L.U. PROFESSOR GETS $5,000 RESEARCH GRANT

A $5,000 grant from the International Nickel Co. of Canada has been awarded to Lakehead University Chemistry Professor, Dr. R. A. Ross.

The grant will be used to purchase further equipment for his continuing research activities in gas/solid reactions.

Dr. Ross is assisted in his research by 3 Ph.D. students from Queen's university, Belfast, Ireland : Eugene McCaffrey, Roger Glass and David Jamieson. One of their research problems concerns the removal of sulphur dioxide from industrial waste and flue gases. Because of an increasing world shortage of sulphur, its recovery and later conversion to sulphate compounds is of particular importance in the field of agriculture.

Some of Dr. Ross' experiments are directly related to air pollution. He is presently working in collaboration with the Kimberly - Clark Co. at Terrace Bay on studies involving their industrial stack gases.

Before coming to Canada from Northern Ireland, Dr. Ross carried out research on waterpollution as a consultant to the Earl of Shaftesbury who owns the largest inland lake (Lough Neagh) in the British Isles.

He is currently engaged in another research project. It involves the examining of the catalytic properties of newer transition metal alloys which have possible applications in fuel cells, a portable source of power.

Dr. Ross has been on the staff of Lakehead University since - September 1969. He received his B. Sc(Applied Chemistry) and his Ph.D. (Surface Chemistry) from the University of Glasgow.

EDITORIAL

Many tributes have been expressed since the news of the passing of one of Kenora's pioneer citizens in the person of the late Sam Rimstad, retired roadmaster of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The following editorial appeared in the February 1st, 1946 issue of the Kenora Miner and News at the time of Mr. Rimstad's retirement from the railway company. The masthead of the paper at the time carried the name of J. A. Sherrett as managing editor.

SAM RIMSTAD

Forty-eight years of efficient and devoted service to an organization is a long time for any man to serve, and Sam Rimstad, roadmaster of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, who retired from service Thursday, can look back with justifiable pride on years of faithful service.

Sam Rimstad was one who started railroading in the old days, and he contributed to the strenuous days of the double tracking, its carrying capacity across the Dominion. Of him it has been said that he "was one of the most dependable and efficient employees" - always an the job, and carrying through the various tasks with a quiet efficiency.

Of such men has this great transportation service been built, and they have set a standard for others to follow, which, while probably hard to emulate, will be a challenge and reminder for those who follow after. Loyalty, efficiency and devoted service, no organization could receive or ask more from any employee.

380 ABOARD HUGE JET ON ATLANTIC CROSSING

London-- A new era in mass transportation has been launched with today's successful Atlantic crossing by a huge jumbo jet. Pan American Airways' Boeing 747 touched down at London's - Heathrow Airport, carrying 361 - non - paying passengers a n d 19 crewmen in dress-rehearsal The first regularly scheduled - commerical flight between New York and London is set for January 21st.

One feared problem--engine noise during landing--did not develop. In fact, the Jumbo Jet proved quieter than the jetliners now in service.

The 747 carried the largest plane load of passengers ever to arrive in London. It was the first time a Jumbo Jet had travelled outside the United States with a full load.

The plane--the Clipper Consitution, dwarfed conventional air - liners at London's Heathrow Airport.

The passengers were mostly Pan American Employees, plus a number of officials -from the U.S. Federal Aviation Agency.

The Atlantic crossing took six and one half hours.

To cope with the flood of baggage, Heathrow Authorities allooted two conveyor belt systems to the 747 instead of the usual one a plane. The baggage was whisked off the plane aboard special containers which are expected even- tually to cut unloading time down to 15 minutes for the last suitcase to leave the plane.

Comparisons with the Boeing 707 --Queen of the skies, during 19-60's -- point up the scale of the Jumbo.

The 747 carries two and one half times as many passengers as the 707 . It's 231 feet makes it half as long again as the 707--roughly as long as a 23 storey building is high.

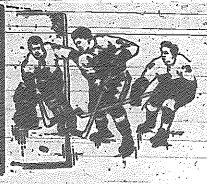

The Jumbo's tail is as high as a six-storey building.

The 747 cruises at 625 miles an hour and has a range of six thousand , 700 miles. It costs about 24 million dollars.

MONARCHS TURNBULL TOO MUCH FOR MUSKIES

Buzzo Haines worked the puck to the side of the Winnipeg Monarch net and centered a pass to Ken George who was parked in front. The big centerman promptly fired a blistering shot wide of the net just as the horn sounded to end the game.

Yes, for the Kenora Muskies the game ended as it began with shots grazing th e goalpost all afternoon.

Unfortunately for the Muskies, it was the outside of the post that got their attention and when their shots were on target, a magician by the name of Frank Turnbull proved the hand is quicker than the eye.

The sensational Monarch goaltender came up with the answers to all but one of the 49 Kenora shots that he faced and remained cool while countless others fanned the outside of the posts. It is safe to say that Mr . Cool, was the reason for the Monarchs 4-1 victory over the Muskies at the Recreation Center yesterday before some 1200 fans.

Take this case as an example of Turnbull's brilliance. A series of sprawling saves left Turnbull on his back and at the mercy of the Muskies' Jim Robert son who unloaded a rising shot from about 10 feet in front of the Monarch net -Turnbull reached up and back to glove the shot as he slid across the crease. Truly a classic save for the annals of any goaltending manual

Goaltender Marcel Dubroy of the Muskies, showed equal moments of brilliance but twice came out the loser in the battle for the puck after making the initial save. Dubroy couldn't find the handle on the first and third goals while the other two counters beat him cleanly. In all, Dubroy blocked 31 shots.

The two teams played a scoreless first period that featured exciting hockey in which the Muskies held the territorial edge. The same pattern continued throughout the game however the Monarchs did the scoring. The Monarchs built a 3-0 advantage early in the 2nd period before the Muskies Terry Newman, finally beat Turnbull on a powerplay. The Monarchs scored the only goal of the final frame to settle the count at 4-1 in their favor.

Gavin Smith, Roger Thompson, Jim North and Bob Pussey tallied for the Monarchs who took three of four league contests from the Muskies. It was the final league meeting, for the two clubs.Both must win their respective divisions to meet in the MJHL Final.

The excellence of the game was marred by a player scuffle which followed the completion of the game - When the smoke had finally settled, a once respectable penalty ledger became somewhat crowded. Three Kenora players were assessed misconducts, by referees Don Bold and Dale Peters, along with a game misconduct to coach Terry Bicknell.

Except for Tom Vanrobaeys, who picked upan automatic assessment for his second major, the Kenora misconducts were based on comments surrounding the officiating. Ken George and Noreus Anderson were the recipients. The post game scuffle involved Tom Vanrobaeys and the Monarch's Don McLaughlin and Gavin Smith.

The Muskies took a total of 7 minors compared to the Monarchs' 13 and both teams took 3 majors. Muskies' coach Terry Bicknell was perturbed about the events surrounding the completion of the game. The factthat eratic shooting had denied them victory was also a sore point. His charges have until next Sunday to sharpen their scoring eyes when they host the Portage Terriers in their next MJHL encounter. T h e Muskies have four home games remaining, two against Portage and one each against Selkirk and St. James.

ICE CHIPS:

Sean Donahue hit Monarchs Don McLaughlin and Gavin Smith with a couple of great checks---Terry Newman was really flying for the Muskies and was twice thwarted on close- in efforts....Marcel Dubroy showed true sportmanship - when Bob Windott caught his skate in the Kenora net. Dubroy worked hand in hand with Windatt to free his skate while play carried on in the Monarch Zone-----Frank Turnbull celebrated his 16th birthday a short while ago. The youngster should have quite a future in hockey------the Juvenile Muskies trimmed Fort Garry Warriors by a 5-3 count before more than 200 fans on Friday at the Recreation Center------and the Vikings lost too???------By virtue of their 6-5 victory over the St. James Canadians, the Portage Terriers vacated the North Division basement and now hold a one point lead over Selkirk for that third and final playoff berth.

Kenora Skiers Topped Meet

KENORA'S Mount Evergreen Ski Club was the host Club to the first Division Ski Meet of the year on Sunday, January 11th. Twelve Kenora competitors tested their skills against sixteen skiers from other Manitoba Division Clubs and walked off with the first four places in the standings.

Craig Kehl who consistently ends up high on the list of winners and was last year's Junior Champion in the Division, took first place followed closely by Curt Ronning, 2nd, Danny Letain 3rd and Jane Mayles 4th. It was indeed gratifying to see a large turnout of competitors from out of town. This was likely a result of the sunny weather and new snow fall which made conditions for the race, excellent.

The Manitoba Division of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association, to which the Kenora club is affiliated will hold the Division Championships at La Riviere Man., on January 24th and 25th weekend, Any members of the Kenora Club who wish to go to these vents are to contact Wilf Symonds no later than Wednesday, January 14th, as reservations must be made for accommodations.

Kenora Boys Do Well At Emo Races

This past weekend it was the Kenora Snowmobile Racers w h o showed the most speed and skill in the races held in Emo Ontario. On top were Bill Gawley, who drove Henry Kantola's Blizzard to a first place in the 650 unlimited drag and Allan Zimmer who drove Scorpion Paul's 293 Stinger to a first in the O- 295 Drag. They were followed closely by Jack Salman who drove to a second-place finish in the 341-440 class. Kenora was not forgotten for Gord Brown came on srong to take 3rd place in the 0-295 class drag followed closely by Ed Luggossy's 3rd placing in the 341-440 Drag. Due to unfavorable track conditions and butterflies, Kenora pulled some real good ones such as giving away of 1st place by Bill Gawley who flew gracefully over the banked corner of the end of the track, but came back for a fourth place finish. Of courge, he was not the only one, for in the next event Gene Culleton found snowmobiling conditions favorable beyond the track.

All in all, Kenora can be proud of their racers who put on a fine show. All are looking forward to the races to be held on Rabbit Lake this Sunday at 1 p.m.

Today's Children

BY :Helen Allen.

You'd never guess from his alert, happy expression that Neil was born with nerve deafness. Though he is only ten months old, he has already been fitted with a hearing aid and is getting on well with it. He responds to his name and make the appropriate baby sounds for his age. On Neil's most recent visit to the hard-of-hearing clinic at the hospital for Sick Children, it was found he had a good degree of hearing without the hearing aid. Now he needs to be encouraged to listen for sounds, and he is just at the age when he can enjoy all the attention and make games of it.

Neil is a relaxed, contented little fellow with a disposition that matches his sunny smile. OF Anglo-Saxon descent, he is healthy and sturdy with brown eyes, blond hair and fair skin. He needs parents who can give love and security to a dear little boy while being able to help him handle his disability.

To inquire about adopting Neil, please write to TODAY'S CHILD Department of Social and Family Services, Parliament Buildings, Toronto 182.

More Robberies At Winnipeg

Winnipeg--Police report two armed robberies in the Greater Winnipeg Area during the weekend which netted thieves nearly two thousand dollars.

Two masked men held up two employees of Metro Drugs in St. Boniface, as they were on their way to make a night deposit at a nearby bank. They escaped in a 1957 model car with more than 17 hundred dollars.

A youth described as being between 18 and 20 years old and with dark complexion escaped with 150 dollars from a Payfair Store on Notre Dame Avenue in Winnipeg. He entered the store with a knife in his hand, pushed the female clerk away from the counter, and scooped the money from the cash register.

No News Leads In Kidnapping

Thunder Bay, Ontario - - Thunder Bay Police report no new leads in the Kidnapping of a 27 year old Church of Christ Minister but handwriting experts now are studying two ransom notes.

Reverend Donald Eldon Mimms has been missing since January 3rd, the night he went to his church in Thunder Bay to prepare a sermon.

Police reported that a typewritten note was found in the church demanding a ten thousand dollar ransom and warning that the minister would be killed if "one wrong move" was made.

A second note was mailed to the minister's wife, Charlen Mimms January 6th, setting out instructions on where to leave the money. The note said police in a police car should drive down a north Thunder Bay road at 3 a.m. January 7th and look for a flashing light. Police were then to drop the money on the same side of the street as the light was seen. Police said they made the run - twice but the signal was not given. Because the minister's life was threatened police at first indicated the disappearance was being treated as a missing persons' case. They also reported earlier that two suitcases and some clothing were missing from Mr. Mimm's home.

Just Wondering

Two questions arise in connection with the matter involving personal property taxes in Buchanan County and the fact that approximately $50,000 goes uncollected annually—this according to a statement made last week by county officials.

First: Assessments are made by the county assessor's office on the basis of findings by the assessor or his deputies. This is the assessor's responsibility in the tax business, making an assessment of property to be taxed. Isn't it then up to the collector to do the collecting, through the courts if necessary?

Second: Owners of motor vehicles are required by state law to show a paid-up receipt for personal taxes before they are issued a state tag for their vehicles. The license bureau agents are very stern about this with purchasers of private automobile tags, and rightly so. The law reads:

"Missouri Revised Statutes, Section 301.025 — No state registration license to operate any motor vehicle in this state shall be issued unless the application for license is accompanied by a tax receipt or a statement certified by the county or township collector of the county or township in which the applicant's property was assessed showing that the state and county tangible personal property taxes for the preceding year have been paid by the applicant or that no such taxes were due. Every county and township collector shall give each person a tax receipt or a certified statement of tangible personal property taxes paid. Where no such taxes are due each collector shall, upon request certify such fact and transmit such statement to the person making the request. The director of revenue shall make necessary rules and regulations for the enforcement of this section."

The question: In this line-up of delinquents totaling $50,000 in unpaid personal taxes annually, are there any who are licensed motor vehicle operators? Considering the prevalence of car and truck ownership, isn't it reasonable to assume that the list of delinquents does in fact include a number of motor vehicle licences? How can this be when the state license office is so stuffy with everybody else about that personal property tax receipt?

Maybe this is a case for the state director of revenue. Under the law, enforcement is his responsibility.

Ed. Note: From the January 5th, 1970 issue of the St. Joseph Gazette, published at St. Joseph, Missouri

New Policy For Transportation

The growing importance of out-of-classroom education has prompted the Waterloo, Ontario, county Board of Education to approve a special transportation policy, - similar to that of the county Separate School Board.

According to School Progress, the Board will provide transport for students engaged in approved school porgrams or activities or it may subsidize the cost of public or private transportation where the activities have an educational value even though they may not be an integral part of the curriculum.

The new policy may be used to cover such activities as physical education programs and field trips and recognizes that the classroom of today is not confined to the school building.

From Around The World

There's been no official confirmation as yet, but reliable sources in Lagos say Biafra's Uli Airstrip has been reduced to rubble by Nigerian air attacks and that Federal Nigerian forces have occupied the roadbed runway.

Biafran casualties are reported high at the strip, the secessionist State's last link with the outside world, as thousands gathered there hoping to catch a ride out of the country.

Meanwhile, Nigerian military sources say Biafran troops continue to resist on other fronts, but are drawing back under heavy Federal offensives. The key town of Orlu, which houses many Biafran Government offices and the main Biafran Radio Transmitter, is reported close to capture. As the Nigerian net tightens around remaining Biafran positions, the leader of the Secessionist State, General Ojukwu has left the country and his exact location is not known. But in a pre-recorded message, he said he has gone in search of peace and hoped to return soon.

Pope Paul says the Vatican is ready to do anything to prevent the conflict in Nigeria from ending in further bloodshed. The pope referred to the civil war when Vatican diplomats called on him today to present their annual New Year greetings. The pontiff appealed to all governments to prevent new bloodshed and spare innocent lives. Pope Paul said he is sending Monsignor Jean Rhodian President of the Roman Catholic Relief organization Carita International to Lagos. Monsignor Rhodian will direct Caritas relief efforts in Biafra.

A Halifax organization, which supports the relief effort in Biafra today urged the Canadian Federal government not to let this country become what it calls an accomplice in the slaughter and starvation of millions. In a statement issued today, members of operation Bluenose Airlift urged Prime Minister Trudeau to send External Minister Sharp to London and Lagos.

The Organization wants Mr. Sharp to make what it calls, the strongest possible representations to the Nigerian Government that there be no Nigerian obstruction of relief operations.

Two snowmobile drivers were killed in a collision with a bus in Quebec and two died when their machine went through the ice of a New Brunswick River.

The Canadian Press Survey was from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

The highest toll was in British Columbia where 15 died, including seven in one fire. Eight died in Quebec, six in Ontario, two in New Brunswick, , One in Manitoba. The other provinces were fatality-free.

Seven died on British Columbia Roads and one was drowned. Five died in one head on collision in a sleet storm.

Manitoba had one road fatality.

The survey does not cover known suicides, homicides or industrial deaths.

Baby Death Is Blamed On Decimal

LONDON Britain's switch to the decimal system was responsible for the death of a baby boy, a coroner's inquest was told Friday.

Andrew Gray, 3 months, died in a London hospital after he received 10 times the prescribed dose of digoxin, a heart stimulant.

Nurse Juliet Murgatroid testified the baby should have had .025 milligrams of the drug but by mistake she gave him .25 milligrams.

Coroner Gordon Davies commended the nurse's honesty and said: "With the changeover to the decimal system this sort of mistake will occur unless precautions are taken."

He recorded a verdict of accidental death.

British hospitals switched last year to prescribing in milligrams instead of grains, the smallest unit of the avoirdupois system, and the nurse apparently was confused in placing the decimal points.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

A six-man team of experts is being set up by Labor Minister Bryce MacKasey in an effort to get the jump on industrial disputes. Ottawa sources said today five of the men already have been hired. The sixth, still being sought, will work chiefly in Quebec with French-language industries.

The team will work under the direction of the Labor department's conciliation director, William Kelly. Each member will be responsible for a particular aspect of industry.

One of the candidates in the Quebec Liberal Party Leadership Race, Pierre Laporte, says newspaper surveys placing him last in popularity "do not reflect reality". The polls show him running behind rivals Robert Bourassa and Claude Wagner, in that order.

Mr Laporte, addressing a meeting of Lac St. Jean Leadership Convention delegates yesterday, recalled the Quebec Liberals' fall from power in 1966 when surveys indicated the government of Jean Lesage would be returned with 87 of the 108 seats. The Leadership Convention takes place January 16th and 17th at Quebec City.

Another top figure in Manitoba Centennial celebrations has resigned. He is Ray Ireland, head of Promotion and Public Relations for the Centennial Derby Sweepstakes.

News of Mr. Ireland's resignation came as Premier Ed Schreyer was announcing an investigation into the resignation of the seven-man Sports committee. The chairman of that committee, Jim Day, said last week his group had resigned because it felt it had been "let down" by the Manitoba Centennial Corporation, headed by Maitland Stenkopf. Mr. Ireland says he is stepping down because of what he terms interference by Mr. Stenkopf.

President Nixon has named a Negro College President, Doctor Jerome Holland, as U.S. Ambassador to Sweden. Holland, a former All-American football player, heads Hampton Institute in Virginia.

Biafrans Lay Down . . .

because of the sense of insecurity engendered by the events of 1966— a massacre of IBO tribesmen in the North.

He added " We have suffered for that cause. Our people are now disillusioned.

The surrender Broadcast followed the capture by Nigerian Federal troops of Uli Airstrip, Biafra's last link to the outside world. The strip was reported under massive air attacks that reduced its roadbed runway to rubble.

General Ojukwu, leader of Biafra since secession from Federal Nigeria 30 months ago, fled yesterday for an unknown destination.

The public relations company, acting for the Biafran Government in Geneva said today that Ojukwu went to another African country to talk with certain leaders about a ceasefire.

Biafran sources in Libreville, the capital of neighboring Gabon, said earlier today that Ojukwu and senior members of the Biafran Government had crossed into Gabon.

Informants in Lagos said that after Federal ground troops captured the town of Uli, Soviet-made Ilyushin-28 Bombers—flown by Egyptians— rained one thousand pound bombs on the jungle airstrip, and Mig-17s, piloted by white mercenaries, strafed the strip.

Nevertheless, joint church aid - headquarters in Copenhagen, Denmark, said two of its planes were able to land at Uli with 20 tons of food and medicine early today- apparently before the massive air attacks.

Military sources said casualties were heavy among Biafrans who had assembled by the thousands in the area of Uli in hopes of getting out of the enclave.
