. Helmets cause fatigue, tension, reduced hearing, distraction and general discomfort, he says, all of which are responsible for the increase in motorcycle accidents.

Gavne says there were more than five times as many motorbike crashes in B.C. last year than in 1964.

SPORTS BRIEFS

— GAMES —

It's no surprise that England and Australia are battling it out for medal honours at the British Empire Games. It's been that way since the games started 35 years ago.

The big surprise is the performance of the Canadian team, strongly entrenched in third place and making one of its greatest showings in games' history. England is out in front with 43 medals won, including 18 gold, while Australia has captured 33 medals, of which 13 are gold.

The Canadians added eight more medals yesterday to bring their total to 25, including six gold. Number six by Vancouver's 15-year-old 'mighty mouse' of the swimming pool, Elaine Tanner, was one of the most dramatic.

Miss Turner slashed two full seconds in the Women's 220-yard butterfly in two minutes, 29.6 seconds. Canadians were one-two in this event. Marilyn Corson of Parry Sound-Ontario swam in for second place and the silver medal. Later, Miss Turner added a silver medal for a second-place finish in the 110-yard backstroke final.

In today's action, Beverly Boys of Pickering, Ontario held third place in the Women's Tower Diving after four rounds of the rescheduled event.

A committee room decision wiped out Monday's first three dives after Miss Boys had taken the lead. A protest by Australia and England because of unfavourable winds was upheld by the games' officials.

Coach Irene MacDonald of Vancouver feels that Miss Boys is still in a good position for tomorrow's final three rounds. Beverly leads first place Robyn Bradshaw of Australia by 13.50 points and was 3.45 points back of Joy Newman of England. Fourth place is held by Sue Knight of Australia.

BASEBALL

The Manager of two Pennant winners with the Brooklyn Dodgers, Charlie Dressen, is dead at the age of 67. He died today in a Detroit Hospital of a Cardiac Arrest. Dressen entered hospital last Sunday with a kidney infection that followed two heart attacks in the past 14 months.

Dressen was the manager of the Detroit Tigers when he died and in a long Major League career also managed the Cincinnati Reds and New York Yankees. He also had a stint as manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs in the International League in 1962.

Dressen, always the extrovert, was talkative, very wise in the way of baseball and an excellent handler of young pitchers. One of his last pieces of advice was passed on to Denny McLain, the young Tiger right-hander who went into a losing streak after the all-star game.

After talking to Dressen, McLain snapped back into winning form.

FOOTBALL

Coach Frank Clair sends his Ottawa Rough Riders against the Calgary Stampede tonight in the first interlocking game of the Canadian Football League season. And Clair has cautioned the Ottawa team against Calgary's breakaway speed.

Calgary is one of the fastest backs in the country in Frank Budd, Ted Woods and Lovell Coleman. Says Clair: "All of those boys can go the 100 yards in well under ten seconds."

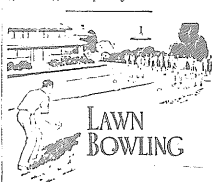

Tonight's game in Ottawa is the only scheduled action in the CFL but a three-game program is on tap Friday night. It has the Montreal Alouettes at the Toronto Argonauts in the Eastern Conference and two Western Conference contests - British Columbia Lions at Saskatchewan Roughriders and Winnipeg Blue Bombers at Edmonton Eskimos.

The Toronto Argonauts hope they have found the big ball-zooing half-back they have been looking for to improve their offensive in the Eastern Football Conference. Coach Bob Shaw has invited 210-pound Al MacFarlane to the Argos' Camp for a five-day trial. Shaw is particularly interested in MacFarlane's place-kicking ability. MacFarlane was recently released by the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

HORSES

Michigan State Police have placed a 24-hour guard around State Veterinarian Norman Stoner as State officials probe alleged widespread doping of horses and illegal betting by jockeys at Detroit Race Tracks. State Attorney-General Frank Kelley has called a news conference today to discuss the investigation.

The State racing commissioner, Barry Beaman, resigned last Thursday. And a Federal Grand Jury has subpoenaed four jockeys and a trainer as witnesses in an alleged gambling conspiracy.

Tuesday evening, while on the road side, saw some of the best 15-20-inches won from Derek Clifton but she was a generous soul, raising up a couple of her opponent's bowls for counters.

Thorpe defeated Dorothy Johnson in a very close game. Two of the better young bowlers, Jim Robertson and Dave McCann showed good form. Jim had some trouble with weight but who knows.

The entrance has been shortened up considerably by new paint which has been put into place by the oldest bowler Harry Hanton. What the members would like to see now would be more of the spectators coming inside to try out the game which is one of the grandest of all.

Toronto To Honor Its Famed 48th

TORONTO — Toronto is so proud of its home-based 48th Highlanders of Canada that they are receiving forever the Freedom of the City.

This means that the killed regiment, which has distinguished itself in battle since the African Boer War of 1899-1900, will be able to march through this city at any time with pipes skirling, drums beating, and bayonets at the fixed position.

Bestowal of the unusual honour, to mark the 75th anniversary of the regiment's founding, will be conducted August 19 by Mayor Philip Givens in the first ceremony of its kind to be held on the civic square of Toronto's new city hall.

It will be the high point of a reunion of hundreds of 48th veterans from all over Canada.

Following a regimental inspection by the mayor and presentation of a commemorative scroll, the Pipes and Drums will perform a stirring Retreat ceremony 'concluded' by a march past of the active battalion and veterans.

The Highlanders were raised as a regiment on October 16, 1891, in honour of their first commanding officer - John Davidson - whose the Davidson tartan and, from his family crest, the falcon's head for their proud badge.

The 48th has taken part in all major Canadian military expeditions since its inception. From South Africa through two World Wars, and has truly earned the right to embrace the motto "Dilexisti Civitatem" - Gaelic for Faithful Forever.

Traffic Mishaps Due To Self-Named Experts

Public apathy is often quoted as a factor in the problem of traffic congestion. But a dramatically different viewpoint from Edwin L. Kirby, traffic specialist with the (U.S.) National Safety Council, quoted by the Ontario Safety League.

Mr. Kirby believes that the meddling of self-appointed traffic 'experts' is seriously hampering the nation's fight against the increasing traffic death toll. "Professional traffic engineers, police officials and other well-trained, responsible officials don't get a chance to exercise their full professional competence because the amateurs are continually complaining, suggesting, petitioning and pressuring."

Mr. Kirby's amateur experts include all the nation's drivers. Nearly all think "that their personal experience and observations make them experts solving the problems they see or imagine". Few have any idea of the complexities of traffic management and control.

"Most drivers have a monumental egotism about their own driving ability and an utter contempt for the driving ability and intelligence of just about everybody else", he says. "They would like to see other drivers put in a straight-jacket of strict regulation."

"What the average amateur 'expert' really wants is to slow the other fellow down and place all sorts of restrictions on him. But he wants to be allowed to go on his own unfettered and merry way himself. He wants good main thoroughfares, but not by his house. He wants firm enforcement - for everybody else."

"Citizen pressure is exerted to carry out pet ideas that are often detrimental to the safety and efficiency of our traffic system. The average citizen thinks that the more restrictions are placed on traffic movement, the safer it is. This is not true, but officials too often go along with this thinking."

"The results are forests of Stop signs, unjustified and missed traffic controls, unreasonable speed limits, missed police manpower, ridiculous and unenforceable laws, confusion, congestion, economic loss, waste of time and money, and accidents."

These blunt comments may be unpalatable to many. But the intention is constructive, says the Ontario Safety League. Summarizing, Mr. Kirby says: "Citizens support for traffic safety is desired and welcome. But unjustified citizen pressure must be resisted."

Bus Drivers Stage Walk-out Today At Banff

BANFF, Alberta — About 100 bus drivers failed to turn up for their summer jobs in Banff, Alberta today, forcing a cut in sightseeing trips by Brewster-Rocky Mountain Gray Line Limited.

The drivers walked out after holding two meetings and drawing up demands-for-pay-increase-and-asking that the amalgamated Transit Union be recognized as their bargaining agent.

Company Manager Jack Hays said the company can take no action on union recognition until the courts decide whether it comes under federal or provincial labor jurisdiction.

Drivers are reported asking wage increases of 50 per cent, retroactive to July 1st. Present wages range from a minimum one dollar an hour to about two dollars an hour.

Live Television From Parliament Said Impractical

LONDON — A committee of the British House of Commons says continuous live television and sound broadcasts of parliament are impracticable and undesirable.

The committee has reached this conclusion after more than one year of debate. It does not rule out broadcasts entirely but prefers edited versions of parliamentary debates.

The Commons Committee recommends a two-month closed-circuit TV experiment so that members of parliament can see, hear and decide for themselves.

If this experiment is approved, it will be staged between next Christmas and Easter, when Britain's two broadcasting networks have equipment and staff to spare.

The TV committee, headed by veteran Labour member Tom Driberg, fears cameras bring out the ham in some legislators.

But they insist all members should have a fair chance to be seen and heard - especially vocal backbenchers. The job should be done right with a special broadcasting unit whose director would have status similar to the editor of Parliament's official report - Hansard.

Another objection is the cost - an estimated 20 million dollars through live broadcasting.

The two-month experiment of closed-circuit TV would cost 20 million dollars. But it would give experience to broadcast cameras as well as the "big especially exciting camera shots" during the busy time.

The committee's report debated by the Commons a summer recess. The House already has voted in principle admitting television to its halls.

KENORA, ONTARIO

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN THE SCHOOL BUS LAW AMONG HIGHWAY TRAFFIC ACT AMENDMENTS

ONTARIO TRAFFIC ACT

Lion Irwin Haskett, Minister of Transport, introduced in the Legislature the following amendments to the Highway Traffic Act which have been enacted at the session just concluded.

Starting September 1st, motorists will be required to stop when overtaking and when approaching a school bus stopped with signals flashing.

Where a school bus is stopped on a highway on which the maximum speed limit is greater than 35 miles per hour for the purpose of receiving or discharging school children, the driver of a vehicle when overtaking a school bus on which the words "do not pass when signals flashing" are marked and two red signal lights are illuminated by intermittent flashes, shall stop the vehicle before reaching the school bus and shall not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or the signal lights are no longer operating.

Likewise when meeting on such a highway other than a highway with separate roadways, a school bus on the front of which two red signal lights are illuminated with intermittent flashes, motorists must stop before reaching the school bus and proceed only when the signal lights are not operating.

INTERNATIONAL PERMITS

The Act contains an amendment recognizing the use of the International Driver's Permit in Ontario by non-resident motorists. Arrangements have been made with the Canadian Automobile Association for the issuance of the International Driver's Permit to Ontario residents.

CLEAR VIEW

As amended the Act will prohibit a person driving a motor vehicle on the highway unless the windshield, windows on either side of the compartment containing the steering wheel, and rear window, provide a clear view of the roadway and vehicles approaching from any direction.

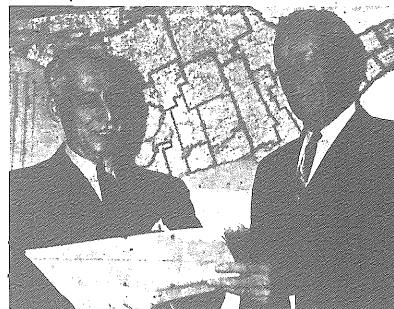

The provision respecting the rear window does not apply where the motor vehicle is equipped with an outside rear view mirror, properly placed to clearly reflect any vehicle approaching from the rear.

SECURING LOADS

The provision relating to the loading of commercial vehicles has been amended to place responsibility on the operator to see that the load is firmly bound, sufficiently covered or otherwise secured so that a portion of the load may become dislodged or fall from the vehicle.

PEDESTRIANS

On highways where sidewalks are not provided, a pedestrian walking on the roadway must walk on the left side facing oncoming traffic and as close to the left edge as possible.

Hon. Irwin Haskett, (left), Ontario Minister of Transport, looks over the 1966 amendments to the Highway Traffic Act, with Deputy Minister A. G. MacNab.

TURN SIGNALS

The Act has been clarified to leave no doubt that a turn signal is required when changing lanes as well as when making turns, if the operation of any other vehicle may be affected by such a movement.

LEASED VEHICLES

Another amendment extends the responsibility of an owner of a motor vehicle to the lessor when the vehicle is being operated with the consent of the lessee.

Paper says Clay to fight in Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Canadian Clay, the world heavyweight boxing champion, has accepted a proposal to defend his title in Beirut this fall, the newspaper Al Nahar reports. Quoting a responsible source, the paper says Clay's opponent has not been chosen yet.

It says a Lebanese official had approached Clay last week and broached the subject of a title fight here. Clay welcomed the suggestion and asked the unnamed official to facilitate preparations for the match, Al Nahar says.

Won't pay light bills, princess sees by gas

BRUNEI TOWN, Brunei — A young, Cadillac-driving princess here has had the electricity cut off in her $35,000 mansion because she refuses to pay the light bills.

The princess, Tunku Pengiran Putri Noor Ehsani, 28, says the Government demand for payment of the bills infringes on her royal prerogative.

The Government of this British-protected Borneo state has provided Princess Noor with the mansion for as long as she and her relations con-

Prices up at wholesale for July

OTTAWA — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics' general wholesale price index rose one-tenth of a point to 259.7 in July from 259.6 in June.

The index, based on 1955-59 wholesale prices equalling 100, was 252.1 in July last year. The index measures prices of a wide variety of goods at various stages of production and at markets other than the consumer market.

Here's New Worry Regarding Money

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania — Tanzania's new 100-shilling bill, with its picture of a Masai warrior tending cattle, has the government worried.

The tribesmen, great cattle-tending fighters of northern Tanzania, believe the picture proves that all cattle in the country belong to them.

The tribesmen have a strong penchant for rustling—it's just part of a warrior's adult life. The practice leads to tribal wars and many deaths.

The picture on the money has complicated the problem.

Second Vice President Rashidi Kawawa, on a Masai raid, warned the warriors not to take the picture literally.

"It doesn't mean the Masai are more important than other people," he said.

Kawawa also threatened that the government would use aircraft to trace cattle thieves if necessary.

Is This Illegal Move in Chess?

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — Defeat at chess apparently was too much for the assistant editor of the Indiana Reformatory newspaper.

Robin Smith, 24, described by Supt. Jerome Henry as "one of the intelligentsia of the institution" was one of four inmates to compete in a two-day chess tournament at the Indiana University Medical Center.

Smith won a match Saturday and returned to the institution. But after he lost Sunday he slipped away, unnoticed by a counselor and three prison buddies.

He was sentenced in January 1965 to 10-25 years for robbery.

20-blind teen-agers get college preview

very well in college.
No plan in Ontario
 Ontario has no known organized, on-campus preview of college life for blind students.

The assistant deputy minister of the Department of University Affairs, E. E. The Department of University Affairs is set up to assist universities with their plans and does not initiate them, he said.
 A spokesman for the University of Toronto said that in the past the blind have received individual help while attending U of T, but that no formal program has ever been initiated.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. "I'm a fallen woman," the smiling teen-ager quipped as she got up from the pavement, steadied herself and started across the parking lot, tapping out a rhythmic staccato with her red-tipped cane.

"In this game, you learn to fall or you don't walk," according to Linda Lassoff, 19, of Buffalo, Linda, along with 20 classmates, is about to take one of the biggest steps of her life.

She wants to become a psychologist specializing in helping the handicapped. James Kirst, 19, of Eden, plans to become a teacher, and Peter Devasio, 17, of Brooklyn, hopes for a career as a mathematician.

All are above-average students. All are blind. Next month they will enter colleges and universities with at least one advantage over their sighted counterparts — a six-week, on-campus preview of the problems and demands of college life.

Veronica Gilligan, a staff member at the State University Hospital and co-ordinator of the state-wide program which began three years ago with a federal grant, said the philosophy behind the whole thing is to ease the path.

"The first couple of months at college are pretty hectic for anyone," she said. "We try to throw them into every situation they are going to run into in September."

The students selected for the program are all high school graduates who have been accepted for admission to college. During the six-week period, students live in Syracuse University dormitories with a sighted roommate, take a regular college course for credit, learn to get about campus without assistance and become acquainted with library and cafeteria facilities.

Taking notes in the classroom is accomplished with a tape recorder or a stenomask machine, a recording device with a speaking tube that fits over the nose and mouth, allowing a student to dictate without disturbing others.

Braille writers and standard typewriters are used for writing assignments and many of the textbooks they will be using in the next four years are recorded, so-called talking books.

Miss Gilligan said the 22 teenagers who participated in the first two years are doing

Continues silent protest

LONDON — Dr. Rachel Panney said yesterday she will remain silent today as she has remained silent every Wednesday for the last five years.

Five years ago — on the 16th anniversary of the bombing of Nagasaki — she vowed not to utter a word every Wednesday of every week until Britain renounces the use of nuclear weapons.

"So since again I shall not speak a word," said the 56-year-old general practitioner who gave up an active medical practice to work in what she calls the field of peace.

She spends much of her time working with handicapped children. "The only time I've broken my vow," she said, "was when young children were involved. Young children would not understand my not replying to their questions."

She said that she has been forced to break her silence only a few times.

Lynda Bird in New York to find a job

WASHINGTON — As her sister Luci spent her honeymoon in the Bahamas, Lynda Bird Johnson yesterday began the task of finding a job.

The White House said Lynda, President Johnson's older daughter, was in New York for several job interviews.

"For obvious reasons we can't tell the names of the companies," a White House spokesman said.

The spokesman said Lynda, a 1966 graduate of the University of Texas, also planned to sightsee and visit some museums.

RESERVES FALL

TOKYO — Japan's gold and foreign exchange reserves fell $30,000,000 to a total of $2,054,000,000 during July, the Bank of Japan announced Monday.

ATTENTION HUNTERS!

This autumn, you must have a Canada Migratory Game Bird Hunting Permit to hunt ducks, geese, coots, sandhill cranes, rails, woodcock, mourning doves, band-tailed pigeons, gallinules or snipe.

The purpose of this special permit is to provide information that will result in increased hunting opportunity through more efficient management of the resource. The Canadian Wildlife Service needs an accurate method of measuring waterfowl populations.

Presently, aerial and ground surveys of the breeding grounds in spring and mid-summer, and of the wintering grounds are providing some information, but not enough. Biologists need to know how many birds of each species are harvested, so that hunting regulations can be set to maintain breeding populations.

Variation in licensing systems has prevented a country-wide harvest survey. But now, sales records of the Canada Migratory Game Bird Hunting Permit, and the Canada Wildlife Service questionnaire needed. The new Service to obtain the information required. The permit must be purchased in addition to any required provincial licences. Purchase of the new permit is necessary this year in the Yukon and the Northwest Territories.

These permits are on sale now for $2.00 at rural post offices, and at most city post offices. Check with your local post office to find out where permits are being sold.

Letter to The Editor
 August 8, 1966

Dear Editor:
 The Monday, August 8th issue of the Miner & News there was an article describing a so called brawl outside of Chez le Rat in the Bowling Club building.

The tone of the article left the reader with the impression that the teenagers involved were no better than a bunch of roughnecks, and that the dance hall was just a lowly rats nest.

Kenora teenagers on the contrary are well behaved but, fun loving kids.

The incident was unfortunate, but it does not happen often. In fact this was the first scuffle to occur in the vicinity of the above-mentioned dance hall. There are always a few bad apples but let's not condemn the whole barrel.

As manager of Chez le Rat I see hundreds of teenagers who come to dance and have a good time. The bad apples that enter the dance are sorted out by the (five) chaperones who are always in attendance. Only one police officer has offered his services as a chaperone.

I would like to invite the parents to come down to Chez le Rat to see their kids having good clean fun. (Parents are not charged admission).

Hunt Pressed For Gang Of Hired Killers
 Montreal police are pressing an investigation into the existence of a gang of hired killers in Quebec.

The investigation was set in motion after the body of a woman, Mrs. Jean-Claude Lausiere, was found in a lime-filled grave 75 miles north of Montreal. Montreal Police say the woman was a witness to a fatal shooting early in 1965 and disappeared a short time later.

One police officer says it is known a gang of hired killers exists in the east end of Montreal. He says if they're not satisfied with a person they arrange for him to disappear.

The officer says the gang is based in Quebec but may have leaders in other provinces. Meanwhile, Quebec provincial police say the man who led them to Mrs. Lausiere's grave is being held as a material witness for a coroner's inquest, which is expected next week. And Montreal Police say they are looking for links between a number of slayings in the city.

Spiders Can Be A Nuisance

OTTAWA — To many people spiders are objectionable and fearsome. Actually, most species are harmless and unable to pierce the human skin, but a few can bite and cause acute illness.

In general, spiders are beneficial as they greatly reduce the numbers of harmful and obnoxious insects. In the vicinity of bodies of water where hordes of aquatic insects, such as chadflies and mayflies, provide an abundant source of food, they may become very numerous and their webs an unsightly nuisance in and about buildings.

In Canada there is at least one, and possibly two, species that is closely related to the black widow spider of southern North America. The species occurs in southern areas of British Columbia and Alberta, in southwestern Saskatchewan, and in southwestern Ontario along the shores of Lake Huron and Lake Erie. The name black widow results from the fact that the adult is mainly black in color and that, after mating, the female may kill the male and eat him.

The black widow occurs mainly in rural and suburban areas. It favors darkened areas such as rodent-burrows, cellars, garages, outdoor privies, woodpiles and trash heaps. It occurs in dwellings most frequently in the fall, apparently seeking shelter for the winter. The female rarely attacks except when defending her eggs or when the web is disturbed. In areas where this species occurs, one should always brush away any webs spun across the holes in privy seats before using them.

Mortality from black widow spider bites is less than five per cent in North America. The bite may not be immediately felt but two tiny red spots and surrounding redness appear. Later pain develops either in the area bitten or throughout the body; it reaches a peak of intensity in 2 to 3 hours then subsides and disappears in 12 to 24 hours. Aggravated bites should be kept warm and very quiet until a doctor arrives. Apply ice continuously to the wound. Give no alcohol as it increases the toxicity of the poison, but the victim should drink plenty of water and sweet weak tea.

Where spiders of any kind become a nuisance, the following control measures are recommended:

(1) Screen openings in buildings carefully to keep out the spiders, even the small newly-hatched ones. Spiders may be killed by spraying them directly with 1 per cent DDT, 2 per cent chlorobenzene or 10 per cent DDT. Doses of these materials may be applied to spider webs and to crawl spaces beneath buildings.

male is full of eggs. The male is much smaller and lighter colored. Any spider with an intensely black and glossy base color should be treated with respect.

The female black widow spider has a globular, shiny black abdomen with two reddish or yellowish triangles on the underside which form a typical hourglass marking. The abdomen is about one quarter inch in diameter but may be as much as one half inch when the female is full of eggs.
